Iraq, Jordan Cite Israel In Jet Raid

By The Associated Press

Iraq and Jordan charged today that Israeli jets hit Arab positions on Jordanian soil and lost some planes to groundfire.

An Iraqi military spokesman claimed that 14 Israeli jets attacked Iraqi forces in Jordan and said Iraqi groundfire sent two planes crashing in flames into Israeli-occupied Golan Heights. Tel Aviv denied that charge.

Later a Jordanian spokesman in Amman claimed three Israeli jets circled over Jordanian positions in the Irbed district and groundfire brought one down near Tiberias and the other in the Golan Heights.

The Iraqi Embassy in Amman said that an Iraqi soldier had been wounded in the Irbed raids.

It was the second Iraqi claim in five days of an Israeli air attack on Iraq's forces in Jordan.

Charge Denied

Last Thursday Iraq claimed that seven Israeli planes attacked its forces and one was shot down. Israel denied the report, and Jordan reported two Israeli air incursions but mentioned no action.

Baghdad Radio said one Iraqi soldier was slightly wounded in the alleged attack today.

Earlier today Israel announced that two of its jets attacked a Jordanian village south of the Sea of Galilee from which the Israelis said Arab guerrillas fired on an Israeli army patrol.

The Lebanese-Israeli border also flared briefly when small-arms fire was directed from Lebanon at the Israeli settlement of Zar'it, 12 miles east of the Mediterranean and a few hundred yards from the border, the Israeli army said.

An Israeli spokesman said that the Lebanese fire was returned and there were no casualities in the settlement.

In the occupied Gaza Strip, scene of violent roiting Sunday an explosive charge demolished a small railway bridge near Rafiah.

About 100 Arab schoolgirls were injured in the Strip Sunday when Israeli police charged with nightsticks to break up a three-hour riot involving 4,000 girls. The girls were protesting the jailing of three Gaza women convicted by an Israeli court of spying and aiding guerrillas.

The girls spat, tussled with troops and tore down mud and stone walls outside five schools to throw pieces of them at the soldiers. While Arab men watched quietly, they brandished pictures of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and yelled: "Nasser! Nasser! Israel is black! Palestine! Palestine!"

Newsweek magazine reported Nasser has made a six-point proposal for peace with Israel and hinted he might agree to talk directly with the Israelis. Nasser told the magazine the Arab states would agree to a five-point program if Israel would withdraw from the territory it seized from Jordan, Egypt and Syria in the 1967 war.

Nasser offered a declaration of nonbelligerence, freedom of navigation on international waterways, recognition of each Middle East country's right to live in peace, a guarantee of

Abel Presses Vote Drive

'DUO' (TWO), shouts I. W. Abel United Steelworkers president, playing the Italian game of Morra with John Uccellini during a visit at Midland Sunday night. Abel is seeking his second term as head of the Steelworkers Union which will elect officers Feb. 11.

During a busy weekend in Midland and area communities, I. W. Abel pressed his campaign for re-election as president of the United Steelworkers.

He pointed to the union's progress under his administration and attacked his opponent in the Feb. 11 election, Emil E. Narick, for actions which he charged played into the hands of anti-union forces.

Some 300 heard Abel Sunday afternoon at the St. Anthony Club in Midland, his final stop on a tour of Beaver County. Other appearances were at Ambridge and Ellwood City.

HE WARNED his audience that "those who forget the past are destined to relive it" and cited the educational program of the union for both workers and representatives.

He contrasted negotiations of the "older days" and the present and pointed out two contracts have been negotiated without work stoppages since he has been in office.

He promised the union will continue to grow, but said "no one will ever get an agreement which will satisfy all our needs."

Abel called for continued action in obtaining necessary legislation in the halls of Congress and re-emphasized the need for working with the steelworkers "at the gates." Among vital legislation needed, he named a program to protect pensions and action to curb steel imports.

HE SAID union officials helped greatly in getting foreign competitors to voluntarily promise to lower exports from 18 million tons in 1968 to 14 million in 1969, but cautioned that this isn't enough.

He said the labor movement must band together in unity.

Abel said Narick slandered the USW by asking the federal government to supervise the coming international election.

"The action was unbecoming any man who calls himself a trade unionist. He is unworthy to carry a card and be considered a trade unionist in this country," Abel added.

Narrick, a labor lawyer, last month wrote the new secretary of labor asking that the Labor

Nixon Calls Council On Urban Plans

Continues To Map Program To Deal With City Matters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called his Urban Affairs Council to another meeting in the White House today as he continued formulating plans to deal with the problems of the nation's cities.

In the first meeting Jan. 23, the eight-man team of Cabinet members and presidential advisers disposed of organizational matters, leaving today's session open to consider substantive issues.

The emphasis on urban and other domestic matters underlined by scheduled visits to the Housing and Urban Development and the Agriculture Department, followed a weekend in which the President spent much time on foreign affairs.

With the explosive Middle East on his mind, Nixon visited with Dwight D. Eisenhower Sunday at Walter Reed Hospital to get the former president's view's on the Arab-Israeli crisis.

Following the session with the convalescing Eisenhower, Nixon said he had gotten several valuable suggestions and "We are considering all the initiatives we might take to defuse the situation" in the Middle East.

The President did not elaborate.

The National Security Council also met Saturday and discussed the Arab-Israeli situation at length, but there were no conclusions announced.

A member of the Urban Affairs Council, Cabinet officer George Romney, indicated the line his agency will take in trying to cure urban ills.

Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, said he hopes to come up with a program to provide more homes for low-income families.

Big Power Aides At U.N.

Nixon Will Accept French Plans For Talks On Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has decided to accept a French proposal for early talks among great power representatives at the United Nations on ways to break the deadlock in Middle East peace efforts.

He hopes particularly for parallel action by the Soviet Union.

A reply to the Paris government is due to go out this week. It is expected to make clear that while the United States sees hope in consultations with the Soviet Union, Britain and France its primary purpose is to move off dead center the U.N. peace-seeking efforts of Swedish Ambassador Gunnar Jarring.

In a related move, Nixon will send a friendly message to Gamal Abdel Nasser in the near future, replying to a note of congratulation he received from the Egyptian President.

His note will be designed to indicate that if Nasser, as reported, plans to propose resuming diplomatic relations with the United States he will find Nixon responsive.

While the Middle East crisis, and the Vietnam situation have dominated Nixon's foreign policy concerns during his first 10 days in office, he has also set in motion a plan to visit several Western European capitals in the next two months and confer with allied government chiefs.

Diplomatic soundings for the trip have been started, and the White House is due to make an announcement soon on his plans.

Nixon expects to visit Paris, site of the Vietnam peace talks, and meet with President Charles de Gaulle. Other capitals which figure in informed speculation are London, Bonn and Rome.

A meeting with Soviet leaders is not being considered at this

15 Are Wounded In Their Worst Setback Recently

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong troops firing from ambush along the banks of a canal cut into two South Vietnamese companies in the Mekong Delta, killed 28 of the government soldiers, and wounded another 15, military spokesmen reported today.

Viet Cong casualties were not known.

It was one of the worst setbacks suffered recently by the South Vietnamese army.

The ambush 60 miles southwest of Saigon was one of a half dozen fights that flared up Sunday to the south and northwest of the capital. U.S. officers said the fighting indicated "a lot of enemy movement" but no real threat to Saigon.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 160 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in the fighting that ranged from 60 miles southwest of Saigon to 37 miles northwest of the capital. Eleven Americans and 31 South Vietnamese were reported killed, and 43 Americans and 30 South Vietnamese wounded.

It was one of the heaviest days of action since mid-December.

The worst U.S. casualties were inflicted on troops of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade. They suffered six dead and 20 wounded while trying to root out enemy forces hidden in bunkers along a river bank 22 miles northwest of Saigon and five miles from the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division at Cu Chi.

Initial reports said about 100 soldiers from the 199th tangled with an enemy squad of perhaps a dozen soldiers, but later accounts said up to 150 enemy troops were committed at the height of the day-long battle. About 300 U.S. infantry reinforcements, an armored column, dive bombers and helicopter gunships battered the enemy until contact was broken at nightfall.

Thirty bodies were counted on the battlefield by noon today. Dive bombers attacking the ene-

To 'Stand On Their Own'

Saigon Due 300 Copters When U.S. Role Lessens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will give South Vietnam about 300 modern helicopters as part of a plan to prepare Saigon's army and air force to stand on their own when the American military role is reduced and ultimately ended.

Sources said equiping the South Vietnamese with about 17 squadrons of helicopters, most of them transports but some armed ships, will start soon and take a couple of years.

The United States also will train more Vietnamese to fly and maintain the choppers.

The decision to provide the helicopters was made by the Johnson administration, but it is expected to be carried forward by President Nixon.

Many details are being kept secret, but the Armed Forces Journal said a total of $98 million for the project is included in the 1969 supplemental budget and the 1970 defense budget.

Currently, there are more than 3,000 American helicopters in Vietnam, many used to carry South Vietnamese soldiers into battle areas inaccessible by ground.

Some American officers felt that unless the United States moves to furnish the South Vietnamese with sufficient helicopters of their own, the U.S. departure would mean Saigon's troops would be unable to range much beyond the roads.

This, U.S. officers contended, would mean that control of the countryside would fall virtually uncontested to the Viet Cong.

The South Vietnamese air force, which operates that country's helicopters, now has four squadrons totaling about 75 older-model H34 machines.

The South Vietnamese will now get the UH1, nicknamed the "Huey," a machine which came

Dutch Officials Report

Chinese Defector Believed In U.S.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — The Red Chinese envoy who defected in the Netherlands is believed to be in the United States.

Dutch officials said Liao Hoshu, who was temporary charge d'affaires in The Hague, was flown to Bonn last week for interrogation by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency about Chinese spying activities in Western Europe. The Dutch said they expected Liao to be flown to the United States Sunday.

West German officials and U.S. sources in Bonn said Sunday they did not know where Liao was.

Liao, the first Red Chinese diplomat known to have gone over to the West, took refuge with the Dutch on Jan. 24.

In one of his routine visits to the Dutch Foreign Ministry several months ago, Liao indicated he wanted to defect as soon as his wife and children were safely out of China. He told the Dutch he had been ordered home to account for the death in The Hague in 1966 of a Chinese scientist said to have sold a secret nerve gas formula to U.S. agents.

Dutch officials approached Romanian diplomats because they have good contacts in Peking. Two weeks ago at a reception at the Romanian Embassy, Liao learned that his family was safe in Hong Kong.

Dutch Justice Minister C.H.F. Polak is said to have told the parliamentary committee for justice and foreign affairs that Liao "knows an unbelievable lot." The minister said the government did not seek intelligence from Liao because it feared retaliatory measures against the Dutch charge d'affaires in Peking.

The Chinese scientist whose death Peking reportedly wanted Liao to explain was Hsu Tsu-

The Montana Democrat declined to predict what will happen Tuesday when the Senate takes up a resolution by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to block the pay package.

Under a law passed in 1967, pay increases proposed last month by former President Lyndon B. Johnson will take effect Feb. 14 unless either the House or Senate rejects them.

LONDON (AP) — Boris Karloff, the gentle monster who created Frankenstein in the movies and starred in a host of horror films, died Sunday in a hospital near London.

He was 81, had been an actor for 58 years and made more than 130 movies. He made his debut with a touring company in British Columbia in 1910 and his last movie last year in Britain.

A gentle, courteous Englishman despite the guise he presented in so many films, Karloff and his wife in recent years lived in an apartment in London's Chelsea district and in a cottage near the British capital. Although long a resident of Hollywood, he never gave up his British citizenship and returned to Britain to live in 1959.

He was a polished performer who received critical acclaim for his 1956 Broadway role as a

Guardsmen Eyed If Pen Guards Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The National Guard will be called into duty at the Ohio Penitentiary if a threatened strike by guards materializes tonight, a state official said today.

Adj. Gen. S. T. Del Coros said members of the 1st Battalion, 166th Infantry in Columbus, have been altered for possible duty. The battalion has 80 members.

Del Corso met this morning with Prison Warden Harold J. Cardwell and Highway Patrol Supt. R. M. Charamonte.

Cardwell said he feels a strike by the penitentiary guards cannot be averted.

Del Corso said the highway patrol also would be used if necessary.

"The prisoners will be contained," said John M. McElroy, administrative assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

"It's logical to assume that the guard or patrol will be used if there is a strike," McElroy added.

Asked if the Ferguson Act would be invoked, McElroy said "That's the law of the state, but we don't know yet if they're (the guards) going out." The Ferguson Act forbids strikes by public employes.

"We're making plans to use the guard," said Del Corso. "We've alerted the troops to the possibility they may be committed to duty."

A spokesman for Martin A. Janis, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, said Janis was meeting with various persons "in and and out of the department" about the situation.

"If there is a walkout, it will be the decision of Warden Cardwell on what action to take," the spokesman said.

bishop in "The Lark," French playwright Jean Anouilh's saga of Joan of Arc, Karloff called the Broadway role, "the high point of my career as an actor."

Karloff's Hollywood career began in 1919, but it languished until 1931 when he landed the role of Frankenstein's monster.

He played the lumbering tall-browed creature in only three films, but they set the standard for hundreds of movie chillers.

His non-Frankenstein roles were in such equally spooky movies as "The Mask of Fu Manchu," "Voodoo Island," "The Body Snatcher," "Isle of the Dead," and "Stranglehold."

Karloff said he was grateful for being typecast for horror films.

"The monster was the best friend I ever had," he once told an interviewer. "Certainly I was typed. But what is typing? It is a trade mark, a means which the public recognizes you. Actors work all their lives to achieve that . . . I got mine with just one picture. It was a blessing."

He was born William Henry Pratt in Dulwich, England, on Nov. 23, 1887.

Turned down from World War I service because of a bad heart, Karloff emigrated to America where he toured in stock companies.

Karloff returned to England in 1951 because, he said, he was a rugby fan and "it's hard to find a game in the states."

But he was back in Hollywood in 1960 at age 73 to host a mystery television series, "Thriller."

He was married five times, the last in 1941 to Evelyn Helmar, who survives. He also is survived by his daughter Sara Jane, child of his fourth marriage to Mrs. Dorothy Stine Pratt.

my positions touched off 27 secondary explosions, indicating direct hits on ammunition stores.

About 17 miles to the northwest, an armored column from the U.S. 25th Division smashed into an estimated 150 North Vietnamese troops and killed 42 with the aid of fighter-bombers from four different bases. Three Americans were killed and 18 wounded.

The U.S. Command announced the conclusion of two year-long operations in the central highlands near An Khe and along the coastal plain near Bong Son conducted by paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade. The command said 1,201 enemy were killed in Operation Walker and Operation Cochise Green, at a cost of 136 U.S. soldiers killed and 1,183 wounded.

In the air war, U.S. B52 bombers dropped more than 1,000 tons of explosives Sunday and today on what the U.S. Command said were enemy base camps, supply and storage areas, weapons positions and bunkers from the demilitarized zone to the Mekong Delta. The closest strike to Saigon was 43 miles away.

Spokesmen said South Vietnamese troops sweeping an area 14 miles southwest of Can Tho in the delta found 55 enemy soldiers buried in graves.

"The enemy were believed killed by B52 missions concentrated in this general area on Jan. 30," a U.S. communique said.

One U.S. source described recent enemy movements around Saigon as "backing and filling movements."

"They move forward, then back," he said. "Then forward or sideways. There is no discernible trend. A lot of the contact is mostly our fault. Our guys are looking like mad for the enemy."

The source said the enemy units "aren't very sizable for us," usually ranging from a dozen men to about 100.

Candidates

McCauley of 244 E. North Ave., for the Republican nomination for councilman-at-large.

Salem: Carl C. Abe of 611 N. Union Ave., for the Republican nomination for Council president, and Joyce S. Wilson of 2296 South East Blvd., for the GOP nomination for councilman-at-large.

Columbiana: Donald T. Gormley of 128 James St. and Arthur R. Dillon of 132 E. Woodland Ave., both GOP council candidates, and George E. Hermann of 99 Woodland Ave., Republican for the Board of Public Affairs.

Lisbon: Larry O. Evans, 518 W. Lincoln Way, for the Republican nomination for a Council seat.

Here are brief biographies on the new East Liverpool and Wellsville candidates:

Ferlaino has been employed more than 20 years at Crucible. Working in the electric furnace department, he is a member of St. Ann Catholic Church. This is his first political bid.

Stanford and his wife, the former Catherine Martin, were married Jan. 18. She formerly was associated with the theater firm and prior to that time was a city "Meter Maid." In the theater business all his adult life, Stanford came to East Liverpool from State College, Pa.

Phillips, the new Wellsville candidate, is a retired employe of the former Pennsylvania Railroad. Retired since 1962, he worked for the firm 46 years.

Married and the father of a son, he is a member of the Masonic Lodge, the Elks Club, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Riverside United Presbyterian Church of Wellsville.

The "testudo," which ancient Roman legionaires employed in battle more than 2,000 years ago, was the forerunner of modern war machines. The testudo was created by an overlapping of the soldiers' shields as a protection from falling missiles. Under this covering, the soldiers were able to advance to within striking distance of their enemies.

Rustlers Get Heifer From District Farm

SUMMITVILLE — Law officers today continued investigation of the theft and butchering of a 400-pound heifer in the Millport area over the weekend.

Franklin Township Forrest Young said cattle rustlers shot the heifer 100 feet from a barn Friday night, dragged it across a field and loaded it into a vehicle. They then butchered it and disposed of the remains at the township dump.

Young said a "missing or stolen heifer" report was received Saturday from Howard McKarns of Route 518 east of Millport.

The theft occurred on the old Ed Meister farm north of Route 518 where McKarns kept 10 heifers. Only nine showed up for feeding Saturday morning.

The constable said the ground was soft and it was easy to see marks of where the animal had been killed, dragged and loaded.

Late Saturday he received information that the head and hide of a heifer were on the dump. McKarns, who had dehorned the heifers just a week ago, identified the head. Examination revealed the heifer had been shot in the head with a .22 caliber weapon.

Constable Young said David Ketchum of Wayne Township called him Saturday to report the theft of a wheel and snow-tread tire from his pickup truck. He said he parked the truck a short distance off Laughlin Rd. Friday night because the lane to the house was soft. The tire and wheel were in the back of the truck.

tsai, a rocket expert visiting the Netherlands for an industrial congress. He was found injured outside the Chinese Embassy and was taken to a hospital with a fractured skull and spinal injuries. One report said Hsu had been hit by a car, another that he had been thrown out a window.

Chinese agents abducted him from the hospital and took him to the legation where he died on July 16, 1966. Liao participated in the abduction but could not be prosecuted because he had diplomatic immunity. There has been no explanation why Peking waited more than two years before summoning Liao home to report.

Chinese Figure Dies

TOKYO (AP) — The death of Li Tsung-jen, vice president of Nationalist China just pior to the Communist take over in 1949, was reported Sunday by the Peking official news agency. The agency said only that Li died Thursday of illness. He was 78. Elected vice president under Chiang Kai-shek in April 1948, Li spent 16 years in the United States after the Red conquest. He returned to the mainland in 1965.

Pay

time is running out for opponents of the pay boosts.

There is little business scheduled in the House this week, and leaders may have difficulty raising the necessary quorum of 218 members. However, Chairman William M. Colmer, D-Miss., is hoping to push a resolution through his Rules Committee to force the issue onto the floor. His chances are considered dim.

In the Senate, Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen agreed to Williams' demand that there be a vote on the pay increase.

But sources immediately revealed a move might be made to challenge the Williams resolution on grounds a bill is needed to stop the pay boost.

"It would make us look bad" to use a parliamentary device to block a vote on the Williams resolution, Mansfield said.

The possibility remains the vote will not come directly on Williams' disapproval resolution but on a motion to table, and thus kill, the Delaware Republican's move.

That might suit both sides, since Williams says his main concern is to get a recorded vote. Opponents of his resolution could say afterwards they were voting on a tabling motion for parliamentary reasons even though the effect of their vote would be to approve the pay increase.

The pay package also raises salaries of Cabinet members from $35,000 to $60,000 with corresponding increases for federal judges who now make from $30,000 for district judges to $40,000 for the chief justice.

Provision of new helicopters is part of an extensive U.S. effort to modernize Vietnamese arms and equipment so the war can be "de-Americanized." This effort is costing between $300 million and $400 million a year.

Already accomplished is the rearming of the more than 155 infantry battalions of the regular South Vietnamese forces with lightweight, high-velocity M16 rifles.

The militia, which bears the brunt of much of the fighting with the Viet Cong, is starting to get the M16.

The United States also is furnishing South Vietnamese forces better machineguns, mortars, grenade-launchers, radios and trucks.

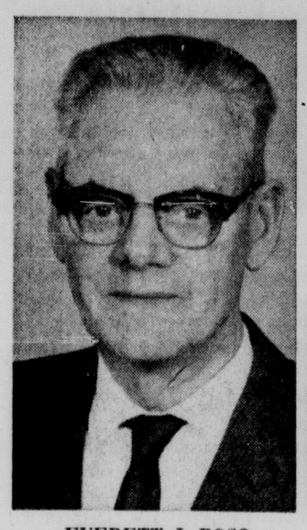
Four Have 40 Or More Years Service

31 Retire At Crucible



EVERETT J. BOSO
40 Years of Service.

THOMAS A. PLUNKETT
With Crucible 48 Years.

RAMON PICHARDO
Retires After 43 Years.

An East Liverpool man is one of four Crucible Steel employes with 40 or more years of service who have retired from the Midland plant. A total of 31 retired effective Saturday.

Everett J. Boso joined Crucible in 1928 and worked his entire 40 years service in the Heat Treat and Cold Drawn Department. He started as a machine helper, and worked as a craneman and a pickle helper before he became a furnace operator in 1940.

He and his wife, Ethel, have a son, Virgil Boso of East Liverpool, who s a foreman in the Machine Shop at Crucible, and a daughter, Mrs. Lucille Montgomery of Wellsville. They also have 13 grandchildren and five great - grandchildren.

THE OTHER three with over 40 years service are all from Midland. They are: Thomas A. Plunkett, heater, Agricultural Department, who has 48 years service; John Holava, moulder, Steel Foundry, 45 years; Ramon Pichardo, moulder, Iron Foundry, 43 years.

Ten others retiring from East Liverpool are: James L. Landis, furnace operator, 24-inch Finishing Mill, with 35 years service; Richard Neill, carbon man, Chemical Lab, 31 years; Frank C. Milton, pull-up, 24-inch Finishing Mill, 28 years; Paul W. Staib, coremaker, Steel Foundry, 27 years; Lawrence Newtz, craneman, Finishing - East, 26 years.

Carl Neer, instrument repairman, Combustion Engineering, 25 years; Sherlie A. Cox, craneman, Electric Furnace, 25 years; Archie C. Pinkerton Sr., conductor, Transportation, 20 years; Frank M. Dozier, electric welder, Burning and Welding, 16 years; and Edward S. Beaver, car repair helper, Car Repair, 15 years.

Also retiring are Eddie Murphy of Wellsville, oiler, Maintenance - Coke, Iron and Steel, 26 years, and Arthur H. Wilson of Salineville, millwright, Maintenance - Coke, Iron and Steel, 23 years.

OTHER MIDLAND retirees Joseph Falicia, spectograph technician, Chemical Lab, with 32 years service; Allen B. Bare, inspector, Inspection, 31 years; Norris D. Stitler, painter, Carpenter and Paint, 27 years; Harry K. Bloor, power maintenance man, Maintenance - Coke, Iron and Steel, 27 years; and James T. Held, motor inspector, Maintenance - Heat Treat, 26 years.

Three retiring from Chester are: Clyde W. Lyon, thermo - couple man, Maintenance-Coke, Iron and Steel, 19 years; John H. Hadley, transfer operator, Finishing - East, 22 years; and William J. Smith, carbon analyst, Chemical Lab, with 26 years service.

Also retiring was Victor Holava of Ohioville, brakeman, Transportation Department, with 27 years service, also retired.

Minimum Wage Decision

A fight is brewing in Congress over raising the minimum wage to $2.

When the first successful attempt to regulate working hours and establish a minimum wage was made in 1938, the Fair Labor Standards Act provided a 25-cents-an-hour wage floor for 12.5 million workers in interstate commerce business.

As of Saturday, some 1.5 million workers come under provisions of the 1966 federal wage and hour law which raises to 44.6 million the number of employes covered under present wage minimums of $1.60 and $1.30 per hour. The latter wage applies to retail service establishments and some farm workers.

EARLY THIS YEAR, before he left office as secretary of labor, Willard Wirtz, recommended that all American workers, including those on farms, be guaranteed a minimum wage of $2 an hour by 1975.

On the heels of the recommendation from Mr. Wirtz came a proposal from the National Urban League that the minimum wage be moved to $2 an hour and automatic increases be tied to the consumer price index computed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Prof. James Tobin is one who raises his voice against hiking the minimum wage rate as a sure-fire remedy for inadequate incomes of the working poor.

He says: "Employers can be required to pay higher wage rates but not to hire workers on whom they take a loss. The likely result of a n increase in the minimum wage is to increase unemployment and involuntary part-time work among the very groups the measure aims to help."

The President's Council of Economic advisers concurs in Prof. Tobin's assessment. In its January 1969 report, the council said: "Excessively rapid and general increases in the minimum (wage) can hurt these (low-wage) workers by curtailing their employment opportunities."

It is going to take more than speculation about unemployment to discourage champions of a higher minimum wage, however.

One reason is the U.S. Department of Labor insists that none of its studies has produced any documentary evidence of a damper on employment in the steady rise of the minimum wage from 25 cents to $1.60 an hour.

ON A STRICTLY economic basis, it can be pointed out that the United States is beginning its ninth year of unparalleled prosperity and it would be wise not to rock the boat.

There are others, inside and outside of Congress, who do not wish to see the nation prosper in general while laborers at the bottom of the wage totem pole are excluded from the prosperity.

These people agree, at least in part, with this statement from Mr. Wirtz: "There are between 22 and 26 million people living in this country under 'poverty' conditions . . . It is a conservative estimate that if every worker in the country received $2 an hour for his labor, the number living in poverty would be more than cut in half."

Attempt At Burden Sharing

The attempt to bring about taxation reform is enhanced by its bipartisan nature.

The ranking Republican on the committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, is strongly behind reform, especially in the area that permits high-income people to avoid taxes.

Rep. Byrnes is upset at a Treasury Department report that many people who have incomes above $200,000 pay no taxes at all.

He said: "No matter by what device, no matter how laudable the nature of the deduction or exclusion that produces this result, the fact remains that there is no justification for these individuals being nontaxpayers."

He suggests something be done to make high-income recipients pay some amount of tax.

A recommendation by the Democratic National Committee is in line with the thinking of Rep. Byrnes. The committee is preparing legislation to provide a minimum income tax for people with high incomes.

REP. MILLS has warned that sweeping revisions would not be forthcoming this year. But he declared that if hearings disclose areas that need immediate change, the committee would go ahead with specific legislation.

The committee will be faced with stiff opposition from special-interest groups and influential people, but it will have the full encouragement of every average taxpayer.

Committee members know and average taxpayers know that tax reform is long overdue. The committee hearings represent a beginning.

Phil Fails Again

The Cream Ridge Hiking and Stone-Throwing Society reported Sunday phlegmatic Fredericktown Phil failed to rouse himself for the annual Groundhog Day shadow test.

Of course, Phil, celebrating the World Series and other happiness, didn't tuck himself in until mid-November. And last Feb. 2, he stumbled and fell getting out of his hole and rightfully predicted six weeks of stars.

Anyway, Phil didn't view his shadow, so we're at the threshold of spring. You might start looking for that old ice pick, however. You'll need it if you plan to start planting the marigolds.

And the Cream Ridge Hiking and Stone-Throwing Society had better start looking for a new ground hog.

Timetable For Thailand

Out of Thailand comes repeat warnings that that freedom-loving nation may be next on the Communist agenda of conquest.

Expanding guerrilla activity is the reason for the warnings. International observers have made comparisons to the timetable and character of aggression in South Vietnam and found that the former is being speeded up in Thailand while the latter is almost identical.

A representative of one Western power has expressed his belief that America could slip into another Vietnam much faster than had been believed possible.

THE NIXON administration may have to make a major policy decision on Thailand much sooner than it had anticipated.

The United States is committed, under provisions of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, to help Thailand resist aggression from outside forces.

But there is considerable feeling within the United States that we should not be involved militarily in Asia. This attitude has been fanned and, in some instances caused, by antiwar demonstrators and protesters who have publicized widely the slogan "No More Vietnams."

There are some distinct differences between the situation in Thailand and Vietnam. In the former conflict, one of the major arguments of the antiwar groups has been that it is purely a civil war and that the South Vietnamese government was a puppet regime set up by the United States.

In Thailand the government has been more stable although under military rule for the past 10 years. And there is no group truly comparable to the Viet Cong.

The guerrillas are outnumbered 100 to 4 by government forces at the present time though this could rapidly change if, as the Thais suspect, Red China is infiltrating men into Thailand.

If the Reds feel they are successful in winning their Paris "war," they undoubtedly would make a bid for Thailand in the hope that they could repeat the Vietnam script and win at least half of the nation. Certainly half a pie is better than no pie at all.

AND, WITH THE PROPER attitude having been cultivated in the United States, the Red planners might well think that the United States would not commit itself to another "Vietnam" in Asia — thus giving them a chance at the whole pie.

The Nixon administration has no excuse for being caught unprepared in Thailand. Our government should know right now what it plans to do if anything, in Thailand.

Reducing Air Pollution

Back in 1918, half a century ago, a breakthrough occurred in the search for an effective and tactical way to trap large quantities of unwanted gases.

It occurred as the result of a crash program by the Army to find a truly efficient gas mask for American troops who were being subjected to gas attacks by the Germans.

It has taken 50 years for that principle to be applied and used by the automobile industry.

BUT, AT LONG LAST, a much overdue device has been manufactured and will be installed in some 1970 model cars. It will be standard equipment on all the '70 models sold in California that year and in new cars sold in the rest of the nation the following year.

Known as the evaporative loss control device, it is predicted that it will, in time, cut auto pollution in half.

And that would be some accomplishment, for John Middleton, director of the National Air Pollution Control Administration, has labeled automobile hydrocarbons as "the most important single source of air pollution in the U.S. today."

Statistics indicate the average car emits 170 pounds of hybrocarbons (smog ingredients. in a year. The bureau of Public Roads estimates there are more than 82 million cars on the road today so the production of smog from these vehicles approaches 14 billion pounds annually.

THAT IS 60 PER CENT of all the menacing hydrocarbons in our polluted atmosphere.

Activated charcoal, a superabsorbent material, is the basic ingredient of the hydrocarbon-trapping device which is expected to cost about $15.

It is deplorable that the industry has been so tardy in developing this device. It is encouraging to know that its widespread use is in the offing.

The thought has occurred to me—the tobacco habit in the United States will not be broken or solved until the tobacco farmer finds a crop which will return him a greater profit than tobacco, or until oil, coal or minerals are discovered on his property.

This is written in a humorous vein, but thinking on it, believe I shall suggest the problem to our secretary of agriculture and his department.

The Law Of The Hair

While driving west last seek, I stopped for lunch in Alpine, Tex. Opposite the restaurant is Sul Ross State College and in the dining room were several of the students.

After the discomfort suffered while viewing the slovenly dress and haircuts of so many students in the East, it was refreshing to see the contrast here in a remote part of Texas. Most of the boys wore clean cowboy attire and, as is the custom of the country, wore their big hats while eating. But beneath the hats their hair was most conservatively cut.

As I left, I commented upon these haircuts to the cashier. She said that whenever a student appeared from outside the state with a bizarre hair-do the students themselves applied the scissors and razor.

This is one way to enforce conformity which need not be added to the burdens of the school administration.

THIS INCIDENT RECALLED a learned article in the Cleveland-Marshall Law Review which might be entitled "The law of the hair." This article, written by Marvin R. Plasco, one of the advanced students, reviews the various cases in which high school and college authorities have endeavored to enforce regulations concerning dress and the length and distribution of hairy embellishments on and about the students' heads.

The Supreme Court has not yet passed upon this subject but there are plenty of state cases.

In general, the decisions have upheld the school authorities on the ground that they are acting in loco parents. But since, in these permissive days, parents themselves seem unable to find themselves the locus of their own authority, this rule is difficult to enforce.

IN ONE CASE, Leonard vs. School Committee of Attleboro, the Massachusetts Supreme Court upheld a school regulation which barred students with unacceptable haircuts from attending a high school. The student claimed in his defense that he was a paid musician and his strange haircut was essential to the popular acceptance of his music.

He argued also that the school's rule was an invasion of his family's privacy since apparently his parents approved of his haircut.

But the court held that the "domain of family privacy" must yield to the need for school discipline. It said:

"Any unusual, immodest or exaggerated mode of dress, conspicuous departures from accepted customs in the matter of haircuts could result in the distraction of other students (and thus) impede the maintenance of proper classroom discipline anl decorum."

In other cases students have used constitutional arguments, claiming that their long hair and facial trimmings were a mode of "symbolic expression" and thus were protected by the First Amendment. The word "expression" is not in the First Amendment but (in a case that did not involve hair) Justice Douglas has held that the First Amendment includes more than the spoken or written word.

In that case Justice Goldberg brought in the forgotten Ninth Amendment in a concurring opinion. Perhaps in that broad and sweeping amendment all sorts of bangs, beards and sideburns can find a nesting place in the future.

So far as the Plasco researches reveal, the students have not yet appealed to history. For as the portraits show, the haircuts and facial trimmings of our presidents have changed from generation to generation. First there were the Georgian locks and smooth faces. Then, beginning with Lincoln and ending with McKinley, beards held sway.

Thus the student revolution is reactionary in both historical respects, both long hair and beards.

In fact it may be most difficult for school authorities to prove that long hair is actually distracting or that it is a menace to the health of other students or the public. A deeper penetration beneath the hair will have to be made to provide such proof.

MOREOVER, THERE IS no uniformity among school authorities about what is or is not permissible. In one case involving North Olmsted, a superb of Cleveland (where incidentally I taught my first school at the age of 18), there were two brothers in different schools in the same system. One was ejected because of his failure to conform to a principal's rule; the other had a different principal who had other ideas of propriety.

But presumably the revolution against school standards will go on. For as one commentator has noted: "If the state can compel short hair today, it can compel long hair tomorrow."

Timely Quotes

"ADA has always opposed the political aspirations of Mr. Nixon. But we shall be considerate in our criticism of the Nixon administration. When Mr. Nixon makes wise decisions or good appointments, we will applaud. When he is wrong, we will attack.

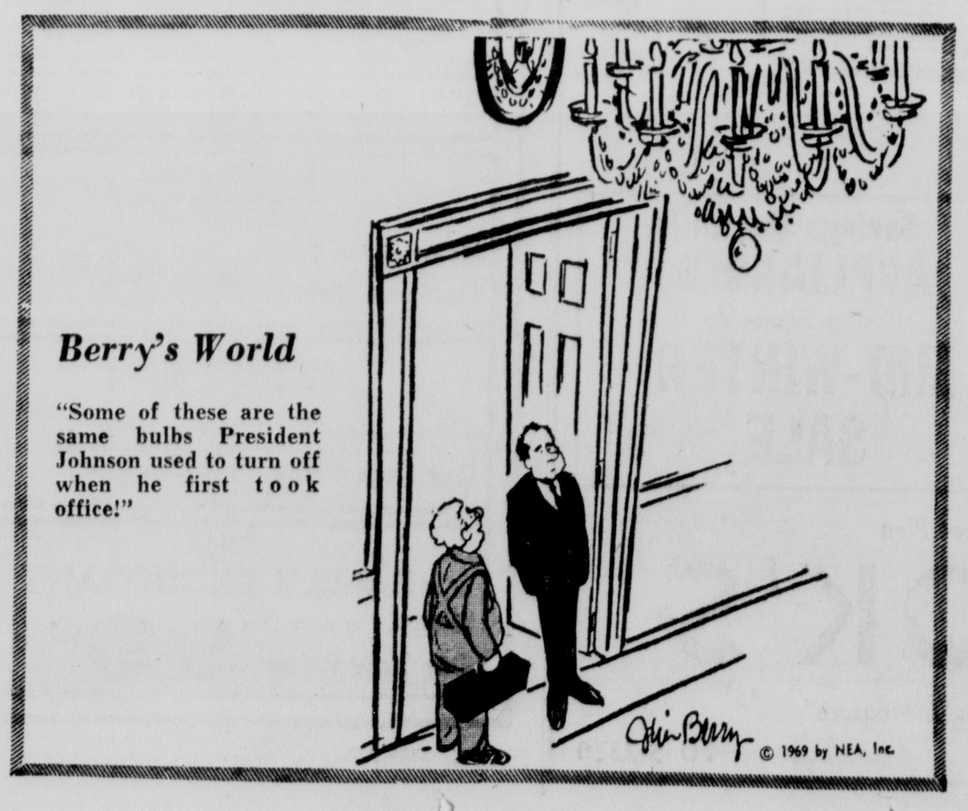
—John Kenneth Galbraith, national chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action.

"Expulsion from college approaches the seriousness of a quasi-criminal penalty."

—An appeal filed before the U.S. Supreme Court asking that college administrators be required to give hearings to students being expelled.

"All of Eastern Europe is filled with the urge for freedom—for new forms of life. . . .The movement to freedom in these countries today is inevitable and vital."

—Milovan Djilas, former president of Yugoslavia.



DAVID LAWRENCE

President Goes Visiting

President Nixon, by his visits to the House and the Senate and his meetings with congressional leaders, is trying to establish a spirit of friendliness which might be helpful in the relations between a Republican chief executive and a Congress which has a Democratic majority in both houses.

Somewhat the same situation confronted President Eisenhower for six years. But Lyndon Johnson, who happened to be leader of the Democratic party in the Senate, co-operated with the White House, particularly on foreign policy.

Mr. Nixon's difficulty is that the committee chairman in Congress—all Democrats—are not going to be influenced altogether by their party leaders.

SEN J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT, Democrat of Arkansas, for instance, is already exhibiting signs of dissatisfaction because the Nixon administration is, in the main, pursuing the same policy with respect to Vietnam that the Johnson administration did.

If a vote were taken, however, on whether to support an early withdrawal of troops from Vietnam without regard to the impact of such action on other parts of Asia, it is hardly likely that a majority would be recorded in favor of such a proposal, as there are enough members of both parties who do not believe in "peace at any price."

There is, of course, no easy solution to the Vietnam problem. But it has been made more complex and difficult to handle by reason of the attitude not only of some members of Congress but of organizations which are continuing to carry on anti-war demonstrations and are getting nationwide publicity.

While to some people these are merely expressions that come under the heading of "free speech," the disturbing fact is that the antiwar groups are doing more to prolong the war and possibly to bring on a major conflict than the general public realizes.

The Paris negotiations, for example, may be lengthened largely because of a mistaken belief by the Communists that the United States is eager to get out of Vietnam any way it can. Their theory is that America hasn't meant what it said when three presidents characterized the Vietnam conflict as an effort to repel aggression.

The chances of reaching a settlement have in recent weeks been described as better than ever before. But this is mainly due to the conviction in Hanoi that the United States is getting ready to pull out and that all the Communists need to do is to provide a face-saving device for this country.

Recent comments here and abroad hinting that the United States is about to withdraw some of its troops have encouraged the North Vietnamese to believe that the position of this country is weakening.

President Nixon drew attention on Monday to the risks and dangers involved in giving a wrong impression about American policy. He said, in his news conference, that he does not think it is helpful "to make overly optimistic statements which, in effect, may impede and perhaps might make very difficult our negotiations in Paris."

President Johnson, in an article published this week in "The Raader's Digest," made a declaration which is undoubtedly supported 100 per cent by President Nixon. Mr. Johnson said:

"IN SUMMARY, WE WENT to fight in Vietnam because Asia's future was threatened by aggression. My profoundest hope is that America's resistance in Vietnam will discourage future aggressors

"We must realize that if word were to go out that the United States is abdicating its stabilizing role—and playing such a role does not mean that misleading slogan, 'policing the world'—it would simply invite aggression by those who need little invitation now."

So it becomes apparent that a very critical situation soon may face the United States outside of Vietnam, as various countries read statements in the press which imply that this country is willing to make almost any concession at Paris in order to permit an early troop withdrawal.

Minimum Wage Decision

A fight is brewing in Congress over raising the minimum wage to $2.

When the first successful attempt to regulate working hours and establish a minimum wage was made in 1938, the Fair Labor Standards Act provided a 25-cents-an-hour wage floor for 12.5 million workers in interstate commerce business.

As of Saturday, some 1.5 million workers come under provisions of the 1966 federal wage and hour law which raises to 44.6 million the number of employes covered under present wage minimums of $1.60 and $1.30 per hour. The latter wage applies to retail service establishments and some farm workers.

EARLY THIS YEAR, before he left office as secretary of labor, Willard Wirtz, recommended that all American workers, including those on farms, be guaranteed a minimum wage of $2 an hour by 1975.

On the heels of the recommendation from Mr. Wirtz came a proposal from the National Urban League that the minimum wage be moved to $2 an hour and automatic increases be tied to the consumer price index computed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Prof. James Tobin is one who raises his voice against hiking the minimum wage rate as a sure-fire remedy for inadequate incomes of the working poor.

He says: "Employers can be required to pay higher wage rates but not to hire workers on whom they take a loss. The likely result of a n increase in the minimum wage is to increase unemployment and involuntary part-time work among the very groups the measure aims to help."

The President's Council of Economic advisers concurs in Prof. Tobin's assessment. In its January 1969 report, the council said: "Excessively rapid and general increases in the minimum (wage) can hurt these (low-wage) workers by curtailing their employment opportunities."

It is going to take more than speculation about unemployment to discourage champions of a higher minimum wage, however.

One reason is the U.S. Department of Labor insists that none of its studies has produced any documentary evidence of a damper on employment in the steady rise of the minimum wage from 25 cents to $1.60 an hour.

ON A STRICTLY economic basis, it can be pointed out that the United States is beginning its ninth year of unparalleled prosperity and it would be wise not to rock the boat.

There are others, inside and outside of Congress, who do not wish to see the nation prosper in general while laborers at the bottom of the wage totem pole are excluded from the prosperity.

These people agree, at least in part, with this statement from Mr. Wirtz: "There are between 22 and 26 million people living in this country under 'poverty' conditions . . . It is a conservative estimate that if every worker in the country received $2 an hour for his labor, the number living in poverty would be more than cut in half."

Attempt At Burden Sharing

The attempt to bring about taxation reform is enhanced by its bipartisan nature.

The ranking Republican on the committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, is strongly behind reform, especially in the area that permits high-income people to avoid taxes.

Rep. Byrnes is upset at a Treasury Department report that many people who have incomes above $200,000 pay no taxes at all.

He said: "No matter by what device, no matter how laudable the nature of the deduction or exclusion that produces this result, the fact remains that there is no justification for these individuals being nontaxpayers."

He suggests something be done to make high-income recipients pay some amount of tax.

A recommendation by the Democratic National Committee is in line with the thinking of Rep. Byrnes. The committee is preparing legislation to provide a minimum income tax for people with high incomes.

REP. MILLS has warned that sweeping revisions would not be forthcoming this year. But he declared that if hearings disclose areas that need immediate change, the committee would go ahead with specific legislation.

The committee will be faced with stiff opposition from special-interest groups and influential people, but it will have the full encouragement of every average taxpayer.

Committee members know and average taxpayers know that tax reform is long overdue. The committee hearings represent a beginning.

Phil Fails Again

The Cream Ridge Hiking and Stone-Throwing Society reported Sunday phlegmatic Fredericktown Phil failed to rouse himself for the annual Groundhog Day shadow test.

Of course, Phil, celebrating the World Series and other happiness, didn't tuck himself in until mid-November. And last Feb. 2, he stumbled and fell getting out of his hole and rightfully predicted six weeks of stars.

Anyway, Phil didn't view his shadow, so we're at the threshold of spring. You might start looking for that old ice pick, however. You'll need it if you plan to start planting the marigolds.

And the Cream Ridge Hiking and Stone-Throwing Society had better start looking for a new ground hog.

Timetable For Thailand

Out of Thailand comes repeat warnings that that freedom-loving nation may be next on the Communist agenda of conquest.

Expanding guerrilla activity is the reason for the warnings. International observers have made comparisons to the timetable and character of aggression in South Vietnam and found that the former is being speeded up in Thailand while the latter is almost identical.

A representative of one Western power has expressed his belief that America could slip into another Vietnam much faster than had been believed possible.

THE NIXON administration may have to make a major policy decision on Thailand much sooner than it had anticipated.

The United States is committed, under provisions of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, to help Thailand resist aggression from outside forces.

But there is considerable feeling within the United States that we should not be involved militarily in Asia. This attitude has been fanned and, in some instances caused, by antiwar demonstrators and protesters who have publicized widely the slogan "No More Vietnams."

There are some distinct differences between the situation in Thailand and Vietnam. In the former conflict, one of the major arguments of the antiwar groups has been that it is purely a civil war and that the South Vietnamese government was a puppet regime set up by the United States.

In Thailand the government has been more stable although under military rule for the past 10 years. And there is no group truly comparable to the Viet Cong.

The guerrillas are outnumbered 100 to 4 by government forces at the present time though this could rapidly change if, as the Thais suspect, Red China is infiltrating men into Thailand.

If the Reds feel they are successful in winning their Paris "war," they undoubtedly would make a bid for Thailand in the hope that they could repeat the Vietnam script and win at least half of the nation. Certainly half a pie is better than no pie at all.

AND, WITH THE PROPER attitude having been cultivated in the United States, the Red planners might well think that the United States would not commit itself to another "Vietnam" in Asia — thus giving them a chance at the whole pie.

The Nixon administration has no excuse for being caught unprepared in Thailand. Our government should know right now what it plans to do if anything, in Thailand.

Reducing Air Pollution

Back in 1918, half a century ago, a breakthrough occurred in the search for an effective and tactical way to trap large quantities of unwanted gases.

It occurred as the result of a crash program by the Army to find a truly efficient gas mask for American troops who were being subjected to gas attacks by the Germans.

It has taken 50 years for that principle to be applied and used by the automobile industry.

BUT, AT LONG LAST, a much overdue device has been manufactured and will be installed in some 1970 model cars. It will be standard equipment on all the '70 models sold in California that year and in new cars sold in the rest of the nation the following year.

Known as the evaporative loss control device, it is predicted that it will, in time, cut auto pollution in half.

And that would be some accomplishment, for John Middleton, director of the National Air Pollution Control Administration, has labeled automobile hydrocarbons as "the most important single source of air pollution in the U.S. today."

Statistics indicate the average car emits 170 pounds of hybrocarbons (smog ingredients. in a year. The bureau of Public Roads estimates there are more than 82 million cars on the road today so the production of smog from these vehicles approaches 14 billion pounds annually.

THAT IS 60 PER CENT of all the menacing hydrocarbons in our polluted atmosphere.

Activated charcoal, a superabsorbent material, is the basic ingredient of the hydrocarbon-trapping device which is expected to cost about $15.

It is deplorable that the industry has been so tardy in developing this device. It is encouraging to know that its widespread use is in the offing.

The thought has occurred to me—the tobacco habit in the United States will not be broken or solved until the tobacco farmer finds a crop which will return him a greater profit than tobacco, or until oil, coal or minerals are discovered on his property.

This is written in a humorous vein, but thinking on it, believe I shall suggest the problem to our secretary of agriculture and his department.

RAYMOND MOLEY

The Law Of The Hair

While driving west last seek, I stopped for lunch in Alpine, Tex. Opposite the restaurant is Sul Ross State College and in the dining room were several of the students.

After the discomfort suffered while viewing the slovenly dress and haircuts of so many students in the East, it was refreshing to see the contrast here in a remote part of Texas. Most of the boys wore clean cowboy attire and, as is the custom of the country, wore their big hats while eating. But beneath the hats their hair was most conservatively cut.

As I left, I commented upon these haircuts to the cashier. She said that whenever a student appeared from outside the state with a bizarre hair-do the students themselves applied the scissors and razor.

This is one way to enforce conformity which need not be added to the burdens of the school administration.

THIS INCIDENT RECALLED a learned article in the Cleveland-Marshall Law Review which might be entitled "The law of the hair." This article, written by Marvin R. Plasco, one of the advanced students, reviews the various cases in which high school and college authorities have endeavored to enforce regulations concerning dress and the length and distribution of hairy embellishments on and about the students' heads.

The Supreme Court has not yet passed upon this subject but there are plenty of state cases.

In general, the decisions have upheld the school authorities on the ground that they are acting in loco parents. But since, in these permissive days, parents themselves seem unable to find themselves the locus of their own authority, this rule is difficult to enforce.

IN ONE CASE, Leonard vs. School Committee of Attleboro, the Massachusetts Supreme Court upheld a school regulation which barred students with unacceptable haircuts from attending a high school. The student claimed in his defense that he was a paid musician and his strange haircut was essential to the popular acceptance of his music.

He argued also that the school's rule was an invasion of his family's privacy since apparently his parents approved of his haircut.

But the court held that the "domain of family privacy" must yield to the need for school discipline. It said:

"Any unusual, immodest or exaggerated mode of dress, conspicuous departures from accepted customs in the matter of haircuts could result in the distraction of other students (and thus) impede the maintenance of proper classroom discipline anl decorum."

In other cases students have used constitutional arguments, claiming that their long hair and facial trimmings were a mode of "symbolic expression" and thus were protected by the First Amendment. The word "expression" is not in the First Amendment but (in a case that did not involve hair) Justice Douglas has held that the First Amendment includes more than the spoken or written word.

In that case Justice Goldberg brought in the forgotten Ninth Amendment in a concurring opinion. Perhaps in that broad and sweeping amendment all sorts of bangs, beards and sideburns can find a nesting place in the future.

So far as the Plasco researches reveal, the students have not yet appealed to history. For as the portraits show, the haircuts and facial trimmings of our presidents have changed from generation to generation. First there were the Georgian locks and smooth faces. Then, beginning with Lincoln and ending with McKinley, beards held sway.

Thus the student revolution is reactionary in both historical respects, both long hair and beards.

In fact it may be most difficult for school authorities to prove that long hair is actually distracting or that it is a menace to the health of other students or the public. A deeper penetration beneath the hair will have to be made to provide such proof.

MOREOVER, THERE IS no uniformity among school authorities about what is or is not permissible. In one case involving North Olmsted, a superb of Cleveland (where incidentally I taught my first school at the age of 18), there were two brothers in different schools in the same system. One was ejected because of his failure to conform to a principal's rule; the other had a different principal who had other ideas of propriety.

But presumably the revolution against school standards will go on. For as one commentator has noted: "If the state can compel short hair today, it can compel long hair tomorrow."

DAVID LAWRENCE

President Goes Visiting

President Nixon, by his visits to the House and the Senate and his meetings with congressional leaders, is trying to establish a spirit of friendliness which might be helpful in the relations between a Republican chief executive and a Congress which has a Democratic majority in both houses.

Somewhat the same situation confronted President Eisenhower for six years. But Lyndon Johnson, who happened to be leader of the Democratic party in the Senate, co-operated with the White House, particularly on foreign policy.

Mr. Nixon's difficulty is that the committee chairman in Congress—all Democrats—are not going to be influenced altogether by their party leaders.

SEN J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT, Democrat of Arkansas, for instance, is already exhibiting signs of dissatisfaction because the Nixon administration is, in the main, pursuing the same policy with respect to Vietnam that the Johnson administration did.

If a vote were taken, however, on whether to support an early withdrawal of troops from Vietnam without regard to the impact of such action on other parts of Asia, it is hardly likely that a majority would be recorded in favor of such a proposal, as there are enough members of both parties who do not believe in "peace at any price."

There is, of course, no easy solution to the Vietnam problem. But it has been made more complex and difficult to handle by reason of the attitude not only of some members of Congress but of organizations which are continuing to carry on anti-war demonstrations and are getting nationwide publicity.

While to some people these are merely expressions that come under the heading of "free speech," the disturbing fact is that the antiwar groups are doing more to prolong the war and possibly to bring on a major conflict than the general public realizes.

The Paris negotiations, for example, may be lengthened largely because of a mistaken belief by the Communists that the United States is eager to get out of Vietnam any way it can. Their theory is that America hasn't meant what it said when three presidents characterized the Vietnam conflict as an effort to repel aggression.

The chances of reaching a settlement have in recent weeks been described as better than ever before. But this is mainly due to the conviction in Hanoi that the United States is getting ready to pull out and that all the Communists need to do is to provide a face-saving device for this country.

Recent comments here and abroad hinting that the United States is about to withdraw some of its troops have encouraged the North Vietnamese to believe that the position of this country is weakening.

President Nixon drew attention on Monday to the risks and dangers involved in giving a wrong impression about American policy. He said, in his news conference, that he does not think it is helpful "to make overly optimistic statements which, in effect, may impede and perhaps might make very difficult our negotiations in Paris."

President Johnson, in an article published this week in "The Raader's Digest," made a declaration which is undoubtedly supported 100 per cent by President Nixon. Mr. Johnson said:

"IN SUMMARY, WE WENT to fight in Vietnam because Asia's future was threatened by aggression. My profoundest hope is that America's resistance in Vietnam will discourage future aggressors

"We must realize that if word were to go out that the United States is abdicating its stabilizing role—and playing such a role does not mean that misleading slogan, 'policing the world'—it would simply invite aggression by those who need little invitation now."

So it becomes apparent that a very critical situation soon may face the United States outside of Vietnam, as various countries read statements in the press which imply that this country is willing to make almost any concession at Paris in order to permit an early troop withdrawal.

A.—One of the best all-purpose glues you can produce is merely by burning shellac in a dish to get rid of the alcohol.

Q.—How can I remove unsightly white stains on a table top caused by heat?

A.—By rubbing with a hard paraffin wax candle, then covering with blotting paper and pressing with a warm iron. Repeat this process, if necessary. Afterwards, rub well with a soft-cloth to restore the finish.

Q.—How can I put a high polish on my furniture?

A.—Saturate a cloth with equal parts of lemon oil and turpentine, go over the entire surface with this, wipe off the excess oil with a damp cloth, and then polish with a woolen cloth. Finally step back and admire that mirror-like surface you have produced.

Deputy Nabs Escaped Man In Stolen Car

LISBON — William L. Chipps, 24, an escapee from the federal correction institution at Milan, Mich., was apprehended in a stolen car about 4:30 p.m. Saturday near Homeworth, Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reports.

Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman went to the Knox Township area in response to a radio message from Stark County that the escapee was seen in a 1965 Cadillac going east toward Homeworth.

The deputy found the car, apparently empty, parked along Mahoning Ave.—the north-south road which is the county line from Route 62 south to County Rd. 400 just west of Homeworth.

Notifying the sheriff's office he had the car in view, Wellman was about to check it when he observed someone rise to a sitting position in the front seat. The deputy ordered the man to get out with his hands in the air.

The deputy returned Chipps to the County Jail and Constable James Almon of Hanover Township drove the stolen car to the jail.

Kenneth M. Zigmond of Garden City, Mich., claimed the sedan Sunday evening. It was stolen Friday night. Authorities said Chipps walked away from the institution Friday morning. He had been sentenced for auto theft.

The escapee apparently was on his way to see his mother, who lives in Alliance, officers said. He is being held for federal authorities.

Motorist Fined After Accident

A Wellsville man was fined by Mayor William Daugherty this morning on a charge of driving while intoxicated as the result of a two-car accident on Main St. Sunday night.

Police said Paul M. Irwin, 52, of 339 Lisbon St., Wellsville, was driving his 1959 sedan on the wrong side of the street and it struck a car operated by Charles G. Morgan of Irondale headon.

Irwin was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail.

In another accident, a 1965 sedan driven by Gerry R. Medley of 303½ Commerce St., Wellsville, and a 1966 sedan operated by Dean McGivern of Irondale collided on Main St. as McGivern indicated a left turn and Morgan said he thought he was going to turn right.

No charges were filed.

Myrtle F. Wayne of Alliance was cited for failure to have her vehicle under control after she apparently fell asleep at 5:30 a.m. Sunday and hit the medial strip on Route 7 at the west city limits of Wellsville.

Firemen To Hold First-Aid Class

An advanced first - aid course will be conducted tonight at the Wellsville fire station, it was announced during the meeting of volunteer firemen Sunday night.

Dave Lanam, president, appointed a committee to plan a minstrel show — Andy Lynn, charman, and Dale Miller and Dan Crawford.

Chief Robert Lewis screened films on the "Importance of Safety Going to Fires and Duties of the Pump Operator".

Refreshments were served.

He declared that "the state administration does not know that we exist. He said money from a state bond issue is not being spent in the county and the "East Liverpool Bridge project is standing still."

He criticized "poor maintenance" on county highways, citing broken guardrails and pavement holes that have not been repaired.

Illinois Police Recover Vehicle Stolen At Lisbon

LISBON — Illinois state police at Elgin notified Lisbon police at 5:45 a.m. today of the recovery of a Volkswagen stolen last May 6 from Kathleen Arnold of 537 E. Washington St.

Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt said the "John Doe" warrant filed after the theft would be dismissed in favor of federal prosecution if there are any apprehensions.

He recalled that a Volkswagen stolen from Boswell, Pa., was found here when the Arnold car was taken. Checking on the Pennsylvania vehicle, he found Boswell police had recovered a Volkswagen stolen from Philadelphia. That car had Illinois plates inside.

Police said they received two theft reports over the weekend.

Glenn Cusick of Lisbon RD 3 reported at 2:20 a.m. Sunday that someone stole 13 stereo tapes from his car parked on S. Park Ave. on the Square.

Donald Rose of Lisbon notified police at 10 a.m. Sunday of the theft of a tachometer from his car some time Wednesday night.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I repair cracks in wood bowls?

A.—By filling the cracks with shellac.

Q.—Have you any tips on the successful washing of permanently pleated skirts?

A.—When washing them, gather the pleats together carefully and slip a clean, old nylon stocking down over the skirt before hanging it up to dry. In this way, the pleats will dry close together and will be firm and neat-looking.

Q.—How can I make a good homemade glue, effective for sticking glass to glass, leather to metal, and other such tricky combinations?

A.—One of the best all-purpose glues you can produce is merely by burning shellac in a dish to get rid of the alcohol.

Q.—How can I remove unsightly white stains on a table top caused by heat?

A.—By rubbing with a hard paraffin wax candle, then covering with blotting paper and pressing with a warm iron. Repeat this process, if necessary. Afterwards, rub well with a soft-cloth to restore the finish.

Q.—How can I put a high polish on my furniture?

A.—Saturate a cloth with equal parts of lemon oil and turpentine, go over the entire surface with this, wipe off the excess oil with a damp cloth, and then polish with a woolen cloth. Finally step back and admire that mirror-like surface you have produced.

Hancock Sets Reopening Of Dental Clinic

NEW CUMBERLAND—Plans have been made to resume dental clinics by the Hancock County Board of Health.

The action came following a communication from the Division of Dentral Health of the West Virginia Health Department.

Dr. J. E. Fisher, county health officer, was contacted relative to the program.

Board members said the clinics will be reopened as soon as water damage to the clinic room is repaired. The state health department is to furnish the instruments. Clinic instruments were stolen in a robbery in November 1967.

The board was informed of the resignation of Mrs. Barbara Hinerman, medical technologist, effective April 30.

Members approved the purchase of a refrigerator and a wall clock.

President William C. Graham informed the board that bills for the trimming of trees around the building and the new roof have been paid by the county court.

Dr. Raymond Greco, president of the Hancock County Medical Society, was invited to attend the next meeting of the board.

Mishap Injures 2 City Residents

Two East Liverpool residents were treated Sunday at City Hospital for injuries received in a one-car accident on Route 213 just west of Route 7 at 2:30 p. m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville said Robert Gerald Farish, 59, of 400 Monroe St. lost control of his 1953 sedan as he was turning right onto Route 213 from Route 7. The car went across the road and struck a dirt pile.

Farish was treated for lacerations of the forehead. A passenger, Nancy Taylor, 23, of W. 6th St., was treated for lacerations of the face and skull. Both were released.

Farish was cited for reckless operation.

New Lawmaker Has Plenty Of Territory

LAS CRUCES, N. M. (AP) — Congressman - elect Ed Foreman of Las Cruces said the New Mexico district he will represent is twice as large geographically as a West Texas district he served from for one term in 1962.

The Republican said his district takes in three - fourths of New Mexico, has 85,000 square miles and its 18 counties have an estimated population of 505,000. The two most distant points —from Jal in the southeast to Shiprock in the northwest — are 700 miles apart.

territorial integrity within "recognized and secure borders" and a just solution to the Palestine refugee problem.

Nasser's offer followed the lines of the U.N. Security Council's November 1967 resolution on the Middle East. But Israel refuses to give up the Arab territories—its chief bargaining card—until it has formal peace agreements with the Arab nations and until it negotiates what it considers "recognized and secure borders."

Nasser told Newsweek senior correspondent Arnaud de Borchgrave he would not guarantee to talk directly with Israel if there is withdrawal.

"But I can tell you," he added, "we sat down with the Israelis after the 1948 war under the armistice agreement until the 1956 war, and that we are prepared to do so again."

Nasser also said Egypt would restore diplomatic relations with the United States, which Egypt broke during the 1967 War, if Washington expressed disapproval of the Israeli occupation.

Time magazine reported Sunday that the Israeli Cabinet has decided to build 30 permanent fortified settlements and three new towns in occupied territory even though this would make a peace settlement with its Arab neighbors more unlikely.

Time said this reflected the thinking of Deputy Premier Yigal Allon, who believes "all intermediate arrangements of the past led to new wars. We must take no more risks with our future."

In Washington, AP Special Correspondent John M. Hightower reported that President Nixon will agree this week to a meeting on the Middle East of the Big Four's representatives on the Security Council.

Leaders of the Nixon administration believe if the United States and the Soviet Union use their influence to get active negotiations started, the peace mission of U.N. special envoy Gunnar V. Jarring might get off the ground.

The semiofficial Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram reported that Nasser met for three hours Sunday night in Cairo with Alexander Shelepin, Politburo member of the Soviet Communist party to discuss a message Shelepin brought from Kremlin party chief Leonid Brezhnev on current Middle East peace moves.

Al Ahram also said the "Palestine National Council" will form a unified military command for Arab guerrilla groups. The council, which claims to represent all segments of the Palestinian people is meeting in Cairo to draft new guidelines for unified action against Israel, the paper said.

The semiofficial Israeli newspaper Davar reported from Tel Aviv that an unidentified Soviet spokesman proposed "negotiations between Israel and the Arabs on the basis of equality, and not in a situation where Israel has the upper hand through conquest." This appared to be an offer of the direct negotiations which the Arabs have so far refused in exchange for an Israeli withdrawal.

A growing dispute between Iraq and its Arab neighbor, Syria, was underscored Sunday night when Lebanese security sources reported an Iraqi carrying two bombs was arrested Saturday at Beirut airport. They said he had papers suggesting he was bound for Syria, perhaps for an assassination attempt.

Kindly Looking Man Gets Too Much Trust

NEW DELHI (AP) — The three school girls were playing outside their school when the kindly looking young man approached them with a look of horror on his face.

Didn't they know there were bad characters and thieves all over? They should at once take off their gold ear rings. He offered to help them put them all in paper bags.

When the girls reached home, they found the paper bags were empty.

Queen Victoria was the British monarch when the Boer War began.

time, although the President hopes to visit Moscow later on.

Meanwhile the President is projecting action on two other fronts involving Soviet-U.S. relations.

He plans to send to the Senate this week a recommendation for early approval of the treaty to block the spread of nuclear weapons.

The United States signed the pact last year, but Senate approval and final U.S. ratification were delayed after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August.

Nixon is also actively interested in starting technical talks with Moscow on limiting the deployment of nuclear missiles as soon as he considers that the world political climate is favorable.

In the view of some Nixon advisers, however, Soviet policy on peace in the Middle East will have an important influence on the international political climate and therefore on prospects for progress in the missile negotiations.

Nixon discussed the Arab-Israeli conflict with his top military and diplomatic advisers in a three-hour meeting of the National Security Council Saturday.

Out of this meeting evidently came his final determination that the United States and the Soviet Union particularly must play key roles if the Jarring peace mission is to have any possibility of success.

In this administration's judgement, the roles the super powers can play are to bring pressure on Israel and the Arab nations to go into negotiations on the substance of the issues of peace.

Lisbon Area Wreck Blamed On Horses

LISBON — A minor accident occurred at 4:42 p.m. Saturday on Route 164 at the south edge of Lisbon when a driver stopped to avoid two children on horses.

Police said Pamela Bowser, 14, and Kim Hutcheson, 11, were riding horses when Pamela's animal "started acting up."

Douglas Schultz, 17, of Dearborn, Mich., saw the danger, stopped his northbound station wagon and tried to back to get out of the way, police said.

His vehicle was hit from behind by one driven by Harry S. Polen, 77, of the Wick Hotel, Lisbon. There was no contact between the cars and horses. No one was cited.

Drifting Car Damaged By Mishap In East End

A 1963 model two-door sedan was damaged heavily Saturday night when it drifted from the owner's driveway on Ruth St., East End, and overturned down a hillside, coming to a halt against the rear of the Thorofare Market building, police said.

The mishap damaged the roof, doors and undercarriage of the auto owned by Thomas Fredrick, officers said. Thomas Fredrick Jr., son of the owner, said he saw the car in the driveway at 9 p. m. and when he returned at 11 it had drifted over the embankment.

territorial integrity within "recognized and secure borders" and a just solution to the Palestine refugee problem.

Nasser's offer followed the lines of the U.N. Security Council's November 1967 resolution on the Middle East. But Israel refuses to give up the Arab territories—its chief bargaining card—until it has formal peace agreements with the Arab nations and until it negotiates what it considers "recognized and secure borders."

Nasser told Newsweek senior correspondent Arnaud de Borchgrave he would not guarantee to talk directly with Israel if there is withdrawal.

"But I can tell you," he added, "we sat down with the Israelis after the 1948 war under the armistice agreement until the 1956 war, and that we are prepared to do so again."

Nasser also said Egypt would restore diplomatic relations with the United States, which Egypt broke during the 1967 War, if Washington expressed disapproval of the Israeli occupation.

Time magazine reported Sunday that the Israeli Cabinet has decided to build 30 permanent fortified settlements and three new towns in occupied territory even though this would make a peace settlement with its Arab neighbors more unlikely.

Time said this reflected the thinking of Deputy Premier Yigal Allon, who believes "all intermediate arrangements of the past led to new wars. We must take no more risks with our future."

In Washington, AP Special Correspondent John M. Hightower reported that President Nixon will agree this week to a meeting on the Middle East of the Big Four's representatives on the Security Council.

Leaders of the Nixon administration believe if the United States and the Soviet Union use their influence to get active negoiations started, the peace mission of U.N. special envoy Gunnar V. Jarring might get off the ground.

The semiofficial Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram reported that Nasser met for three hours Sunday night in Cairo with Alexander Shelepin, Politburo member of the Soviet Communist party to discuss a message Shelepin brought from Kremlin party chief Leonid Brezhnev on current Middle East peace moves.

Al Ahram also said the "Palestine National Council" will form a unified military command for Arab guerrilla groups. The council, which claims to represent all segments of the Palestinian people is meeting in Cairo to draft new guidelines for unified action against Israel, the paper said.

The semiofficial Israeli newspaper Davar reported from Tel Aviv that an unidentified Soviet spokesman proposed "negotiations between Israel and the Arabs on the basis of equality, and not in a situation where Israel has the upper hand through conquest." This appared to be an offer of the direct negotiations which the Arabs have so far refused in exchange for an Israeli withdrawal.

A growing dispute between Iraq and its Arab neighbor, Syria, was underscored Sunday night when Lebanese security sources reported an Iraqi carrying two bombs was arrested Saturday at Beirut airport. They said he had papers suggesting he was bound for Syria, perhaps for an assassination attempt.

Kindly Looking Man Gets Too Much Trust

NEW DELHI (AP) — The three school girls were playing outside their school when the kindly looking young man approached them with a look of horror on his face.

Didn't they know there were bad characters and thieves all over? They should at once take off their gold ear rings. He offered to help them put them all in paper bags.

When the girls reached home, they found the paper bags were empty.

time, although the President hopes to visit Moscow later on.

Meanwhile the President is projecting action on two other fronts involving Soviet-U.S. relations.

He plans to send to the Senate this week a recommendation for early approval of the treaty to block the spread of nuclear weapons.

The United States signed the pact last year, but Senate approval and final U.S. ratification were delayed after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August.

Nixon is also actively interested in starting technical talks with Moscow on limiting the deployment of nuclear missiles as soon as he considers that the world political climate is favorable.

In the view of some Nixon advisers, however, Soviet policy on peace in the Middle East will have an important influence on the international political climate and therefore on prospects for progress in the missile negotiations.

Nixon discussed the Arab-Israeli conflict with his top military and diplomatic advisers in a three-hour meeting of the National Security Council Saturday.

Out of this meeting evidently came his final determination that the United States and the Soviet Union particularly must play key roles if the Jarring peace mission is to have any possibility of success.

In this administration's judgement, the roles the super powers can play are to bring pressure on Israel and the Arab nations to go into negotiations on the substance of the issues of peace.

Lisbon Area Wreck Blamed On Horses

LISBON — A minor accident occurred at 4:42 p.m. Saturday on Route 164 at the south edge of Lisbon when a driver stopped to avoid two children on horses.

Police said Pamela Bowser, 14, and Kim Hutcheson, 11, were riding horses when Pamela's animal "started acting up."

Douglas Schultz, 17, of Dearborn, Mich., saw the danger, stopped his northbound station wagon and tried to back to get out of the way, police said.

His vehicle was hit from behind by one driven by Harry S. Polen, 77, of the Wick Hotel, Lisbon. There was no contact between the cars and horses. No one was cited.

Drifting Car Damaged By Mishap In East End

A 1963 model two-door sedan was damaged heavily Saturday night when it drifted from the owner's driveway on Ruth St., East End, and overturned down a hillside, coming to a halt against the rear of the Thorofare Market building, police said.

The mishap damaged the roof, doors and undercarriage of the auto owned by Thomas Fredrick, officers said. Thomas Fredrick Jr., son of the owner, said he saw the car in the driveway at 9 p. m. and when he returned at 11 it had drifted over the embankment.

Motorists Fined In 12 City Cases

Twelve motorists were fined and four forfeited appearance bonds today in Municipal Court on traffic charges filed by local police and the Ohio Highway Patrol. Bench warrants were ordered for two who failed to appear.

Arnel Smith, 36, of W. 2nd St. drew the most severe penalty — a fine of $100 and costs and a 10-day County Jail sentence on a charge of driving without an operator's license. Smith was cited Jan. 27 on St. George St. In pronouncing sentence, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff noted that Smith's record shows two prior convictions of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

"You're determined to drive, despite the fact you don't have a license, and I am just as determined that you will not drive," the judge told Smith.

ROBERT F. MILLER, 19, of New Cumberland was fined $25 and costs on a charge of reckless driving. He was cited Saturday at 2:53 a.m. on E. 3rd St. by Patrolman David Huffman, who reported Miller's auto slid sideways in passing another vehicle.

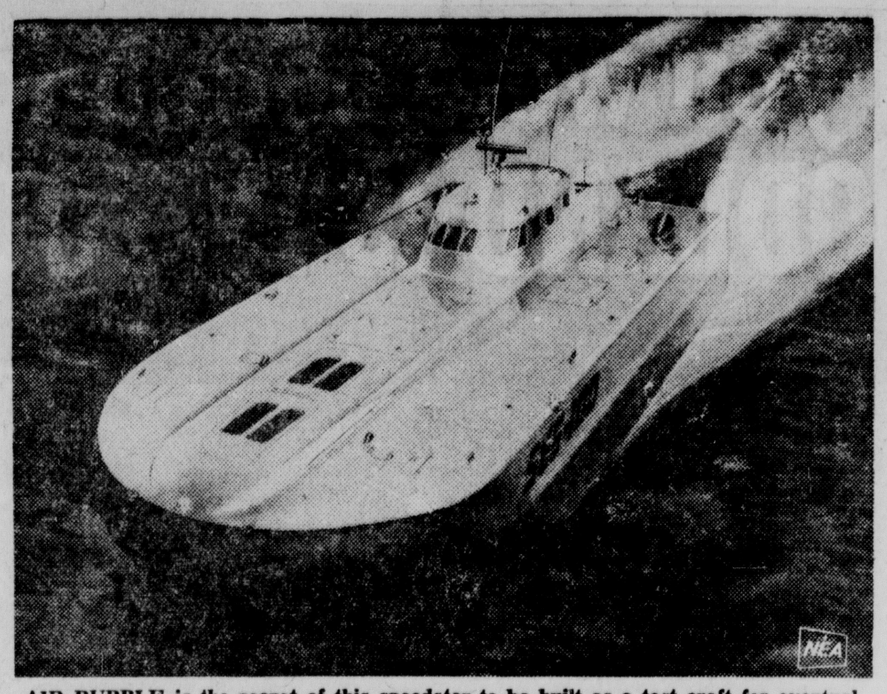
Dimes Drive Nets $2,412

A total of $2,412 was collected for the March of Dimes by volunteers canvassing the East Liverpool and surrounding areas last week, Mrs. Pansy I. Ice, chairman, said. All the money has not been turned in, she added.

Mrs. Ice said collections in the various sections were: Calcutta $381; LaCroft $102: Dixonville $34; Glenmoor $467; McKinley $270; Walker $19; Downtown $72; Pleasant Heights $154; Fisher Park $57; Radio Heights $29; West End $83; Northside including Beechwood $48; Grant $89; Lincoln $127; Taft $223, and East End, including Klondyke, Neville, Horace Mann and Garfield areas, $260.

Mrs. Ice thanked the volunteers and the local residents who, she said, "contributed both time and money to make a successful drive."

The Black Sea is nearly landlocked, with only a narrow, shallow outlet entering the Mediterranean Sea.



AIR BUBBLE is the secret of this speedster to be built as a test craft for eventual ocean transports. Called a Surface Effect Ship, it literally rides on a bubble created by lift fans forcing air beneath the hull, reducing drag. The theoretical result will be unheard of water speeds of up to 80 knots—92 m.p.h. that 26 million new homes will be needed in the United States over the next decade, Romney, however, said "I don't think the programs that we have at present will achieve these goals." He indicated his agency hopes to come up with new ways to meet the shortage.

Another Council staff member, presidential assistant Daniel P. Moynihan, indicated Sunday that welfare payments should continue as a way to help solve urban problems.

Welfare payments should not be considered handouts, he said, but investments that will help make the nation stable, prosperous and happy.

Moynihan, a sociologist before being appointed a Nixon aide, also called for an end to the nation's unemployment. He said his views on the jobless rate were his own nad not necessarily those of the White House.

Romney was interviewed on NBC's TV-radio program, "Meet the Press," and Moynihan appeared on the "Evans-Novak Report" of Metromedia television.

In other presidential activity Sunday, the White House worship services drew about 250 persons, many of them congressional leaders.

Department supervise the election balloting and counting.

Narick told the labor secretary that, in his campaign across the country, numerous members of the steelworkers union had cautioned him that it would be difficult to get a fair election.

"In months to come," Abel told his audiences at the three rallies in the Beaver Valley area, "when there will be hearings on anti-labor legislation, already introduced, you'll find individuals standing on the floor of the Senate of the United States quoting from this letter as justification coming from a trade unionist seekng the highest office our union has to offer."

The Narick appeal was held up to the steelworkers as a slur on the union's officers and election tellers and as fodder for a political party that the union worked hard to defeat.

Meeting with newsmen between rallies, Abel said that Narick's letter created an entirely different situation than when the union's three international tellers requested government observers during the tabulation of preliminary endorsement of candidates in December.

ABEL TOLD newsmen that Narick was free to install his own observors at any ballot box anywhere in the United States and Canada on the day of the election.

The USW president said he definitely would have his own observers at some of the union's 3,700 polling places, especially in the Pittsburgh area.

Narick's major strength is believed by many to lie in that area, headquarters of the steelworkers' international office.

Abel also told newsmen that Narick had been moved from the union's legal department to its contract department because there was a definite need for him there and not as punishment for seeking the union's presidency.

Abel added that Narick, contrary to the lawyer's claim, never was assistant legal council, "but apparently Mr. McDonald made a job for him in the union when Arthur Goldberg (former union general council) refused to have Narick in his department."

Abel said union people have to work where they can do the most good and not where they want to work.

Meanwhile, Narick, told an audience of some 125 USW members that he is seeking to oust incumbent Abel and to return the union to its members.

The hurriedly - called meeting was set up to give him an opportunity to reply to "lies" that Narick supporters claim have been circulated by the Abel camp — particularly about alleged Republican financing of the Narick candidacy.

Rhodes Will Address Assembly Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes will deliver his State of the State message to the Legislature at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Details have not been released, but the governor is expected to outline several programs he believes should be completed in the final two years of his term.

The major item on the agenda is expected to be education, with emphasis on a wide-ranging program of vocational and technical training.

Sirhan And Mother Due On Stand Tuesday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Defense attorneys say they expect to put Sirhan Bishara Sirhan and his mother on the stand Tuesday when the 24-year-old Jordanian's murder trial resumes after a four-day recess.

The break was ordered by Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker to permit the defense and prosecution to prepare arguments on a challenge to the grand jury's indictment of Sirhan for the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

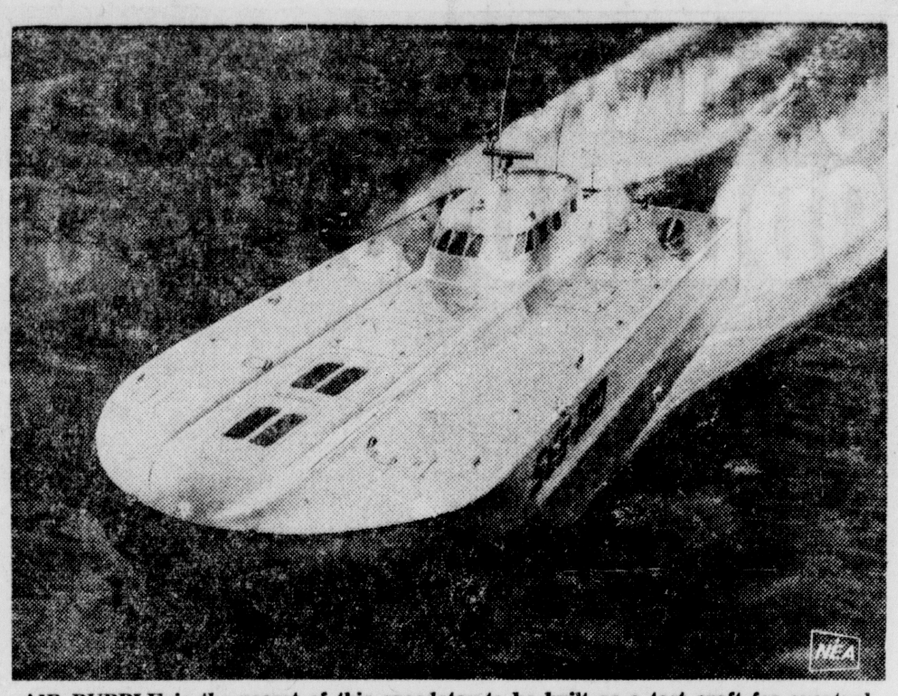
Dimes Drive Nets $2,412

A total of $2,412 was collected for the March of Dimes by volunteers canvassing the East Liverpool and surrounding areas last week, Mrs. Pansy I. Ice, chairman, said. All the money has not been turned in, she added.

Mrs. Ice said collections in the various sections were: Calcutta $381; LaCroft $102: Dixonville $34; Glenmoor $467; McKinley $270; Walker $19; Downtown $72; Pleasant Heights $154; Fisher Park $57; Radio Heights $29; West End $83; Northside including Beechwood $48; Grant $89; Lincoln $127; Taft $223, and East End, including Klondyke, Neville, Horace Mann and Garfield areas, $260.

Mrs. Ice thanked the volunteers and the local residents who, she said, "contributed both time and money to make a successful drive."

The Black Sea is nearly landlocked, with only a narrow, shallow outlet entering the Mediterranean Sea.



AIR BUBBLE is the secret of this speedster to be built as a test craft for eventual ocean transports. Called a Surface Effect Ship, it literally rides on a bubble created by lift fans forcing air beneath the hull, reducing drag. The theoretical result will be unheard of water speeds of up to 80 knots—92 m.p.h. Artist's sketch shows the 100-ton test craft Bell Aerosystems of Buffalo, N.Y. is building under Maritime Administration contract.

that 26 million new homes will be needed in the United States over the next decade, Romney, however, said "I don't think the programs that we have at present will achieve these goals." He indicated his agency hopes to come up with new ways to meet the shortage.

Another Council staff member, presidential assistant Daniel P. Moynihan, indicated Sunday that welfare payments should continue as a way to help solve urban problems.

Welfare payments should not be considered handouts, he said, but investments that will help make the nation stable, prosperous and happy.

Moynihan, a sociologist before being appointed a Nixon aide, also called for an end to the nation's unemployment. He said his views on the jobless rate were his own nad not necessarily those of the White House.

Romney was interviewed on NBC's TV-radio program, "Meet the Press," and Moynihan appeared on the "Evans-Novak Report" of Metromedia television.

Abel

Department supervise the election balloting and counting.

Narick told the labor secretary that, in his campaign across the country, numerous members of the steelworkers union had cautioned him that it would be difficult to get a fair election.

"In months to come," Abel told his audiences at the three rallies in the Beaver Valley area, "when there will be hearings on anti-labor legislation, already introduced, you'll find individuals standing on the floor of the Senate of the United States quoting from this letter as justification coming from a trade unionist seekng the highest office our union has to offer."

The Narick appeal was held up to the steelworkers as a slur on the union's officers and election tellers and as fodder for a political party that the union worked hard to defeat.

Meeting with newsmen between rallies, Abel said that Narick's letter created an entirely different situation than when the union's three international tellers requested government observers during the tabulation of preliminary endorsement of candidates in December.

ABEL TOLD newsmen that Narick was free to install his own observors at any ballot box anywhere in the United States and Canada on the day of the election.

The USW president said he definitely would have his own observers at some of the union's 3,700 polling places, especially in the Pittsburgh area.

Narick's major strength is believed by many to lie in that area, headquarters of the steelworkers' international office.

Abel also told newsmen that Narick had been moved from the union's legal department to its contract department because there was a definite need for him there and not as punishment for seeking the union's presidency.

Abel added that Narick, contrary to the lawyer's claim, never was assistant legal council, "but apparently Mr. McDonald made a job for him in the union when Arthur Goldberg (former union general council) refused to have Narick in his department."

Abel said union people have to work where they can do the most good and not where they want to work.

Meanwhile, Narick, told an audience of some 125 USW members that he is seeking to oust incumbent Abel and to return the union to its members.

The hurriedly - called meeting was set up to give him an opportunity to reply to "lies" that Narick supporters claim have been circulated by the Abel camp — particularly about alleged Republican financing of the Narick candidacy.

Rhodes Will Address Assembly Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes will deliver his State of the State message to the Legislature at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Details have not been released, but the governor is expected to outline several programs he believes should be completed in the final two years of his term.

The major item on the agenda is expected to be education, with emphasis on a wide-ranging program of vocational and technical training.

Sirhan And Mother Due On Stand Tuesday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Defense attorneys say they expect to put Sirhan Bishara Sirhan and his mother on the stand Tuesday when the 24-year-old Jordanian's murder trial resumes after a four-day recess.

The break was ordered by Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker to permit the defense and prosecution to prepare arguments on a challenge to the grand jury's indictment of Sirhan for the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The DOCTOR Says

Infant Breath Holding Is Common

Breath holding, associated with crying, is so common in infants that it no longer causes much concern in either physician or parent even though the child becomes blue in the face and momentarily loses consciousn e s s. Such episodes require no special treatment and usually disappear before the child is five years old.

Dr. Brandstadt

PARENTS DO, however, become alarmed when during breath holding a child has convulsive movements. A recent study has shown that these attacks are not related to or forerunners of epilepsy. It does appear, though, that breath holding runs in families and may be hereditary.

In one group of breath holders, the face became blanched instead of purple. These children were found to be anemic and the breath holding epsodies became less frequent when the anemia was treated.

Q — My granddaughter, 6, has difficulty talking. The doctor says she has aphasia. What causes this? Can anything be done to help her?

A — Difficulty in talking may be due to aphasia caused by a developmental defect in the brain or it may be due to psychological reasons. Speech therapy is helpful in some children. The results depend on the cause and degree of the underlying defect.

Q—We have a son, 7, who ly at 2½. A diagnosis of asphasthen stopped talking completely at 2½. A dagnosis of aphasia was made. Later an electroencephalogram showed petit mal epilepsy. He is taking Dilantin. He attends an aphasic class at a special school and is in second grade. He still makes no effort to speak but has not had any petit mal attacks for over a year. Would the Dilantin affect his ability to talk?

A — It is important for your doctor or a neurologist to determine the cause of your son's aphasia. Dilantn is highly recommended for the control of epilepsy and is not the cause of the aphasia.

Q — My 4-month-old son has had a loose cough since birth. He is gaining weight and doing well. Our doctor says he has a loose voice box and should outgrow this conditon by the time he is one. What do you think?

A — A loose cough with a crowing or rattling sound is often due to a flabby epiglottis. In such cases, these symptoms gradually disappear by about one year of age, as your doctor predicted.

Task Of Trimming $2.52 Billion

Pennsylvania Legislature Tackles Shafer's Budget

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania legislature, where there are more Democrats than Republicans, this week begins the task of trimming Republican Gov. Shafer's record $2.52 billion budget.

Exactly how much they hope to cut is uncertain, although some Democrats are talking in the $75 million range.

Democrats and Republicans alike would like to find enough "fat" in the spending program to forestall enactment of an income tax.

BUT while some have suggested areas here and there were a few million dollars might be cut, nobody has come up with a boning suggestion that would surmount the 25 per cent spending increase Shafer envisioned.

Democrats will have one thing going for them this week they were without last week when Shafer outlined his budget.

House Speaker Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia, is to return to his chair today. He was absent last week, taking medical tests in Philadelphia. Doctors said the tests were negative, but ordered Fineman to take a week off.

House Democrats, who are in the majority this year, expect to inject a legislative needle into Shafer right off the bat today with a so-called Freedom of Information bill.

WE expect to pass the bill on Monday, unless there is something technically wrong with it," said Majority Leader K. Leroy Irvis, D-Allegheny. "We expect some Republican opposition because the bill is specifically aimed at the lack of cooperation by the Shafer administration."

Coming us Tuesday, Irvis said are new House rules, aimed at modernizing and liberalizing procedures. They were slated to come up for a vote last week, but Republicans and some Democrats asked for more time to study them.

The Democrats believe the proposed changes would end the "life-and-death grip" that committee chairmen hold on bills.

The House takes its first crack at the Shafer budget Wednesday, while the Senate, where the Republicans hold the edge, isn't expected to start hearings until mid-month.

THE House Appropriations Committee, chaired by Rep. Martin P. Mullen, D-Philadelphia, gets first shot, with Mullen predicting in advance that at least $75 million could be cut.

However, Mullen proposed that this amount be added to the outlay for aid for nonpublic schools. He said these schools are facing financial crises, adding: "Common sense will tell anyone that it's cheaper to keep children in the nonpublic schools than have them transfer to the public schools . . ."

He estimated there are about 600,000 children in nonpublic schools and said that a $75 million outlay would amount to about $125 per pupil and represent a saving of $625 per pupil.

Will Do 'What Has To Be Done'

Hickel Promises Action In California's Oil Slick

(AP) — As westward winds pushed a spreading ocean oil slick away from Southern California beaches, Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel arrived saying he'll do "what has to be done."

"I'm not here making any charges," Hickel said Sunday night after a flight from Washington, "only to do for the general welfare what has to be done." He has been under pressure by conservation groups to halt any damage to wildlife, fish and beaches.

Hickel was expected to take charge of the six-day-old battle to cap the undersea well and disperse an estimated 126,000 gallons of floating oil.

Several government agencies were working with Union Oil Co., which drilled the well under a federal lease, in efforts to avoid heavy loss of sea life and major damage to $2,000-per-foot beachfront property.

The prospects "appear encouraging" if there is no sudden shift in weather, the Coast Guard said Sunday. Some of the oil was moving into open sea.

Under contract to Union Oil, a private company erected floating plastic fences in an effort to catch the heaviest accumulation of oil between the mainland and a drilling platform.

The plastic material, weighted with sand, was in the form of a big "V" just east of the platform on which oil crews worked to seal off the underground pressure responsible for the leak flowing at 21,000 gallons a day. Other crews were drilling a second hole from a rig 1,000 feet away to reduce the pressure.

South of Anacapa Island, heavy oil extended for a half-mile. A few light slicks drifted to within 100 yards of Capinteria State Park beach south of here, and fingers of oil reached land.

Conservationists said they feared thousands of sea birds were fatally smeared with oil, which they eat while preening their feathers. California Fish and Game Department spokesmen said 70 oil-smeared birds had been taken to special centers for treatment and that 47 of these survived.

Fred Hartley, Union Oil's president, told newsmen that drilling mud would be pumped into the ruptured well shaft to seal it. "I think it will take two or three weeks," he said.

The 3,500-foot-deep shaft six miles off Santa Barbara ruptured last Tuesday when a drilling crew was withdrawing pipe.

NAACP Installs Officers

Arthur E. Peters was installed as president of the East Liverpool Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People during a ceremony Saturday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

He succeeds his father, Caesar Peters.

The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury Jr., rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, installed the officers.

Richard Carter was master of ceremonies.

THE EXERCISES opened with the audience singing "Jesus Keeps Me Nearer the Cross," followed with invocation by the Rev. Paul Randall of the Emmanuel United Presbyterian Church. Miss Sharon Allen presented a solo and the Men's Choir of the Second Baptist Church, assisted by Byron Carter and Richard Carter, sang. Mrs. Ann Pack was accompanist.

The program closed with the singing of "We Shall Overcome."

During a business meeting which followed, the new president outlined his policies, and declared, "I am not a militant person, but I will not turn the other cheek."

Chairmen appointed by Arthur Peters include Clyde Christian, political action; Alonzo Spencer, employment; Rev. Randall, education; Mrs. Dorothy Peters, life membership, and Mrs. Rosalee Spencer, Freedom Fund. Chairman for the legal redress committee will be named at a later date, Peters said.

Mrs. Dorothy Peters reported on the Christmas seal drive, which has realized $84 to date. Others who have not mailed their donations are asked to do so.

FATHER AND SON. Caesar Peters, left, retiring president, extends congratulations to his son, Arthur E. Peters, who was installed Saturday night as the new head of the East Liverpool NAACP.

IT WAS announced that Negro History Week will be observed next Sunday through Feb. 16. Tapes of various Negro personalities will be played over WOHI during the week's observance. A five-member committee will be heard over Bee-Line on Feb. 11, including the new president, Spencer, Mrs. Margaret Peters, Edna Browne and James Martin.

The education committee, headed by Rev. Randall, will meet with the board of education tonight for a continued discussion on integrated subject matters.

Communications were read and tabled for further study. Guests included four members of the Youth Citizens for Total Aiction — Sharon Allen, Toni Carter, Rose Browne and Pam Jones.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be March 1.

Steel Expects Little Relief From Quotas

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The nation's steelworkers, concerned about increasing competiton from foreign producers, expect little relief to come from proposed voluntary import quotas, Steel magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly said domestic producers are in general agreement that unless quotas can be enforced the effort to reduce imports of steel will fail.

"One producer observes that already there is talk that some foreign steelmakers are considering increasing exports to the United States of higher priced specialty steels to offset the expected sag in dollar volume from quotas on lower priced products," Steel reported.

On the domestic scene, with liquidation of strike - hedge inventories nearing completion, orders are picking up, Steel said.

"The trend is expected to gain momentum as the first quarter advances and more users find it necessary to protect strong manufacturing schedules with new steel supplies."

Products in strongest demand include semifinished, reinfrocing bars, rails, sheets, plates, structurals, wire rods and tin plate.

Raw steel production continues to rise, with output for the week ended Feb. 1 estimated at 2,625,000 net tons, up 1.9 per cent from the preceding week.

Follansbee Man Killed As Cars Hit In Weirton

WEIRTON — A Follansbee man was injured fatally and two others were hospitalized in a three - car accident Saturday at 1 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. about 200 feet west of North 10th St.

Four others were treated and released from Weirton General Hospital for minor injuries.

Donald Lester Sole, 30, of 1317 West St., Follansbee, was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital from multiple injuries.

Admitted and listed "satisfactory" were Mrs. Patience Mackey, 32, of 122 Mason St., Weirton, and Warren Waller, 22, of Walker Manor, Colliers.

Treated and released were Cindy Mackey, 9, of 122 Mason St., her 6-year-old sister Rebecca and her 12-year-old brother Douglas. Mrs. Freda Garlick, 42, of 101 Victor St., Weirton also was treated.

Mr. Sole was a passenger in the Waller vehicle. Drivers of the other two cars involved were Lester Mackey, 39, of 122 Mason St. and Charles E. Garlick, 43, of 101 Victor St.

Police said the Waller vehicle was eastbound on Pennsylvania Ave. in the center lane when the driver apparently lost control of the auto and hit the westbound Garlick auto in the rear. The Waller car then ran off the right side of the roadway and into an embankment.

Merger Plans Are Set By Cincinnati Firms

CINCINNATI (AP) — The United States Playing Card Co. will merge shortly with the Diamond International Corp. in a stock exchange involving more than $70 million, officials of both companies said Sunday.

Details of the merger are to be announced later at a shareholder's meeting here.

U. S. Playing Card, headquartered in suburban Norwood, was founded in 1894 and recorded $21.04 million in sales for 1967. Diamond International owns the U.S. Printing & Lithographing Co. and the Heekin Can Co., both based here.

According to one report, combined sales of the two merging firms would approach $500 million annually.

Named To Sales Post

PITTSBURGH — Robert B. Sanders has been appointed assistant district sales manager of the New York office of the National Steel Corp. Sanders began his National Steel employment at the Weirton Steel Division in 1959 as a sales trainee.

7 Area Residents Injured During Traffic Accidents

Seven area residents were injured in three traffic accidents during the weekend, with one motorist being admitted to City Hospital.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Robert Lockhart, 17, of 146 N. Surrey Rd. lost control of his 1965 compact car on a curve on Route 267, a mile and a half south of the Y. & O. Rd. Sunday at 1 p. m., and it struck a utility pole.

Lockhart was treated for lacerations of the mouth and was admitted to City Hospital. He was listed "satisfactory" this morning.

A passenger, Raymond Hicks, 15, of 163 S. Surrey Rd., was treated for abrasions and lacerations of the left wrist and knee and released.

Lockhart was cited for speeding.

FOUR PERSONS were treated at Salem City Hospital following an accident on Route 7, about a half-mile south of the Mahoning County line at 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

Marjorie M. Crum, 35, of New Springfield had halted her 1960 compact station wagon for a stop sign and then as she preceded into the intresection her car was struck by a northbound 1968 sedan operated by Robert W. Lord, 42, of Summit Dr., RD 2.

The Crum auto then slid north and struck a halted vehicle belonging to Carl E. Dutch, 53, of Columbiana RD 2.

Injured were passengers in the Lord vehicle. Mrs. Lord suffered lacerations of the forehead, a daughter Rebecca was treated for abrasions of the right leg and a son Richard apparently was not injured, but was examined.

Susan Barbaree, 15, of 540 Broadview Circle was treated for a minor injury to the left side. All were released.

Alice A. Crum, 9, of New Springfield was also injured and taken to Salem City Hospital.

Mrs. Crum was cited for having no operator's license and for failure to yield the right-of-way.

ANOTHER East Liverpool resident was injured in an accident on Route 154, about three miles east of Lisbon at 9:30 p. m. Saturday.

Richard A. Price, 17, of 405 Ogden St., failed to negotiate a curve and his 1961 compact went off the road, striking an embankment.

Price was treated at Salem Central Clinic for a whiplash injury. A passenger, Jack Jones, 22, of 1020 Riverview St. complained of injuries, but apparently was not treated.

Queen Crowning Takes Place At Game In Lisbon

LISBON — Mary Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kennedy of 54 North St., was crowned 1968-69 basketball queen Saturday night at David Anderson High School.

The honor was the second in two months for the brunette majorette. She won the Columbiana County 1969 "Junior Miss" title Dec. 1 at a pageant in East Liverpool.

James Courtney, team captain, crowned Miss Kennedy at a dance following the Lisbon-United game. The four senior candidates and their escorts were introduced at halftime, but the queen was not announced until the dance. Miss Kennedy was escorted by William Farmer.

Her attendants and their escorts were Kimberly Brinker and Randy Muntean, Nancy Gallo and Harry Fowler and Margaret Ieropoli and Tom Haught.

Agreements Seen Near On Mullins Debts

SALEM — Agreements to settle debts of the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. and have the C. M. Hall Lamp Co. of Detroit acquire the big firm are nearly complete.

"We're very optimistic," says Harry D. Hirsch of Canfield, president of both Mullins and Hall.

"It's not consummated; there are a few steps left, but we think we're going ahead," he announced Saturday.

Last June, Hall Lamp obtained a six-month option to buy 76 per cent of the 11.7 million shares of Mullins stock. That option has been extended to March 26. Hall, a 60-year-old Detroit firm which produces automotive parts, obtained control by buying stock from the J.M.L. Trading Corp. of Youngstown.

Mullins, Salem's second largest employer with over 600 on its payroll, was in financial straits when Hirsch took over as Mullins' president and board chairman.

A creditors' committee was formed last June and has been working on a proposal by Hirsch to settle all debts and put Mullins on a sound basis financially. Mullins had sales of over $10 million last year, and Hirsch has predicted sales of better than $11 million this year.

The proposal by the creditors' committee and Hirsch to get Hall Lamp in the driver's seat of a financially stable Mullins Corp. called for approval by at least 95 per cent of the creditors, who hold paper worth about $1.5 million.

Hirsch said the 95 per cent acceptance had not been reached, but indicated it is very close.

Recently suits in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon seeking about $125,000 were settled. They had been filed against Mullins by Dempsey and Associates of Cleveland and the Garvin Corp. of Cincinnati for supplies.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

'Sunday' Hangers Used

DEAR HELOISE: For mothers with little ones to get ready for Sunday School each week . . . I make sure all Sunday clothes are in the first wash of the week.

Heloise

I use hangers with clips on them and also extra clip-type clothespins. As I iron and gather things from my dryer, a complete outfit goes on each "Sunday" hanger such as, underwear, socks, white shirt, handkerchief in the pocket, and even the dime for Sunday School offering.

Later when the boys undress, the trousers and coat go back on one hanger, and after I launder the other items, they are placed in the closet on a second hanger next to the coat and pants.

On Sunday mornings it is quite simple for my three boys to dress themselves without calling for mother.

JANET READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought a small "glue-on" towel rack and attached it to the door on the inside of my sewing machine.

Now, when it stands open, I can hang the various parts of the garment I am stitching on this rod. It is very convenient.

SEAMSTRESS.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm sure everyone has put fish or something in the refrigerator and forgotten about it. Then opened the door to a horrible odor.

It dawned on me the other day that if one could strike a kitchen match to neutralize unpleasant odors in a room, that the same thing could be done in the refrigerator.

After removing the spoiled fish, I struck some matches and held them in my refrigerator as long as I could. The odor left immediately. You should also wash the inside walls and plastic gasket of the refrig.

B. M. M.

And just why wouldn't it work? After all, an odor is an odor—anywhere.

DEAR HELOISE: The little knob on my girdle supporter was missing.

Without thinking how funny it was, I grabbed the aspirin bottle and put a pill under my stocking where the knob should have been.

Hooked it up and it stayed all evening.

EMMA FISHER.

You sure solved that headache in a hurry!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Sometimes when my cookies burn on the bottom, I use the finest part of my grater to remove the burned part after they are cool.

It sure makes a "smooth" job!

MRS. B. D. SILMER.

DEAR HELOISE: We live in an area of extremely hard water. After battling water spots on our tile for three years, I have finally found a solution.

I simply dilute one-part liquid fabric softener with one-part water. Put this in a spray bottle, squirt and rub it on the walls and polish with a soft cloth.

This not only removes my water spots, but also makes it easier to keep my tile clean.

MRS. L. J. COOK.

DEAR HELOISE: Before washing a wool sweater, I lay an old, folded sheet on my carpet, shape the sweater on it and draw the outline of the sweater with a pencil.

After I have hand-washed the sweater in a commercial product, I put it in my automatic washer and turn it to "spin dry." When the water is all wrung out, I remove it, shape it and then pin it onto the outline I have drawn on the sheet.

I use this same outline each time and the sweater is always the same size with little work and no measuring at all.

It saves her from running to the store and serves as an excellent substitute.

Jump Declines Post As Insurance Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In a surprise move, Harry V. Jump of Willard has declined his appointment as state insurance superintendent, and Gov. James A. Rhodes Sunday named Fred B. Smith of Columbus to the post.

Jump asked Rhodes in a letter to rescind the appointment because he doubted that his action as a senator in approving general pay increases for state employes in 1967 made him eligible to serve by appointment in an office subject to Senate confirmation.

Smith, currently the department's deputy director, will receive $24,960 annually in the new job. Rhodes said Jump will be named deputy director at $15,600 a year.

Arraignment Set In Bank Robbery

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Arraignment is set Thursday for Mary Elizabeth Lucas of Utica, N.Y., on an accessory charge in connection with a $16,000 bank robbery in Toledo, Ohio, last Dec. 16.

FBI agents arrested Mrs. Lucas Friday night and charged her with being an accessory after the fact in the holdup of the Manhattan-Stickney branch of the Toledo Trust Co.

She appeared before U.S. Commissioner Robert W. Arthur in Rome, N.Y., and was held in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Three armed men held up the bank office and two were apprehended while trying to get away. One was wounded in a shootout with Toledo police.

The third man, still sought, was Kenneth A. Jones, Mrs. Lucas' brother, according to Leo E. Conroy, agent in charge of the FBI office here.

He said two women were in the car in which Jones escaped.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

'Sunday' Hangers Used

DEAR HELOISE: For mothers with little ones to get ready for Sunday School each week . . . I make sure all Sunday clothes are in the first wash of the week.

Heloise

I use hangers with clips on them and also extra clip-type clothespins.

As I iron and gather things from my dryer, a complete outfit goes on each "Sunday" hanger such as, underwear, socks, white shirt, handkerchief in the pocket, and even the dime for Sunday School offering.

Later when the boys undress, the trousers and coat go back on one hanger, and after I launder the other items, they are placed in the closet on a second hanger next to the coat and pants.

On Sunday mornings it is quite simple for my three boys to dress themselves without calling for mother.

JANET READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought a small "glue-on" towel rack and attached it to the door on the inside of my sewing machine.

Now, when it stands open, I can hang the various parts of the garment I am stitching on this rod. It is very convenient.

SEAMSTRESS.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm sure everyone has put fish or something in the refrigerator and forgotten about it. Then opened the door to a horrible odor.

It dawned on me the other day that if one could strike a kitchen match to neutralize unpleasant odors in a room, that the same thing could be done in the refrigerator.

After removing the spoiled fish, I struck some matches and held them in my refrigerator as long as I could. The odor left immediately. You should also wash the inside walls and plastic gasket of the refrig.

B. M. M.

And just why wouldn't it work? After all, an odor is an odor—anywhere.

DEAR HELOISE: The little knob on my girdle supporter was missing.

Without thinking how funny it was, I grabbed the aspirin bottle and put a pill under my stocking where the knob should have been.

Hooked it up and it stayed all evening.

EMMA FISHER.

Set Up Office In Barracks

Pueblo Crewmen Ship's Company Without A Ship

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — "Bucher's Bastards" are a ship's company without a ship. It feels a little strange to the men, but they're trying to operate like a ship's crew anyway.

Their intelligence ship, captured last year by North Korea, is in the Communist country.

In their two-story stucco barracks at the North Island Naval Air Station, the 81 men of the USS Pueblo set up a ship's office in a small room.

Adjacent are offces for the skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, and the executive officer, Lt. Edward R. Murphy Jr., who are appearing at a court of inquiry into the capture, which s being held at an Amphibious training school nearby.

Murphy takes the stand in an open session today, after testimony from Rear Adm. George L. Cassell, chief of staff for operations for the commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet during the capture of the Pueblo by North Koreans.

Cassell follows Lt. Stephen R. Harris, who was in charge of the Pueblo's intelligence section. The Navy said Harris' testimony would be secret in the interest of national defense.

Meanwhile, CWO Gene Howard Lacy, 38, of Seattle, Wash., says, "We're trying to take over our files and assume the duties of a ship's crew as much as possible.

"Of course, we don't have a ship, so our only real duties are cleaning up the dormitories and a fire watch and a phone watch set in each dormitory."

North Koreans freed the Pueblo's 82 men last December, along with the body of the 83rd crewman, who was killed during the capture. But they kept the Pueblo.

Being a ship's company without a ship is strange, says Lacy, "but we've felt strange that way for the last year. It's not like being on a ship, and it never will be."

Except for leave and liberty, which are generous, the men will remain in their barracks near the court of inquiry until its proceedings are complete—at least another three weeks.

Some of them have dubbed themselves "Bucher's Bastards," in a show of loyalty to their skipper during his appearances before the court.

"Dear captain," they wrote him on a piece of Pueblo stationery, "We've made it this far together, and we'll finish it together. (signed) Bucher's Bastards."

Some crew members, like Murphy and Lt. Harris, have homes in the Coronado-San Diego area. They have been getting overnight and weekend liberty to be with their families.

So has Bucher, but he hasn't seen much of his wife and two teen-age sons. He remains until midnight sometimes in his barracks office.

"The biggest job we have as a ship's company is to try to answer the letters and the telegrams we've received," says Lacy. "We've probably gotten 7,000 pieces of mail.

Not all of the crewmen spend their time in the ship's office. Some are putting together a cruise book.

Others attend lectures for the crew given almost daily. Some are on veteran's benefits, for those awaiting discharge. Others are on traffic safety, which Lacy says "is a big problem for someout out of the country for awhile."

Some crewmen have visited restaurants, theaters and a sports arena on free invitations. Thrty crewmen rode on a lighter-than-air balloon.

Eleven took on the Fleet Air Control and Surveillance team in a football game—and lost 19-0. "Just give us a little more time," said Pueblo Quartermaster Charles Law.

Carney Takes Leave Of Absence From US

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Saying that he wanted to "stave off any charge of conflict of interest," State Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Mahoning, has taken a leave of absence from his post as staff representative of District 26, United Steelworkers of America.

Carney also cited his added responsibilities as the new Senate minority leader.

Dr. Fraser Will Head County's Cancer Drive

Dr. John A. Fraser of East Liverpool has been named chairman of the Columbiana County Cancer drive in April.

The goal is $26,680.

Chairmen for the various townships and districts will be announced next month, according to Mrs. Jayne Calhoun, executive secretary of the Columbiana County chapter.

Dr. Fraser organized the county chapter of the American Cancer Society in 1945 and has served as county chairman for all except the last four years. Jack Cohen, East Palestine, city solicitor, was chairman in 1967 and 1968. Galen Greenisen of Salem, former county commissioner, served in 1965 and 1966.

Dr. Fraser, a native of Madison Township and a graduate of East Liverpool schools, has been a practicing physician for more than 40 years. He has taken an active part in community affairs and is a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

3,200 Westinghouse Workers Set Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some 3,200 employes of Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s transportation and generator division are set to strike today over a series of grievances.

Paul Carmichael, president of Local 601, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, said some 2,700 workers voted Sunday to join 500 members who walked off their jobs Jan. 22.

He said he will call for a total walkout at the East Pittsburgh plant, which has 7,500 workers, "if there is no movement on the part of management to settle the grievances."

Set Up Office In Barracks

Pueblo Crewmen Ship's Company Without A Ship

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — "Bucher's Bastards" are a ship's company without a ship. It feels a little strange to the men, but they're trying to operate like a ship's crew anyway.

Their intelligence ship, captured last year by North Korea, is in the Communist country.

In their two-story stucco barracks at the North Island Naval Air Station, the 81 men of the USS Pueblo set up a ship's office in a small room.

Adjacent are offces for the skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, and the executive officer, Lt. Edward R. Murphy Jr., who are appearing at a court of inquiry into the capture, which s being held at an Amphibious training school nearby.

Murphy takes the stand in an open session today, after testimony from Rear Adm. George L. Cassell, chief of staff for operations for the commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet during the capture of the Pueblo by North Koreans.

Cassell follows Lt. Stephen R. Harris, who was in charge of the Pueblo's intelligence section. The Navy said Harris' testimony would be secret in the interest of national defense.

Meanwhile, CWO Gene Howard Lacy, 38, of Seattle, Wash., says, "We're trying to take over our files and assume the duties of a ship's crew as much as possible.

"Of course, we don't have a ship, so our only real duties are cleaning up the dormitories and a fire watch and a phone watch set in each dormitory."

North Koreans freed the Pueblo's 82 men last December, along with the body of the 83rd crewman, who was killed during the capture. But they kept the Pueblo.

Being a ship's company without a ship is strange, says Lacy, "but we've felt strange that way for the last year. It's not like being on a ship, and it never will be."

Except for leave and liberty, which are generous, the men will remain in their barracks near the court of inquiry until its proceedings are complete—at least another three weeks.

Some of them have dubbed themselves "Bucher's Bastards," in a show of loyalty to their skipper during his appearances before the court.

"Dear captain," they wrote him on a piece of Pueblo stationery, "We've made it this far together, and we'll finish it together. (signed) Bucher's Bastards."

Some crew members, like Murphy and Lt. Harris, have homes in the Coronado-San Diego area. They have been getting overnight and weekend liberty to be with their families.

So has Bucher, but he hasn't seen much of his wife and two teen-age sons. He remains until midnight sometimes in his barracks office.

"The biggest job we have as a ship's company is to try to answer the letters and the telegrams we've received," says Lacy. "We've probably gotten 7,000 pieces of mail.

Not all of the crewmen spend their time in the ship's office. Some are putting together a cruise book.

Others attend lectures for the crew given almost daily. Some are on veteran's benefits, for those awaiting discharge. Others are on traffic safety, which Lacy says "is a big problem for someout out of the country for awhile."

Some crewmen have visited restaurants, theaters and a sports arena on free invitations. Thrty crewmen rode on a lighter-than-air balloon.

Eleven took on the Fleet Air Control and Surveillance team in a football game—and lost 19-0. "Just give us a little more time," said Pueblo Quartermaster Charles Law.

3,200 Westinghouse Workers Se. Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some 3,200 employes of Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s transportation and generator division are set to strike today over a series of grievances.

Paul Carmichael, president of Local 601, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, said some 2,700 workers voted Sunday to join 500 members who walked off their jobs Jan. 22.

He said he will call for a total walkout at the East Pittsburgh plant, which has 7,500 workers, "if there is no movement on the part of management to settle the grievances."

HHH Voices Skepticism About ABM Deployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the Johnson administration approved a U.S. missile defense to "quicken the interest of the Soviet Union" in strategic arms negotiations.

"I have always been skeptical in my own mind about the security value of deploying an ABM (antiballistic missile) system," Humphrey says in an introductory to a report on the missile shield controversy.

"I share the reservations stated by Secretary (Robert S.) McNamara when he announced the ABM deployment in 1967.

"At the same time, I understood the reasons why the President felt the preparations for a limited deployment might quicken the interest of the Soviet Union in meaningful negotiations on the strategic arms race, provided we place top priority on the urgent necessity of reaching an agreement on the ABM issue," Humphrey stated.

In major pronouncements, mainly by McNamara, the Johnson administration insisted the antimissile defense was designed to guard against the threat of a nuclear-armed Red China in the 1970s.

Critics of the system now being built, the $5.5 billion Sentinel defense, have contended, however, that it is merely first step toward a $40 billion anti-Soviet shield.

Time and again Humphrey spoke of the Soviet nuclear threat while making only one passing reference to Red China's "overt hostility."

His remarks were in a report on antimissile pros and cons published by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, a nonprofit educational group which claims 85,000 members.

For his part, Humphrey said new emphasis ought to be put on ironing out an arms limitation pact with the Soviets, rather than escalating th setrategic race with more and fancier offensive and defensive weapons.

Humphrey said Johnson got conflicting advice on antimissile capabilities and limitations, and President Richard M. Nixon will inheret the same situation.

"He will receive, as we did in the Johnson administration, directly conflicting testimony from his scientific advisers as to the capability of the proposed antimissile defenses; and he will receive conflicting intelligence estimates as to the Russians' capability to penetrate our defenses, or shield themselves against our nuclear missiles."

New Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird suggested in a news conference last week that work on the Sentinel should be continued as a bargaining item for use in any U.S. negotiating with the Soviets on strategic weapons.

Humphrey implied he thinks the bargaining aspect would be Sentinel's chief value.

"In this light, ABM might yet provide a great service in advancing the strategic arms negotiations if, having taken the system to this stage of development, we set it aside as a symbol of our determination to halt the arms race where it is, and turn it back if we can," Humphrey said.

Train Conductor Hurt When Youth Stones Caboose

The conductor of a Penn Central freight train was injured painfully Sunday night when struck in the face by a stone or a brick hurled by a youth which went through the window of the caboose as the train was passing the Broadway crossing, police reported.

William Diday, 48, of 3130 E. Wick Rd., Columbus, was released after treatment at City Hospital for five broken teeth and lacerations of the lower lip, officers said.

The incident was timed at 6:51. The westbound train was stoned by juveniles and Diday was struck by a large stone or half of a paving brick, police said. He was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Army Resistance Stiffens To Troop Cuts In Europe

By HUBERT J. ERB
Associated Press Writer

GRAFENWOEHR, Germany (AP) — U.S. Army leaders are stiffening their resistance to further cuts in the combat troops America has stationed in Europe.

This was made plain here this past week by Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, the American who is the Supreme Allied Commander Europe.

The Army desire to keep what it has got at least, is perhaps the most significant development to come out of the current military exercise, Carbide Ice, that will end Tuesday.

Lemnitzer declared that although air transport capability has vastly improved, the bringing of forces from the United States to Europe was a reinforcing action, nothing more.

Lemnitzer emphasized that the U.S. troops now here are at a bare minimum to keep up their commitments. U.S. forces in West Germany have 230,000 men.

Lemnitzer asked newsmen not to overlook the great number of supply personnel it took to get the equipment ready for the incoming troops to use and what it will take to put that equipment back in storage.

The inference was clear : It would take time and many men to put any airlifted unit into the field in the event of any emergency.

More than tactical considerations are involved in the Army's resistance to losing more men.

The dual-based concept of keeping troops in the United States and flying them to Europe when needed never has been popular with the West Germans, who have been asked to beef up their own forces.

The population has been impressed with the deploying of 17,000 men and 4,500 vehicles for Carbide Ice, in mud and mire near the Czechoslovak border. The last half of the transatlantic airlift, in which C141 Starlifter Jets landed 5,100 men in 33 hours impressed the technically minded Germans immensly.

But some press comments have run from critical to caustic, with the writers seeming to feel that it was too little and too late to have much political impact in the wake of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

What many Germans were looking for in the wake of the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia was a demonstration of something new in response to the new tactical threat the Red Army poses to Western Europe generally, and to West Germany in particular.

Lemnitzer declared that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is planning is up to date and no new planning is necessary. But as one German tank officer put it: "Before last August, the Russians were still pretty far away from here. Now they are just across the border from my unit. That makes a hell of a lot of difference to me."

Coroner Investigates Death Of Boy, Girl

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Hamilton County coroner's office was scheduled to complete its investigation today in the case of two teen - agers found dead in a car early Sunday.

Homicide detectives said earlier that Jerald King, and Jessie Johnson, both 18, apparently died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The bodies were found in a car in a garage next to King's home.

The girl's body was lying on the front seat, the boy's on the back.

Sign-Up Begins For Farmers On Grain And Wheat

LISBON — Today marks the beginning of the period for Columbiana County farmers to enroll in the 1969 feed grain and wheat programs, according to J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He said all 1969 commodity programs will have the same signup dates — today through March 21. The signup application indicates the farmer's program intentions and the extent of his participation, the chairman explained.

Under the feed grain program for 1969, farmers may earn diversion and price-support payments as well as qualify for price-support loans on their corn and barley. Feed grain diversion payments will be available to all program participants.

The wheat program provides diversion payments for reducing acreage below the farm allotment and price-support loans on all the wheat produced on the farm. It also provides marketing certificates to bring returns up to full parity on the part of the wheat crop allocated for domestic use.

Signup application forms are available at the ASC office in the Gallo building on N. Park Ave., Lisbon.

Lemnitzer emphasized that the U.S. troops now here are at a bare minimum to keep up their commitments. U.S. forces in West Germany have 230,000 men.

Lemnitzer asked newsmen not to overlook the great number of supply personnel it took to get the equipment ready for the incoming troops to use and what it will take to put that equipment back in storage.

The inference was clear : It would take time and many men to put any airlifted unit into the field in the event of any emergency.

More than tactical considerations are involved in the Army's resistance to losing more men.

The dual-based concept of keeping troops in the United States and flying them to Europe when needed never has been popular with the West Germans, who have been asked to beef up their own forces.

The population has been impressed with the deploying of 17,000 men and 4,500 vehicles for Carbide Ice, in mud and mire near the Czechoslovak border. The last half of the transatlantic airlift, in which C141 Starlifter Jets landed 5,100 men in 33 hours impressed the technically minded Germans immensly.

But some press comments have run from critical to caustic, with the writers seeming to feel that it was too little and too late to have much political impact in the wake of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

What many Germans were looking for in the wake of the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia was a demonstration of something new in response to the new tactical threat the Red Army poses to Western Europe generally, and to West Germany in particular.

Lemnitzer declared that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is planning is up to date and no new planning is necessary. But as one German tank officer put it: "Before last August, the Russians were still pretty far away from here. Now they are just across the border from my unit. That makes a hell of a lot of difference to me."

Coroner Investigates Death Of Boy, Girl

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Hamilton County coroner's office was scheduled to complete its investigation today in the case of two teen - agers found dead in a car early Sunday.

Homicide detectives said earlier that Jerald King, and Jessie Johnson, both 18, apparently died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The bodies were found in a car in a garage next to King's home.

The girl's body was lying on the front seat, the boy's on the back.

Sign-Up Begins For Farmers On Grain And Wheat

LISBON — Today marks the beginning of the period for Columbiana County farmers to enroll in the 1969 feed grain and wheat programs, according to J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He said all 1969 commodity programs will have the same signup dates — today through March 21. The signup application indicates the farmer's program intentions and the extent of his participation, the chairman explained.

Under the feed grain program for 1969, farmers may earn diversion and price-support payments as well as qualify for price-support loans on their corn and barley. Feed grain diversion payments will be available to all program participants.

The wheat program provides diversion payments for reducing acreage below the farm allotment and price-support loans on all the wheat produced on the farm. It also provides marketing certificates to bring returns up to full parity on the part of the wheat crop allocated for domestic use.

Signup application forms are available at the ASC office in the Gallo building on N. Park Ave., Lisbon.

Our new reminder slogan is off the ground.

It's our way of reminding you that the fastest, easiest way to find the telephone numbers you want is to: Look in the book. Your Ohio Bell phone book.

The very same book that has many other useful extras. Like area codes, emergency numbers, community facts, and local and long distance dialing information. And your complete shopping guide — the Yellow Pages.

So, if sometime you're up in the air about phone numbers, just look in the book.

Purdue Leads Big 10

Bucks Lose In Overtime, Eye Return Meeting

By The Associated Press

Ohio State gave up the Big Ten basketball lead to Purdue Saturday, but the Buckeyes are not through yet and are eyeing another shot at the Boilermakers—this time at home—on Feb. 11.

"It's not over yet," said Coach Fred Taylor after the 95-85 overtime loss.

It was the Buckeyes' first conference defeat. The Bucks now are 4-1 and Purdue 4-0.

Taylor said the last seconds of regulation play told the story.

With the score 83-83 and 10 seconds left to play, Ohio State called time out to set up a play. The play worked but the shot didn't go in.

"I really think it took the starch out of us when we didn't score," Taylor said. "We went to pieces in the overtime."

Purdue vaulted into the lead in the overtime, while Ohio State scored only one basket, those points coming in the closing seconds of the period. The Bucks had two baskets taken away, the ball stolen and were called for traveling during the five minutes.

OSU held Rick Mount, the Big Ten's scoring leader with a 34.7 conference average, to 20 points, his lowest output of the season.

The Buckeyes' Dave Sorenson, second leading scorer in the Big Ten, had a game-high 30 points.

In other Ohio college basketball action Saturday:

Miami maintained its hold on first place in the Mid-American Conference by edging Kent State 47-45. A 15-foot jump shot and a free throw by Frank Lukacs in the last 26 seconds gave the Redskins the win.

Western Michigan moved up a notch on the MAC ladder by outlasting Bowling Green 88-87 in double overtime. The Broncos were trailing by three points late in the second overtime period, but won the game on two free throws by John Heft and a layup set up by a steal.

It was the Buckeyes' first conference defeat. The Bucks now are 4-1 and Purdue 4-0.

Taylor said the last seconds of regulation play told the story.

With the score 83-83 and 10 seconds left to play, Ohio State called time out to set up a play. The play worked but the shot didn't go in.

"I really think it took the starch out of us when we didn't score," Taylor said. "We went to pieces in the overtime."

Purdue vaulted into the lead in the overtime, while Ohio State scored only one basket, those points coming in the closing seconds of the period. The Bucks had two baskets taken away, the ball stolen and were called for traveling during the five minutes.

OSU held Rick Mount, the Big Ten's scoring leader with a 34.7 conference average, to 20 points, his lowest output of the season.

The Buckeyes' Dave Sorenson, second leading scorer in the Big Ten, had a game-high 30 points.

In other Ohio college basketball action Saturday:

Miami maintained its hold on first place in the Mid-American Conference by edging Kent State 47-45. A 15-foot jump shot and a free throw by Frank Lukacs in the last 26 seconds gave the Redskins the win.

Western Michigan moved up a notch on the MAC ladder by outlasting Bowling Green 88-87 in double overtime. The Broncos were trailing by three points late in the second overtime period, but won the game on two free throws by John Heft and a layup set up by a steal.

According To Professor Of Home Economics:

Counters Should Vary For Height

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You may be throwing your body out of alignment if your kitchen counters are the wrong height for your size, says Prof. Rose Steidl of the New York State College of Home Economics at Cornell University.

The college had a booth at the Kitchen Showcase in New York where kitchen ideas for 1969 were exhibited.

"Women are adjusting to kitchens and not realizing it. They are working with arms extended and getting arm fatigue. Shorter women are working with surfaces that are too high, and in lifting things from their shoulders, they are throwing that part of their body out of alignment. This is true even though they maintain such postures for only five minutes," studies have revealed, she says.

IT IS A physiological fact, she points out, that slowed blood vessels cause muscle fatigue.

Prof. Steidl had a chart marked to determine distance from floor to elbows. Forty inches is average. You deduct three inches to determine the ideal work surface for you. But other jobs require even lower surfaces.

Studies at Cornell have shown that to serve food stack dishes and make sandwiches the counter should be three inches below the elbow. To mix batter, beat with an electric portable mixer, chop nuts or vegetables, the counter or pull - out board should be six to seven inches below your elbow.

The rim of a sink should be two to three inches below, the cooking surface of a range three to seven inches below. And a fully opened oven door one to seven inches below elbows will permit easy turning of roasts, etc.

If you'd like to measure your elbow height, do this: Wear shoes worn usually in the kitchen, mark a corner wall in inches and stand straight against it, your back to the corner. Hold the upper arm generally used for food work against the lined wall, bend it at a right angle and mark the spot with the other hand, or someone can assist you.

THIS INFORMATION may come in handy when you are buying or building a new house. Pass the information on to your builder and kitchen dealers.

They may protest that there is no call for adjustable kitchen counter units. But, "if enough people ask for them, manufacturers will make them," Prof. Steidl believes.

A step further in the idea would be to make work surface heights changeable so that a kitchen will fit more than one owner. It can be done.

One man who built an all-electronics house designed the ultimate in kitchen cabinets for his under-five-foot wife. She pushed buttons to bring the cabinets down to her level. Counters were low enough.

Elsewhere in the show sponsored by the American Institute of Kitchen Dealers, were new cabinets — decorative wood - tone designs over colorful plastic, doors with removable colored insets and new appliances, cleaning systems and structural ideas.

MANY kitchen appliances were in copper and gold tones and almost all cabinets shown were wood or wood - toned in browns, smoky blues or pickled.

Countertop colors ranged from powder blue to raspberry and every shade of green from avocado to poison were in Colonial contemporary, Mediterranean and Gothic kitchens. A Grecian design was shown by one exhibitor, Marvell of Wyoming, Pa. There were kitchen wall ideas in lightweight brick and stone facings.

Don't Blow Your Fuse If One At Home Does

There's no need to blow your own fuse over replacing a blown-out fuse in your home.

Replacement is easy and safe if certain precautions are taken.

A fuse is a safety device. It operates like a safety valve. Too much current flowing through the wires and the fuse burns out, effectively stopping the flow.

INSTEAD of being annoyed when a fuse goes, be concerned about finding out why it went. Generally it is just a matter of overloading — too many lights and appliances plugged into a single circuit. For example, most circuits are capable of carrying 15 amps, and the fuse in your box is so rated.

Roughly speaking, an amp is a little more than 100 watts and about 1,600 watts will fully load a 15 - amp circuit. If the washing machine is using about 600 watts then you can have 10 100-watt light bulbs (or some such combination) going at the same time. But one more item and you have an overload and a burned-out fuse.

Another cause of blownout fuses is a short circuit. The sudden surge of electricity through the short circuit causes the fuse to go. If it didn't you would have a fire instead.

DO NOT use a fuse of a higher rating than your circuits call for. Using 20-amp instead of 15-amp fuses will reduce the number of blown fuses but increase the danger of overheated wires and the hazards of a fire.

Keep replacement fuses handy. On top of or next to a fuse box is the best place. Know where the fuse box is. It isn't just bad luck that most fuses blow out at night. It's just that is when you are using the most electricity.

Keep a flashlight handy. Don't try to replace a fuse in total darkness.

Know where the main switch is. It may be right there at the fuse box or it may be somewhere else. Pull the switch to "off" before you change any fuses.

Sometimes there will be cartridge fuse holders instead of a handle above the screw-in fuses. Pull these cartridge holders and you will cut off the flow of current.

THE MOST common fuse is the one with a glass or mica window. The window will be blackened or the wire inside burned through in a blown fuse.

Never, never us a coin or foil underneath a fuse. You might as well have no fuse at all.

Know which fuses control what circuits. A list or a wiring diagram should be glued inside the cover of the fuse box.

The latest thing is circuit-breakers. These look like light switches and they flip to the "off" position in case of an overload. Instead of making a replacement you simply put the switch to the "on" position once more. If it keeps flipping, look for the trouble and eliminate it.

Power Firm Spending To Set Record

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — The Monongahela Power Co. in the three years 1969, 1970 and 1971 has forecast record expenditures of nearly $120 million for plant expansion and improved facilities.

The major slice of the $120 million will be spent for generating capacity to provide the additional power needed in the years to come. Monongahela Power has estimated that its expenditures for power generation in the three-year period will amount to more than $66 million.

One of the "smaller items" in the three - year forecast, amounting to $7,500,000, will provide new customer and service facilities. This includes construction of several division and district service and maintenance centers. The nearly - completed Fairmont Division complex at Eldora is an example of the new facilities. This will be completed early this year.

In announcing the utility's three-year construction forecast, Cecil G. McVay, president of Monongahela Power, pointed out that demand for electricity continues to increase at a rate of about 8 per cent per year.

Ideas Offered On Jack Post If Floor Sags

AP Newsfeatures

Question: The living room floor of the old house we bought recently has a slight sag. The floor is over a basement which has a concrete floor. I have been told that the sag can be eliminated by a jack post. How can I determine how much the post should be jacked up?

ANSWER: The first step is to stretch a strong string taut across the living room floor at right angles to the direction in which the joists run. Tack the string tightly near each wall. The distance between the floor and string in the middle of the room will show the amount of sag. Check the string with a carpenter's level. Since there is a concrete floor in the basement, the jack post can be placed directly on it, assuming that the floor is in solid condition.

Next, raise the post to a point about 6 inches from tne basement joist. Place a 4-by-4 beam, 6 feet long, on top of the post at right angles to the joist. Jack up the post until the beam is firmly against the joists. If the sag in the living room floor is half an inch or less, continue jacking up the post until the sag is gone. Have someone upstairs tell you when the floor moves up enough so that it is level with the string.

If the sag is more than half an inch, it must be eliminated a little at a time over a period of days, because if you tried to do it all at once, some cracking of the walls might ensue.

The trick is to jack up the post half an inch, wait two or three days, jack up another half an inch, and so on. The post then can be left in place or a permanent one installed. In purchasing the post, tell your dealer to select one that will fill your needs.

Should you decide on a permanent post (you might want to keep the jack post for other work), do everything as explained above, but place the jack post just a little off center to allow for the installation of the permanent post in dead center.

Please remember that everything explained here should be attempted only when the fault is with sagging first floor joists. When there is a second-floor sag inside a closed ceiling, the problem must be handled by a professional.

QUESTION: I have a table saw that uses circular blades. I have been using it for about a year with good results, but have worked only with wood. I have a hardboard project coming up. Can I use the same combination blade for the hardboard?

—:—

ANSWER: Generally, yes. But if it's tempered hardboard and there is an extensive amount of cutting to do, you should use a carbide - tipped blade, which will cut better and last longer without getting dull.

California ranks fifth among the states in the number of local governments. The latest count was 3,864.

Local Officers Investigate Petty Thefts And Vandalism

Seven cases of petty theft and vandalism, along with a possible store burglary, were investigated by East Liverpool police over the weekend.

The apparent burglary was discovered at 6:17 a. m. today at the Bi-Low Discount Store at E. 5th and Washington Sts. by Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon while on routine patrol.

A brick was hurled through a 4-by-7-foot plate glass door, making a hole about 14-by-22 inches, the officer found. He said it was apparent the door was broken with an intent to steal, but an inventory would be necessary to determine if there was any loss.

VICKIE MIKEALS of 461½ Mulberry St. told police Sunday night a thief took 32 long-play phonograph records from an apartment at 519½ 1st Ave., which she was in the process of vacating. The thief removed a glass from a front door to gain entry, then replaced the glass, she said. She said she checked the apartment last at 4 p. m. Saturday.

Edwin D. Males of 210 W. 2nd St. told police Sunday afternoon $50 in old coins, 40 or 50 pennies and an over-and-under gun disappeared from his home while he was absent between 4:30 p.m. Friday and 1:45 p.m. Sunday. He gave police the name of a man who, he said, was left in charge of the property. Males said the over-and-under gun has a .410-gauge shotgun barrel and a .22-caliber rifle barrel.

Elsie Scibilia of 1056 Claiborne Ave. told officers Sunday afternoon the radio antenna was broken off her 1961 model car Saturday night or Sunday morning while it was parked in front of her home. Harry P. Judy Sr. of 1063 Claiborne St. reported to police Sunday afternoon that the antennas were broken off two cars—a 1959 model and a 1963 model—while they were parked near his home between 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

JOSEPH BAKER of 1523 Commerce St., Wellsville, told officers four chrome wheel discs were taken from his 1965 model car while it was parked on Lincoln Ave. between Smith St. and E. 8th St. between 11:40 p.m. Saturday and 10:45 a.m. yesterday.

Charles R. Cronin of 152 S. Surrey Rd. told officers Saturday afternoon vandals damaged his home sometime between 6 p.m. Friday and 2 a.m. Saturday.

Cronin said the vandals marked his front door with black ink, also marring an ornamental frog in the front yard. A light bulb was taken from a fixture and broken on the front steps at the home. Another light fixture was pulled from the garage and various articles were taken from the patio and hurled over a nearby hillside, Cronin said.

A thief broke into the auto of H. K. Rogers of 815 Cadmus St. while it was parked near East Junior High School Friday night and took six bottles of carbonated drink and a quart of ginger ale, police were told Saturday.

The largest plants in the world are some of the seaweeds found in the Pacific Ocean, some of which have stalks measuring more than 500 feet long.

ANN LANDERS

Mom Needs Figure Help

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Although I've gained only 2 pounds since my baby was born, my figure has changed completely. Everything I had before is still there, it's just relocated. With the proper foundation garments, I look fine from the waist up. It's the rest of me I'm concerned about.

I used to have a nice curved look in the back but now I'm flat as a board. I don't know how to describe it except to say I've lost my fanny. Is there some exercise I can do to rebuild it? Thanks for your help. — NO LONGER WELL REARED

Dear No Longer: I know of no such exercise, but don't despair — help is on the way. (by a very respectable store) a girdle with special padding. It will do for the back what falsies do for the front.

And please, girls, don't write and ask where these girdles can be purchased. I'm not pushing underwear this season. Call your local department store or lingerie shop.

Blackmailer

Dear Ann: I went with Kirk for several years. I tried to break up with him at least six times. Each time he cried and pleaded with me not to leave him, so I continued to see him.

Kirk frequently said and did things that indicated he was unstable. I pleaded with him to get professional help but I got nowhere.

Last summer while vacationing out East I met a wonderful man — a widower with a child. We saw a great deal of each other and now I think I'm in love with him. He telephones me twice a week and sends something in the mail almost every day. He is coming to see me next week.

Yesterday I told Kirk there is someone else. He became hysterical and cried, "If you leave me I'll kill muself."

I'm frightened and mixed up. If Kirk commits suicide I'll never forgive myself. I need advice at once. — STAR SISTER.

Dear Star: Don't allow Kirk's illness to ruin your life. Emotional blackmail can be a dangerous game. Those who become victimized pay a dear price.

Tell Kirk one more time that he must get professional help. Then bid him goodby — and mean it. You'll have done as much for him as anyone could — short of sacrificing your own life. And that you don't owe him.

Nose Business

Dear Ann: I'm 18, a girl, and want to have my nose bobbed. I've seen some awful results as well as some beautiful ones.

I'm reluctant to ask a person the name of his doctor because most people would like you to believe they were born with the nose they now have.

How does one go about finding a truly skilled plastic surgeon? — D. S.

Dear D. S.: Don't ask a person who obviously has a botched job. Ask someone who has had great success. A pleased patient should be happy to recommend his surgeon, I think.

In the meantime, be aware that the outcome of rhinoplasty depends not only on the surgeon, but on what he had to work with.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Doak, Mason Lead Way As Beavers Roll Over Crestview

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Cleveland Grandstand Mangers Club has posed a questionnaire for interested baseball fans.

The group has asked whether the fans are in sympathy with the owners or the players in a possbile strike in baseball. The fans have voted in favor of the owners about 2-1, and have also noted preference for the owners operating the 1969 season with rookies rather than shutting down.

We have to be strongly in favor of the owners. Unionism has no place in sports, for it tends to treat all plavers as equals, which they obviously aren't. Sport, more than any other field, should reward the achiever and not reward the loafer.

THE PLAYERS Association is specifically griping about the pension plan. Baseball has the best pension plan of any organization going (except maybe the U.S. Army), and the players are being very greedy in this case. Even in the army you can't get a pension for five years' service, as is the case in baseball. Granted, careers are fleeting, but the advantages of even playing briefly in the majors financial and otherwise, are tremendous. Baseball has been the springboard to many other careers, and this is one reason that there will be plenty of people willing to play baseball in 1969 if the established players go out on strike.

With the fans expressing a preference for baseball of any kind rather than no baseball at all, there almost surely will be some kind of clubs fielded this summer. To lose a year of play would set the game back disastrously.

WHEN THE pro football players threatened a strike last summer, the owners in general gave in to their demands. But the owners were pressured by television interests, which have a high competitive stake in pro football. Television does not play such a big role in baseball, nor vice versa. The diamond sport could exist without TV, and TV, in less competitive summer market could exist without baseball. So there will be less pressure on the owners to accede to the players demands, and with the unreasonable Marvin Miller speaking for the players, a pro baseball strike is more of a possibility than a pro football strike. But it seems sure that there will be baseball in 1969, even if rookies and rejects make up the major league rosters.

Rebound Edge Factor In Win

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Dave Doak, bothered by shin splints all year, broke loose for 21 points in the first half as Beaver Local rolled over Crestview 73-56 at the Beavers' gym Saturday night

Doak, scoring from all angles, hit on 9 of 16 shots from the field in the first 16 minutes and added 3 of 6 from the foul line. He turned cold in the second half, making 1 of 8 from the field for a game total of 23 points.

Dave Mason of the Beavers started slowly, with only two points the first period, but ended with 21 points. He also grabbed 23 rebounds, as the Beavers whipped a generally taller Crestview team 68-48 off the boards. The margin was 55-29 going into the final period, which was played mainly by reserves.

Doak added 15 rebounds for the Beavers, while Jerry Anderson snagged 11 for the losers. Dan Myers contributed 15 points to the Beaver Local attack. Keith Chamberlin led Crestview with 17 and Mark Chellis added 10.

The beginning of the game was marked by fast break baskets by both teams. Scoring four buckets on fast breaks and another on a goal-tending call, the Rebels trailed only 13-10. But the home team hit three fast break baskets in a row and never looked back. Using a 21-8 rebounding margin to good advantage, the Beavers led 23-14 after the first period and gradually widened the gap to 67-42 before the Rebels came back against the subs.

With Myers hitting from outside and Doak and Mason getting numerous baskets on offensive tip-ins, the Beaver Local offense was in high gear, hitting 47 per cent the first half and 42 per cent for the game. The defense, loose in the first half, tighened up in the third period and held the Rebels to nine points. Crestview hit 44 per cent the first half and 39 per cent overall. The Rebels made 23 turnovers to 19 for the Beavers. Crestview was hurt by going 0 for 8 from the foul line in the first half.

Winning coach Nevitt Stockdale said that Doak played the best game of his career. He also cited Scott Dubberly for his work on defense and running the offense and generally firing up the team.

Beaver Local is now 5-9, Crestview 6-8.

The Beavers also took the reserve game, 38-33. Dave Bentz hit 14 points for the winners and Wayne Mercer led the losers with 8. Harper Farish, with 12, and Rick Palmer, with 11, led Beaver Local to a 52-38 rebounding edge. Damon Baird had 8 for the losers.

Both teams were cold, as the Beavers hits 24 per cent to 27 per cent by the Rebels. Beaver Local was out-goaled 12-11, but hit 16 of 32 from the foul line compared to 9 of 16 for the Rebels. Crestview had 13 turnovers to 11 for the winners.

Beaver Local led most of the way, but Crestview was up 27-26 early in the final period and trailed only 33-31 with two minutes to go. Phil Linger hit three foul shots and Bentz two to sew up the win.

RUSSELL RACKED. Bill Russell, player-coach of the Boston Celtics, grimaces in pain after suffering a severe knee sprain in a 95-94 loss to the New York Knickerbockers in Boston yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

Russell Injures Knee As Celtics Lose

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, struggling in defense of their National Basketball Association championship, found themselves in serious trouble today with Player-Coach Bill Russell hospitalized and lost for at least a week.

Russell, who has led the Celtics to 10 titles with brilliant defensive play in his dozen years as a pro, suffered severely strained ligaments in his right knee in a 95-94 loss to the New York Knicks Sunday at Boston Garden.

With New York in front 95-92, the 6-foot-9 Russell took a pass and scored a layup. He fell hard to the floor and writhed in pain as the Knicks ran out the final 12 seconds.

Russell, 35, finally was carried on a stretcher to the dressing room and transferred 30 minutes later to University Hospital, where X-rays were negative.

Dr. Thomas Silva, the team physician, said a bone specialist would examine the injury in 24 hours. Barring unforeseen swelling he was "very optimistic that Russell would be able to return to the Celtics in a week or 10 days."

General Manager Red Auerback, who turned over the coaching reins to Russell after the 1965-66 season, announced he would return to the bench on a temporary basis.

In other games Baltimore walloped Detroit 128-106, Philadelphia overcame Chicago 112-104, Atlanta defeated San Diego 115-103, Phoenix nipped Milwaukee 122-121 and San Francisco outlasted Los Angeles 122-117 in three overtimes.

On Saturday, the Knicks clobbered the Celtics 109-82, Los Angeles beat San Francisco 106-101 in overtime. Atlanta belted Detroit 119-99, Cincinnati tripped Seattle 111-96 and San Diego downed Milwaukee 101-95.

Although the game turned into a rough and ragged affair in the final period, Russell was injured on a play lacking stiff body contact. He said he thought he may have been hit on the leg as he lunged.

The surging Knicks, who have won 20 of their last 24 games, moved ahead of Boston into third place in the Eastern Division.

Dave DeBusschere put the Knicks ahead to stay 89-87 with a three-point play and Bill Bradley's two free throws with 14 seconds left gave New York a 95-92 lead.

Ray Scott with 26 points, Earl Monroe with 24 and Wes Unseld with 22 and 18 rebounds paced Baltimore to an easy victory. Philadelphia scored the last nine points in the final 44 seconds to beat the Bulls. Wally Jones had 27 points to lead the 76ers.

Atlanta pulled ahead for good in the second period and held off San Diego behind Lou Hudson's 35 points and 21 by reserve Paul Silas.

Gail Goodrich's basket with 19 seconds left broke a 116-all tie and he and Dick Van Arsdale kept Phoenix ahead with free throws. Goodrich finished with 37 points.

Nate Thurmond, who scored 24 points and grabbed 34 rebounds, and Jim King scored seven points as San Francisco led all of the third overtime. The regular game ended tied at 86 and Los Angeles blew leads in the first two extra periods, which ended tied at 99 and 110.

Duffy Gains Ground, Pierce Still Top Yogi

Bob Duffy gained ground in the Review Cage Yogi race this week, posting an 8-1 mark to close within one game of leader Turk Pierce.

The Yogis scored results on only nine games this week, due to the postponement of the Beaver Local - United game.

Bill Crooks also posted an 8-1 mark and vaulted into third place. Bob Shaffer was 6-3, while everyone else was 7-2.

The consensus tripped on South Side, a 65-48 loser to Quigley, and Crestview, a 73-56 loser to Beaver Local. Lorin Howard picked Quigley and Pierce, Duffy and Crooks had the Beavers. Howard was the only one wrong on United, a 70-60 loser to Lisbon, while Shaffer and Pierce fell with Lisbon in its 81-72 loss to Leetonia.

Everyone was right on East Liverpool, a 59-44 winner over Alliance; Midland, a 51-29 winner over Freedom; Wellsville, a 66-42 over Southern Local; Mt. Pleasant, a 45-42 winner over Stanton; and Yorkville, a 62-61 winner over Stanton. Rose Nuzzo and Pete Weaver formed the consensus.

Stanton Falls In Overtime

Zitzelberger, Signorini Pace Yorkville Win

YORKVILLE — The poetically named combination of Bob Zitzelberger and Bob Signorini led Yorkville to a 62-61 overtime win over Stanton here Saturday night.

Zitzelberger got 20 points, including all five his team scored in the overtime, while Signorini had 17. Jim Alexander added 11. Tim Logan of the Red Raiders took game honors with 25.

Stanton led all the way until with a minute left in the regulation time Signorini scored to knot the count at 55. Zitzelberger put the Ductillites ahead 57-55, but Doug Koehnlein hit a shot with 10 seconds to go to tie the score at 57.

Zitzelberger got all five of his overtime points before Stanton scored on two fouls by Dan Smith with 1:30 to go. Koehnlein got a basket with 8 seconds left, but it left Stanton one point shy.

Stanton hit 38 per cent and Yorkville 33 per cent. The Ductillites won the game at the foul line, hitting 20 of 31 compared to 15 of 26 by the Raiders.

Stanton is now 3-13, with seven of the losses by five points or less. Yorkville is 6-8.

Adding to the evening of frustration for Stanton, the Yorkville reserves took an 41-38 overtime win. Rick Reynolds had 12 for the losers and Blair Closser 10 for the winners.

Doak, Mason Lead Way As Beavers Roll Over Crestview

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Cleveland Grandstand Mangers Club has posed a questionnaire for interested baseball fans.

The group has asked whether the fans are in sympathy with the owners or the players in a possbile strike in baseball. The fans have voted in favor of the owners about 2-1, and have also noted preference for the owners operating the 1969 season with rookies rather than shutting down.

We have to be strongly in favor of the owners. Unionism has no place in sports, for it tends to treat all plavers as equals, which they obviously aren't. Sport, more than any other field, should reward the achiever and not reward the loafer.

THE PLAYERS Association is specifically griping about the pension plan. Baseball has the best pension plan of any organization going (except maybe the U.S. Army), and the players are being very greedy in this case. Even in the army you can't get a pension for five years' service, as is the case in baseball. Granted, careers are fleeting, but the advantages of even playing briefly in the majors financial and otherwise, are tremendous. Baseball has been the springboard to many other careers, and this is one reason that there will be plenty of people willing to play baseball in 1969 if the established players go out on strike.

With the fans expressing a preference for baseball of any kind rather than no baseball at all, there almost surely will be some kind of clubs fielded this summer. To lose a year of play would set the game back disastrously.

WHEN THE pro football players threatened a strike last summer, the owners in general gave in to their demands. But the owners were pressured by television interests, which have a high competitive stake in pro football. Television does not play such a big role in baseball, nor vice versa. The diamond sport could exist without TV, and TV, in less competitive summer market could exist without baseball. So there will be less pressure on the owners to accede to the players demands, and with the unreasonable Marvin Miller speaking for the players, a pro baseball strike is more of a possibility than a pro football strike. But it seems sure that there will be baseball in 1969, even if rookies and rejects make up the major league rosters.

Rebound Edge Factor In Win

Dave Doak, bothered by shin splints all year, broke loose for 21 points in the first half as Beaver Local rolled over Crestview 73-56 at the Beavers' gym Saturday night.

Doak, scoring from all angles, hit on 9 of 16 shots from the field in the first 16 minutes and added 3 of 6 from the foul line. He turned cold in the second half, making 1 of 8 from the field for a game total of 23 points.

Dave Mason of the Beavers started slowly, with only two points the first period, but ended with 21 points. He also grabbed 23 rebounds, as the Beavers whipped a generally taller Crestview team 68-48 off the boards. The margin was 55-29 going into the final period, which was played mainly by reserves.

Doak added 15 rebounds for the Beavers, while Jerry Anderson snagged 11 for the losers. Dan Myers contributed 15 points to the Beaver Local attack. Keith Chamberlin led Crestview with 17 and Mark Chellis added 10.

The beginning of the game was marked by fast break baskets by both teams. Scoring four buckets on fast breaks and another on a goal-tending call, the Rebels trailed only 13-10. But the home team hit three fast break baskets in a row and never looked back. Using a 21-8 rebounding margin to good advantage, the Beavers led 23-14 after the first period and gradually widened the gap to 67-42 before the Rebels came back against the subs.

With Myers hitting from outside and Doak and Mason getting numerous baskets on offensive tip-ins, the Beaver Local offense was in high gear, hitting 47 per cent the first half and 42 per cent for the game. The defense, loose in the first half, tighened up in the third period and held the Rebels to nine points. Crestview hit 44 per cent the first half and 39 per cent overall. The Rebels made 23 turnovers to 19 for the Beavers. Crestview was hurt by going 0 for 8 from the foul line in the first half.

Winning coach Nevitt Stockdale said that Doak played the best game of his career. He also cited Scott Dubberly for his work on defense and running the offense and generally firing up the team.

Beaver Local is now 5-9, Crestview 6-8.

The Beavers also took the reserve game, 38-33. Dave Bentz hit 14 points for the winners and Wayne Mercer led the losers with 8. Harper Farish, with 12, and Rick Palmer, with 11, led Beaver Local to a 52-38 rebounding edge. Damon Baird had 8 for the losers.

Both teams were cold, as the Beavers hits 24 per cent to 27 per cent by the Rebels. Beaver Local was out-goaled 12-11, but hit 16 of 32 from the foul line compared to 9 of 16 for the Rebels. Crestview had 13 turnovers to 11 for the winners.

Beaver Local led most of the way, but Crestview was up 27-26 early in the final period and trailed only 33-31 with two minutes to go. Phil Linger hit three foul shots and Bentz two to sew up the win.

RUSSELL RACKED. Bill Russell, player-coach of the Boston Celtics, grimaces in pain after suffering a severe knee sprain in a 95-94 loss to the New York Knickerbockers in Boston yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

Russell Injures Knee As Celtics Lose

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, struggling in defense of their National Basketball Association championship, found themselves in serious trouble today with Player-Coach Bill Russell hospitalized and lost for at least a week.

Russell, who has led the Celtics to 10 titles with brilliant defensive play in his dozen years as a pro, suffered severely strained ligaments in his right knee in a 95-94 loss to the New York Knicks Sunday at Boston Garden.

With New York in front 95-92, the 6-foot-9 Russell took a pass and scored a layup. He fell hard to the floor and writhed in pain as the Knicks ran out the final 12 seconds.

Russell, 35, finally was carried on a stretcher to the dressing room and transferred 30 minutes later to University Hospital, where X-rays were negative.

Dr. Thomas Silva, the team physician, said a bone specialist would examine the injury in 24 hours. Barring unforeseen swelling he was "very optimistic that Russell would be able to return to the Celtics in a week or 10 days."

General Manager Red Auerback, who turned over the coaching reins to Russell after the 1965-66 season, announced he would return to the bench on a temporary basis.

In other games Baltimore walloped Detroit 128-106, Philadelphia overcame Chicago 112-104, Atlanta defeated San Diego 115-103, Phoenix nipped Milwaukee 122-121 and San Francisco outlasted Los Angeles 122-117 in three overtimes.

On Saturday, the Knicks clobbered the Celtics 109-82, Los Angeles beat San Francisco 106-101 in overtime. Atlanta belted Detroit 119-99, Cincinnati tripped Seattle 111-96 and San Diego downed Milwaukee 101-95.

Although the game turned into a rough and ragged affair in the final period, Russell was injured on a play lacking stiff body contact. He said he thought he may have been hit on the leg as he lunged.

The surging Knicks, who have won 20 of their last 24 games, moved ahead of Boston into third place in the Eastern Division.

Dave DeBusschere put the Knicks ahead to stay 89-87 with a three-point play and Bill Bradley's two free throws with 14 seconds left gave New York a 95-92 lead.

Ray Scott with 26 points, Earl Monroe with 24 and Wes Unseld with 22 and 18 rebounds paced Baltimore to an easy victory. Philadelphia scored the last nine points in the final 44 seconds to beat the Bulls. Wally Jones had 27 points to lead the 76ers.

Atlanta pulled ahead for good in the second period and held off San Diego behind Lou Hudson's 35 points and 21 by reserve Paul Silas.

Gail Goodrich's basket with 19 seconds left broke a 116-all tie and he and Dick Van Arsdale kept Phoenix ahead with free throws. Goodrich finished with 37 points.

Nate Thurmond, who scored 24 points and grabbed 34 rebounds, and Jim King scored seven points as San Francisco led all of the third overtime. The regular game ended tied at 86 and Los Angeles blew leads in the first two extra periods, which ended tied at 99 and 110.

Duffy Gains Ground, Pierce Still Top Yogi

Bob Duffy gained ground in the Review Cage Yogi race this week, posting an 8-1 mark to close within one game of leader Turk Pierce.

The Yogis scored results on only nine games this week, due to the postponement of the Beaver Local - United game.

Bill Crooks also posted an 8-1 mark and vaulted into third place. Bob Shaffer was 6-3, while everyone else was 7-2.

The consensus tripped on South Side, a 65-48 loser to Quigley, and Crestview, a 73-56 loser to Beaver Local. Lorin Howard picked Quigley and Pierce, Duffy and Crooks had the Beavers. Howard was the only one wrong on United, a 70-60 loser to Lisbon, while Shaffer and Pierce fell with Lisbon in its 81-72 loss to Leetonia.

Everyone was right on East Liverpool, a 59-44 winner over Alliance; Midland, a 51-29 winner over Freedom; Wellsville, a 66-42 over Southern Local; Mt. Pleasant, a 45-42 winner over Stanton; and Yorkville, a 62-61 winner over Stanton. Rose Nuzzo and Pete Weaver formed the consensus.

Stanton hit 38 per cent and Yorkville 33 per cent. The Ductillites won the game at the foul line, hitting 20 of 31 compared to 15 of 26 by the Raiders.

Stanton is now 3-13, with seven of the losses by five points or less. Yorkville is 6-8.

Adding to the evening of frustration for Stanton, the Yorkville reserves took an 41-38 overtime win. Rick Reynolds had 12 for the losers and Blair Closser 10 for the winners.

Bruins Unbeaten In 17

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Have the Boston Bruins forgotten how to lose?

Once experts at the fine art of taking it on the chin, the boisterous Bruins have stormed into a six-point lead in the National Hockey League's East Division with an unbeaten string of 17 games that is approaching record proportions.

The Bruins' latest victory was a 4-2 triumph over Detroit Sunday night. In other action, New York pounded Pittsburgh 7-3, St. Louis stung Toronto 5-3, Montreal bopped Chicago 6-4 and Minnesota shaded Philadelphia 3-2.

In Saturday's games, Montreal ripped New York 6-2, St. Louis blanked Detroit 2-0, Chicago and Minnesota battled to a 5-5 tie, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh tied 2-2 and Los Angeles outlasted Oakland 8-5.

The Bruins haven't lost since Christmas night and have dropped only one game in the last 24. Their 17-game unbeaten string is only six short of their own NHL record set in 1941.

Until they finished third last season in the NHL's East Division, the Bruins had a string of six cellar finishes in seven seasons. They've already won 30 games this season and still have 27 to play. Only once in the last 10 years have they won more than 30 in a full season and that was last year when they won 37.

Against Detroit Boston played without All-Star defenseman Bobby Orr for the first time this season. Orr reinjured his left knee late last week but is expected back in the line-up Wednesday at Chicago.

After a scoreless first period, Phil Esposito, John McKenzie and Ed Westfall gave the Bruins a 3-0 edge. Then Detroit struck back with Dean Prentice and Gordie Howe narrowing the gap to 3-2. Howe's goal was his 25th of the season.

Schenley's Gibson Nips N. Mexico St.

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The littlest Lobo wears No. 00 on his basketball shirt . . . and stands 10 feet tall in New Mexico today.

Petie Gibson, a 5-foot-8 sophomore, pumped in a 30-foot jump shot at the buzzer last Saturday at Albuquerque, giving the Lobos a 68-66 triumph over arch rival New Mexico State.

It was the pint-sized playmaker's only field goal in the game, but it completed a two-games-in-four-days sweep for New Mexico over the eighth-ranked, previously unbeaten Aggies. The Lobos won 86-66 Wednesday on State's Las Cruces court.

Top-ranked UCLA continued to roll up winning numbers, smashing Stanford 98-61 Saturday night after a 109-74 romp over California Friday night. The Bruins have won 32 in a row, including 16 this season, 36 straight in Pacific 8 Conference play and 80 in succession on their home court.

UCLA and third ranked Santa Clara, idle last weekend, are the only unbeaten major college powers.

No. 2 North Carolina boosted its season mark to 14-1 with a 107-87 conquest of Maryland, but fourth-ranked Davidson fell to Iowa 76-61 at Chicago.

No. 5 Kentucky beat Vanderbilt 103-89, No. 6 St. John's, N.Y., topped Temple 65-49, No. 7 Illinois trimmed Wisconsin 86-73 and No. 9 LaSalle clobbered New Orleans Loyola 102-65 in other Saturday action.

Gibson, smallest man ever to play for Chicago Bob King at New Mexico, swept the Lobos to their 13th victory in 19 games with a high-arching shot that dropped cleanly through the cords as the clock ran out.

"I've got a few bruises, too of my ribs where Coach King hit me as he jumped up saying, 'It's going in,'" said Lobos assistant coach Norm Ellenberg.

"I've got a few bruises, too," said Gibson, a grandson of former semipro baseball great Josh Gibson, who was half-carried, half-dragged from the court by New Mexico fans after the winning shot.

Lew Alcindor scored 27 points for UCLA against Stanford as the Bruins tightened their hold on the Pacific 8 lead. Bill Buntin's 30 points and 12 rebounds paced North Carolina's attack and Glenn Vidnovic hit for 22 to trigger Iowa's upset of Davidson.

Dan Issel and Mike Casey led Kentucky past Vanderbilt with 28 and 24 points, respectively, and Joe DePre's 16 kept St. John's rolling against Temple.

Soph Greg Jackson put in 21 of his 36 points in the second half, leading Illinois past Wisconsin, and LaSalle buried Loyola after running off 17 successive first half points for a 35-17 bulge.

Purdue grabbed the Big Ten Conference lead with a 4-0 mark by subduing Ohio State 95-85 in overtime. The Buckeyes and Iowa are 4-1, Illinois 3-2 in league play.

Tulsa reeled off its eighth straight victory in the Missouri Valley Conference, whipping Wichita State 94-69 for a 16-2 over-all mark.

Kansas handed Colorado its first Big Eight Conference loss, 80-70, and the Buffalos' troubles were compounded Sunday when 7-foot-2 Ron Smith was declared scholastically ineligible.

Fosbury Flops Again

Warren's Davenport Sets Indoor Hurdle Record

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Olympic gold medal winners had their ups and downs over the weekend. Willie Davenport kept on winning while Bob Seagren and Ralph Doubell bounced back . . . Dick Fosbury, however, continued to flop.

Davenport, the 110-meter Olympic champion from Southern University, sprinted to his ninth straight hurdles victory, winning Friday night at New York's Millrose-Wanamaker Games and then breaking the world mark in the 45 yard high hurdles at the Boston A.A. Games Saturday night.

Seagren, the Olympic pole vault titlist, and holder of both the indoor and outdoor world records, failed to qualify in New York Friday night, missing three attempts at 16 feet.

However, the handsome Southern California student came back to capture his specialty Saturday in the Oklahoma City Invitational with a 17-foot effort.

Doubell, the Australian 800-meter winner in the Olympics, was stalled by transportation problems and didn't compete in New York. The Melbourne native had no such trouble reaching Portland, Ore., for the Oregon Invitational and romped to an easy victory in the 1,000-yard run in 2:11.1.

Fosbury has a different problem. Famed for his Fosbury Flop, in winning the Olympic high jump crown at Mexico City, the 21-year-old Oregon State student, has now lost all six of his indoor competitions since his 7-4¼ leap over the bar in Mexico. He hasn't been over seven feet, either.

Fosbury arrived in time for both the New York and Portland meets, but at the Millrose Games, Fosbury failed in three attempts to clear 6-10. Then Saturday at Portland, he again couldn't clear the 6-10 barrier.

Other outstanding performances over the weekend included:

George Young's 14th straight victory and sixth this season in the two-mile run. The 31-year-old Casa Grande, Ariz., schoolteacher took his specialty in 8:37.2., a Millrose record, which earned him the top performer award of the 62nd annual event.

Lee Evans, the 400-meter Olympic champion, took the 600-yard run in 1:11.7 and Villanova's Marty Liquori won the mile in 4:00.8. Bob Beamon, another gold medal winner and world record holder in the high jump, scratched after one attempt in his specialty before a packed house of 17,670 at Madison Square Garden.

Beamon went up to Boston, but didn't participate because of a pulled leg muscle. Davenport, however, took the spotlight with his 5.3 mark in the 45-yard highs. He broke his own record of 5.4.

Ronnie Jordan, the Florida University high jumper, continued to sparkle, winning in New York and Boston with identical leaps of 7-1.

Another indoor record was set in the Boston A.A., when 27-year-old George Brenn of Los Angeles cracked the 35-pound hammer throw mark with a toss of 73 feet 3½ inches. Harold Connolly held the old record of 72 2½.

Sam Bair kept his mile streak alive, copping his fifth in a row with a 4:04.3 clocking in Boston. The Kent State ace was looking to break the four-minute barrier, but tired in the last quarter. He won by 20 yards over Barry Brown, New York A.C.

Winners in the Portland Invitational included Chris Papanicalaou of San Jose State, with a 17-1½ meet record in the pole vault; Australia's Kerry O'Brien in the two-mile, 8:34.9; Olympian Charlie Green, the 60-yard dash in six seconds.

Beaver Local Matmen Take Third Place

Beaver Local placed third in the Howaland wrestling tournament over the weekend, with Gale Williams and Lew Brown taking individual championships.

Williams, at 127, decisioned Flowers of Western Reserve Academy 2-0, beat Porter of Painesville Riverside 4-0 and downed Cucera of Kent State High 4-3 in the finals.

Brown, at 154, whipped Baltmer of Madison 8-0, blanked Shallahammer of Kent 7-0 and thumped Hutchison of Western Reserve 6-1 in the finals.

Jim Bowersock at 133 took a second. He pinned Miller of Newton Falls in 1:45, decisioned Cucera of Kent 8-2 and lost to Misch of Madison 2-0 in the finals.

Also taking a second was Bill Lucas at 138. He decisioned Albright of Rootstown 5-1, nipped Smith of Western Reserve 3-1 in overtime and lost to Garek of Madison 5-0 in the finals.

Terry Serago at 103 took a third. He beat Smith of Rootstown 10-4, lost to Tisi of Madison 4-1, edged Gurlea of Newton Falls 3-1 and nipped Watson of Painesville 2-1.

Virgil Havice at 112 took a fourth. He lost to Shoemaker of Kent 5-0, beat Salcone of Howland 6-1 and lost to Elsass of Western Reserve 12-0. Also taking fourth was Don Neville at 120. He beat Polack of Rootstown 8-1, lost to Eustice of Kent 10-4, blanked Myers of Newton Falls 7-0 and fell to Burke of Western Reserve 2-1. Another fourth place finisher was Fred Brown at 165. He beat Williams of Rootstown 11-7, fell to Webster of Madison 2-0, beat Tennent of Kent 2-0 and fell to Frazier of Howland 3-1.

Bob Walker at 145 was pinned by Erhart of Kent in 4:45 and lost to Ortiz of Madison 2-0. John Sines at 175 fell to Armstrong of Western Reserve 4:33 and Gary Reeder at unlimited fell to Paskert of Kent 6-1.

Kent State High won the tourney with 81 points, Madison had 71, Beaver Local 62, Western Reserve Academy 58, Howland 28, Painesville Riverside 22, Rootstown 12 and Newton Falls 0.

Littler Skies To 76

Nicklaus Wins Tourney Despite Round Of 73

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tom Weiskopf, a soldier stationed at Ft. Folk, La., may be wondering how Jack Nicklaus won the 1969 $150,000 Andy Williams San Diego Open Golf Tournament and required 284 strokes to do it.

Weiskopf, you see, won the tournament a year ago, before the U.S. Army borrowed him, and did it in 273 shots.

And Nicklaus walked away, headed today for the Bob Hope Classic at Palm Springs, with the $30,000 winner's loot in another rather unusual situation. Seldom in these days does a pro golfer overcome a deficit of two strokes, win by one—and do it with a final round one-over par 73. Jack did it.

Generally something like four-under in the last round is required.

As it turned out Nicklaus, the Big Bear from Columbus, Ohio, defeated San Diego's hometown hero, Gene Littler, in a two man duel Sunday.

Littler's artistic 67 over the par 72 Torrey Pines Golf Club Saturday sent him into Sunday's final round two strokes in front of Nicklaus.

But Torrey Pine's tough par-4 holes led to Littler's loss. His five bogeys were all on them.

He finished with 76 and the only birdie he got came on the final green. Nicklaus had finished—with a bogey six on the last hole—and Gene needed an eagle to tie. His birdie broke the possiblity of a three-way tie for second.

Littler pocketed $17,100 and Stockton and Aaron each won $8,850.

"Scoring," Nicklaus conceded, "was pretty bad this week. I can't believe I could win a tournament with my score after the scores we had here last year. A 284 is not a great score and 73 is not a great score."

It was good enough.

Hoyt, Coveleski Put In Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — The gates if baseball's Hall of Fame have swung open for the second time in two weeks . . . welcoming two old-time American League pitchers alongside two latter-day National League sluggers.

Waite Hoyt and Stanley Coveleski, contemporary right-handers in the 1920s, were elected to the Cooperstown, N.Y., shrine Sunday by unanimous vote of a 12-man veterans committee headed by former Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

Two weeks ago, Stan Musial and Roy Campanella topped the ballot in the Baseball Writers Association of America's regular yearly poll.

"It's the pinnacle of all I've dreamed and hoped for," said the 69-year-old Hoyt, a pitching ace for the New York Yankees in the Ruthian era, when told of his election in Clearwattr, Fla., where he's vacationing.

"We're going in with some good company in Musial and Campanella. I'm very happy about that."

Coveleski, 78, a Cleveland World Series hero in 1920 and one of the game's premier spitball artists, appeared to take the news in stride when contacted at his South Bend, Ind., home. "I should have been in that quite a long time ago," he said. "I figured I'd get in sooner ir later, and just kept hoping each year would be the one."

Hoyt compiled a 237-182 won-lost record in 20 major league seasons, 10 of them with the Yanks beginning in 1921. Coveleski, a four-time 20-game winner with the Indians, was 216-142 in a 13-year major league career that ended in 1928 with the Yankees.

The stocky Pennsylvania native had his finest moments in the 1920 Series against Brooklyn, hurling three complete game victories and yielding only two runs. The spitball was outlawed that year, but Coveleski and 16 other pitchers were permitted to continue throwing the wet ball.

Hoyt, Brooklyn-born, pitched in seven Series—six of them with the Yanks—and had a 6-4 record in the classics. He topped AL hurlers with a 22-7 mark and won his only Series start in 1927.

He retired in 1938, then signed on as a Cincinnati broadcaster in 1941 and did the Reds' play-by-play for 24 years. "The big adventure is over," he said when he left the Reds' broadcasting team in 1965.

But the big reward came Sunday for the former fireballer, who also is an accomplished oil painter. "I didn't anticipate anything like this and it comes as a heck of a surprise," he said. "It strikes me that a lot of other fellows haven't gotten there that are more deserving. But, at any rate, I'm very happy about it.

St. Aloysius, Glenmoor UP Win Games

Glenmoor UP and St. Al's continued unbeaten with wins in the Collegiate Division of the YMCA Church Basketball League Saturday night.

Glenmoor whipped Wellsville First Methodist 51-6 as Gary Cunningham scored 22. St. Al's trounced Boyce United Methodist 35-5 as Mark Connell netted 15.

Oakland Free Methodist took over third place with a 24-7 win over Longs Run UP, as Steve Lockhart had 19. The losers and Boyce had been tied with Oakland for third.

In other games, Chester Christian nipped First Church of Christ 14-12 as M. Glass had 7 for the winners and G. Osborn a like number for the losers; Calcutta UP dumped winless Chester Nazarene 17-8, as D. Thompson scored 8; and Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist thumped Emmanuel Presbyterian 22-11 with Scott McDevitt getting 7.

Bruins Unbeaten In 17

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Have the Boston Bruins forgotten how to lose?

Once experts at the fine art of taking it on the chin, the boisterous Bruins have stormed into a six-point lead in the National Hockey League's East Division with an unbeaten string of 17 games that is approaching record proportions.

The Bruins' latest victory was a 4-2 triumph over Detroit Sunday night. In other action, New York pounded Pittsburgh 7-3, St. Louis stung Toronto 5-3, Montreal bopped Chicago 6-4 and Minnesota shaded Philadelphia 3-2.

In Saturday's games, Montreal ripped New York 6-2, St. Louis blanked Detroit 2-0, Chicago and Minnesota battled to a 5-5 tie, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh tied 2-2 and Los Angeles outlasted Oakland 8-5.

The Bruins haven't lost since Christmas night and have dropped only one game in the last 24. Their 17-game unbeaten string is only six short of their own NHL record set in 1941.

Until they finished third last season in the NHL's East Division, the Bruins had a string of six cellar finishes in seven seasons. They've already won 30 games this season and still have 27 to play. Only once in the last 10 years have they won more than 30 in a full season and that was last year when they won 37.

Against Detroit Boston played without All-Star defenseman Bobby Orr for the first time this season. Orr reinjured his left knee late last week but is expected back in the line-up Wednesday at Chicago.

After a scoreless first period, Phil Esposito, John McKenzie and Ed Westfall gave the Bruins a 3-0 edge. Then Detroit struck back with Dean Prentice and Gordie Howe narrowing the gap to 3-2. Howe's goal was his 25th of the season.

Schenley's Gibson Nips N. Mexico St.

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The littlest Lobo wears No. 00 on his basketball shirt . . . and stands 10 feet tall in New Mexico today.

Petie Gibson, a 5-foot-8 sophomore, pumped in a 30-foot jump shot at the buzzer last Saturday at Albuquerque, giving the Lobos a 68-66 triumph over arch rival New Mexico State.

It was the pint-sized playmaker's only field goal in the game, but it completed a two-games-in-four-days sweep for New Mexico over the eighth-ranked, previously unbeaten Aggies. The Lobos won 86-66 Wednesday on State's Las Cruces court.

Top-ranked UCLA continued to roll up winning numbers, smashing Stanford 98-61 Saturday night after a 109-74 romp over California Friday night. The Bruins have won 32 in a row, including 16 this season, 36 straight in Pacific 8 Conference play and 80 in succession on their home court.

UCLA and third ranked Santa Clara, idle last weekend, are the only unbeaten major college powers.

No. 2 North Carolina boosted its season mark to 14-1 with a 107-87 conquest of Maryland, but fourth-ranked Davidson fell to Iowa 76-61 at Chicago.

No. 5 Kentucky beat Vanderbilt 103-89, No. 6 St. John's, N.Y., topped Temple 65-49, No. 7 Illinois trimmed Wisconsin 86-73 and No. 9 LaSalle clobbered New Orleans Loyola 102-65 in other Saturday action.

Gibson, smallest man ever to play for Chicago Bob King at New Mexico, swept the Lobos to their 13th victory in 19 games with a high-arching shot that dropped cleanly through the cords as the clock ran out.

"I've got a few bruises, too of my ribs where Coach King hit me as he jumped up saying, 'It's going in,' " said Lobos assistant coach Norm Ellenberg.

"I've got a few bruises, too," said Gibson, a grandson of former semipro baseball great Josh Gibson, who was half-carried, half-dragged from the court by New Mexico fans after the winning shot.

Lew Alcindor scored 27 points for UCLA against Stanford as the Bruins tightened their hold on the Pacific 8 lead. Bill Buntin's 30 points and 12 rebounds paced North Carolina's attack and Glenn Vidnovic hit for 22 to trigger Iowa's upset of Davidson.

Dan Issel and Mike Casey led Kentucky past Vanderbilt with 28 and 24 points, respectively, and Joe DePre's 16 kept St. John's rolling against Temple.

Soph Greg Jackson put in 21 of his 36 points in the second half, leading Illinois past Wisconsin, and LaSalle buried Loyola after running off 17 successive first half points for a 35-17 bulge.

Purdue grabbed the Big Ten Conference lead with a 4-0 mark by subduing Ohio State 95-85 in overtime. The Buckeyes and Iowa are 4-1, Illinois 3-2 in league play.

Tulsa reeled off its eighth straight victory in the Missouri Valley Conference, whipping Wichita State 94-69 for a 16-2 over-all mark.

Kansas handed Colorado its first Big Eight Conference loss, 80-70, and the Buffalos' troubles were compounded Sunday when 7-foot-2 Ron Smith was declared scholastically ineligible.

Littler Skies To 76

Nicklaus Wins Tourney Despite Round Of 73

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tom Weiskopf, a soldier stationed at Ft. Folk, La., may be wondering how Jack Nicklaus won the 1969 $150,000 Andy Williams San Diego Open Golf Tournament and required 284 strokes to do it.

Weiskopf, you see, won the tournament a year ago, before the U.S. Army borrowed him, and did it in 273 shots.

And Nicklaus walked away, headed today for the Bob Hope Classic at Palm Springs, with the $30,000 winner's loot in another rather unusual situation. Seldom in these days does a pro golfer overcome a deficit of two strokes, win by one—and do it with a final round one-over par 73. Jack did it.

Generally something like four-under in the last round is required.

As it turned out Nicklaus, the Big Bear from Columbus, Ohio, defeated San Diego's hometown hero, Gene Littler, in a two man duel Sunday.

Littler's artistic 67 over the par 72 Torrey Pines Golf Club Saturday sent him into Sunday's final round two strokes in front of Nicklaus.

But Torrey Pine's tough par-4 holes led to Littler's loss. His five bogeys were all on them.

He finished with 76 and the only birdie he got came on the final green. Nicklaus had finished—with a bogey six on the last hole—and Gene needed an eagle to tie. His birdie broke the possiblity of a three-way tie for second.

Young Dave Stockton and veteran Tommy Aaron had slipped in with 70s and 72-hole scores of 286.

Littler pocketed $17,100 and Stockton and Aaron each won $8,850.

"Scoring," Nicklaus conceded, "was pretty bad this week. I can't believe I could win a tournament with my score after the scores we had here last year. A 284 is not a great score and 73 is not a great score."

It was good enough.

Hoyt, Coveleski Put In Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — The gates if baseball's Hall of Fame have swung open for the second time in two weeks . . . welcoming two old-time American League pitchers alongside two latter-day National League sluggers.

Waite Hoyt and Stanley Coveleski, contemporary right-handers in the 1920s, were elected to the Cooperstown, N.Y., shrine Sunday by unanimous vote of a 12-man veterans committee headed by former Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

Two weeks ago, Stan Musial and Roy Campanella topped the ballot in the Baseball Writers Association of America's regular yearly poll.

"It's the pinnacle of all I've dreamed and hoped for," said the 69-year-old Hoyt, a pitching ace for the New York Yankees in the Ruthian era, when told of his election in Clearwattr, Fla., where he's vacationing.

"We're going in with some good company in Musial and Campanella. I'm very happy about that."

Coveleski, 78, a Cleveland World Series hero in 1920 and one of the game's premier spitball artists, appeared to take the news in stride when contacted at his South Bend, Ind., home. "I should have been in that quite a long time ago," he said. "I figured I'd get in sooner ir later, and just kept hoping each year would be the one."

Hoyt compiled a 237-182 won-lost record in 20 major league seasons, 10 of them with the Yanks beginning in 1921. Coveleski, a four-time 20-game winner with the Indians, was 216-142 in a 13-year major league career that ended in 1928 with the Yankees.

The stocky Pennsylvania native had his finest moments in the 1920 Series against Brooklyn, hurling three complete game victories and yielding only two runs. The spitball was outlawed that year, but Coveleski and 16 other pitchers were permitted to continue throwing the wet ball.

Hoyt, Brooklyn-born, pitched in seven Series—six of them with the Yanks—and had a 6-4 record in the classics. He topped AL hurlers with a 22-7 mark and won his only Series start in 1927.

He retired in 1938, then signed on as a Cincinnati broadcaster in 1941 and did the Reds' play-by-play for 24 years. "The big adventure is over," he said when he left the Reds' broadcasting team in 1965.

But the big reward came Sunday for the former fireballer, who also is an accomplished oil painter. "I didn't anticipate anything like this and it comes as a heck of a surprise," he said. "It strikes me that a lot of other fellows haven't gotten there that are more deserving. But, at any rate, I'm very happy about it.

Fosbury Flops Again

Warren's Davenport Sets Indoor Hurdle Record

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Olympic gold medal winners had their ups and downs over the weekend. Willie Davenport kept on winning while Bob Seagren and Ralph Doubell bounced back . . . Dick Fosbury, however, continued to flop.

Davenport, the 110-meter Olympic champion from Southern University, sprinted to his ninth straight hurdles victory, winning Friday night at New York's Millrose-Wanamaker Games and then breaking the world mark in the 45 yard high hurdles at the Boston A.A. Games Saturday night.

Seagren, the Olympic pole vault titlist, and holder of both the indoor and outdoor world records, failed to qualify in New York Friday night, missing three attempts at 16 feet.

However, the handsome Southern California student came back to capture his specialty Saturday in the Oklahoma City Invitational with a 17-foot effort.

Doubell, the Australian 800-meter winner in the Olympics, was stalled by transportation problems and didn't compete in New York. The Melbourne native had no such trouble reaching Portland, Ore., for the Oregon Invitational and romped to an easy victory in the 1,000-yard run in 2:11.1.

Fosbury has a different problem. Famed for his Fosbury Flop, in winning the Olympic high jump crown at Mexico City, the 21-year-old Oregon State student, has now lost all six of his indoor competitions since his 7-4¼ leap over the bar in Mexico. He hasn't been over seven feet, either.

Fosbury arrived in time for both the New York and Portland meets, but at the Millrose Games, Fosbury failed in three attempts to clear 6-10. Then Saturday at Portland, he again couldn't clear the 6-10 barrier.

Other outstanding performances over the weekend included:

George Young's 14th straight victory and sixth this season in the two-mile run. The 31-year-old Casa Grande, Ariz., schoolteacher took his specialty in 8:37.2., a Millrose record, which earned him the top performer award of the 62nd annual event.

Lee Evans, the 400-meter Olympic champion, took the 600-yard run in 1:11.7 and Villanova's Marty Liquori won the mile in 4:00.8. Bob Beamon, another gold medal winner and world record holder in the high jump, scratched after one attempt in his specialty before a packed house of 17,670 at Madison Square Garden.

Beamon went up to Boston, but didn't participate because of a pulled leg muscle. Davenport, however, took the spotlight with his 5.3 mark in the 45-yard highs. He broke his own record of 5.4.

Ronnie Jordan, the Florida University high jumper, continued to sparkle, winning in New York and Boston with identical leaps of 7-1.

Another indoor record was set in the Boston A.A., when 27-year-old George Brenn of Los Angeles cracked the 35-pound hammer throw mark with a toss of 73 feet 3½ inches. Harold Connolly held the old record of 72 2½.

Sam Bair kept his mile streak alive, copping his fifth in a row with a 4:04.3 clocking in Boston. The Kent State ace was looking to break the four-minute barrier, but tired in the last quarter. He won by 20 yards over Barry Brown, New York A.C.

Winners in the Portland Invitational included Chris Papanicalaou of San Jose State, with a 17-1½ meet record in the pole vault; Australia's Kerry O'Brien in the two-mile, 8:34.9; Olympian Charlie Green, the 60-yard dash in six seconds.

Lucy Wants The Great Outdoors

Lucy Wants the Great Outdoors

The edition of "Here's Lucy" that takes the air tonight may well be a barbinger of things to come. (It's on Channel 8 at 8:30 p.m.)

Cecil Smith

Strangly enough, it's the first show Lucille Ball ever has done on any of the variations on the "Lucy" series that was made completely on location.

Bits and pieces of various "Lucy" shows have been filmed away from Stage 12 on what is now the Paramont Gower lot, but invariably the bulk of the work was done on the stage, using the three-camera, continuous technique before an audience that Desi Arnaz created for "I Love Lucy" 18 years ago.

BUT NOW that Lucille has discovered the great outdoors, she wants more of it. She's currently talking of doing six, maybe eight of next season's 26 shows on location.

She'd like to do a show in her home town, Jamestown, N. Y., when she goes there to dedicate a theater named for her. She loves the snow and would like to do some shows in the mountains, perhaps at Lake Tahoe. She wants to do some shows in the desert near her Palm Springs home, some shows at the beach.

Most of all, she'd like to get away from Hollywood to do some shows in the small-town heartland of America—in New England, the Midwest, the South. She's a small-town girl.

ADMITTEDLY, for this first effort outside, the show didn't stray far from Stage 12—just down the freeway to Los Angeles International Airport. But this is one of the busiest airports on earth, where planes arrive and leave every minute, handling 57,000 passengers a day.

To shoot a comedy there, utiport from restaurants to runways, including a wild, wacky ride on a luggage belt, a mad melee involving tiny, underslung tractors, the towing of a United Air Lines DC8, all while the field was in full operation, involved perhaps 1,000 times the complications one would face on an ordinary location show.

It was the ultimate test.

PRODUCER Tommy Thompson still gets a little shaky when he thinks about it. He feels doubly responsible; he conceived the show and wrote the script.

"Would I," asked Tommy, "lend me an an $18 million DC8 to do a comedy sequence with? I would not! United did. The cooperation was really fantastic."

The idea for the show was born nearly two years ago when Tommy was having lunch at the all-glass International Restaurant atop a tower at the airport.

Outside the window two men floated up on a self-propelling platform dangling by ropes in space. They were window washers. As Tommy watched them, he visualized Lucy and Gale on that platform.

FROM THIS was born the script of Lucy's Great Airport show in which Lucy and Gale fled brigands through the vast facilities and equipment of the airport.

Into it were fitted young Lucie and Desi Arnaz IV and the chase was launched, much of it filmed in the dawning hours when the airport traffic is lightest.

"You can't believe the problems you have," said Tommy. "How do you turn off the Muzak? Well, it's handled by the assistant air conditioning engineer and he's on another job, nobody else knows how. Things like that."

-:-

THE RENEWED interest in fliming TV series on location was prompted by the extensive developments in portable equipment pioneered by Fouad Said, which made possible programs like "I Spy" and "Hawaii Five-O."

Lucille Ball used Fouad's equipment in England when she made her spceial with Anthony Newley, "Lucy in London."

Her production company is in the process of building a truck that will contain all the equipment necessary to shoot a major film in color.

And then Lucille frets about a new look for her show. Adding the kids, Desi and Lucie, to the cast was an effort to freshen the approach.

She'd like to do more musicals like last week's show with Carol Burnett and one waiting in the wings with Tennessee Ernie Ford.

Moving out to new sites and new arenas is still another extension. And the mad airport chase is the test to see how it works.

Two Are Held For Entering Newell Store

Two Newell residents are being held at the Brooke County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond each after they were apprehended by Hancock County deputies today at 2:05 a. m. following a breaking and entering at Herche's Drugstore on Washington St., Newell.

John R. Fortune, 22, and Jane E. Doggett, 22, both of Harrison St., appeared before Squire Eugene Allison, charged with breaking and entering. A small amount of barbituates found on the pair were identified by Harry Comm, operator of the pharmacy, as coming from the store.

A hearing has been set for Thursday before Squire Allison.

Freedom Theme At Installation Of Rainbow Girls

"Freedom" was the theme chosen by Miss Diana Pflugh when she was installed as worthy adviser of Midland Assembly 83, Rainbow Girls of America, at the First United Presbyterian Church in Midland Friday.

She was crowned by Miss Jeanne Borato, retiring worthy adviser.

Her colors were red and white. She was presented a gavel, a gift from her parents, by Miss Louise Finley, mother adviser. She received flowers from her sister, Denise Pflugh.

Miss Pflugh presented Miss Borato with a past worthy officer's jewel. She was given a Bible by Miss Finley and an officer's gift by Miss Gayle Utescher.

Miss Finley also was installed in the ceremones.

Installing officers were Jayne Essensberger, grand worthy associate adviser, marshal; Nancy Baysura, grand lecturer of district 2-A, chaplain; Sandy Schwartz, musician; Nadine Bomestar, recorder; Kerry Eshenbaugh, treasurer, and Mrs. Beryl Hogue, grand deputy of 2-A, officer.

Miss Patti Eichler was soloist. The local assembly was instituted in 1953 and chartered in 1954. Refreshments were served.

Hint Of Rough Winter Seen In Chain Sales

CHICAGO (AP) — Early tire chain sales in the Midwest may indicate there's a rough winter ahead.

Roy G. Oliver, chairman of the S. G. Taylor Chain Co., Hammond, Ind., said sales of chains to dealers and distributors are running ahead of normal.

He attributes the early interest in tire chains to the fact that motorists have experienced severe snow and ice conditions in various parts of the country the last couple of winters.

"So dealers now are apparently figuring old fashoned winters are on the way back and they want to be ready for another bonanza for tire chains," Oliver said.

Deer Damages Car

A 1957 convertible, operated by Jimmie Ann Palmer, 22, of Connellsville, Pa., received $250 damages when it struck a deer on Route 168, Greene Township, at 7:20 a. m. Saturday. Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said the driver was uninjured.

There were 1,041 countywide school systems in the nation in 1967.

The nation's working force includes about 40 per cent of the population. The remainder are too young to work, retired or handicapped.

Yale Educator Dies At Age 90

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Wallace Notestein, 90, one of Yale's most distinguished emeritus professors, died early Sunday, reportedly from a heart attack at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

Notestein, who retired as a professor of history at Yale in 1947, had remained active on campus during the last 20 years doing writing and historical research on 17th Century England, his speciality.

A member of the Yale faculty since 1928, Notestein was the author of 10 books. He was born in Wooster, Ohio in 1878, was graduated with a bachelor of arts from the College of Wooster in 1900 and received his master and Ph.D degrees from YALE.

Notestein was on the faculties at the University of Kansas, University of Minnesota, Cornell University and Oxford University, England.

Notestein is survived by his wife, the former Ada Louise Comstock, president of Radcliffe College from 1923 to 1943.

He also is survived by a brother, Frank Notestein, and two sisters, Lillian Notestein and Margaret Notestein, all of Wooster, Ohio.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

It is estimated that Americans spent $500 million for some 285 million neckties in 1968. Men have been putting-on some sort of neckware for the last 300 years. The fashion started in mid-17th century France when Parisian dandies began wearing scarves like those worn by Croatian soldiers. The scarf was called a cravat — a corruption of Croat.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I prevent dark clothes from streaking when I starch them?

A. — Try adding a little liquid coffee to your starch.

Q. — How can I deal with two drinking glases that have become tightly stuck one inside the other?

A. — Don't try to force them apart. Instead fill the inside glass with cold water (for contraction) and dip the outside glass in hot water (for expansion). The two glasses will then usually come apart without strain or breakage.

Q.—How can I deal with threaded pipe joints that have become frozen tight by heavy accumulations of rust?

A.—These can usually be loosened with normal wrench pressure if a few drops of household ammonia are first applied around the joint. Give the ammonia a few minutes to work and help it to penetrate by tapping lightly with a hammer to set up a slight vibration.

Q.—What is an efficient way of laying a paper pattern on fabric?

Q.—How can I remove the small brown spots from lemons?

A.—Place the lemons in cold water for about 15 minutes, then scrub with a vegetable brush. The specks will come off without harming the lemons.

Western Beaver Students 'Run' School For Day

Robert Longo, president of the Senior Class, took over the duties of Michael Arbutina, Principal Bradley Schmidt, president of the Senior High Student Council, took over for Carlisle McPherson, assistant principal; Nick Dereta, president of the Junior Class, for John Hineman as director of guidance, and Jeff Wentz, president of the Junior High Student Council, served as assistant guidance director in place of Ronald Young.

All other clerical and teaching positions were assumed by selected members of the student body. Sponsors for the program were Alfred Gallo and William Compston.

You And The Law

In Ohio, a driver arrested on a charge of drunken driving is subject to the Implied Consent Law. This law requires that the driver must take a chemical test to determine whether he is drunk and, if so, how drunk.

According to statistics, drinking drivers are involved in more than 60 per cent of all fatal accidents, one of the principal reasons this law was passed. The law also protects the innocent person, who may demand a test which would establish his sobriety.

A POLICEMAN must have reasonable grounds to believe a person is driving under the influence of alcohol when he makes an arrest for drunken driving. Reckless or careless driving as well as physical appearance are usually considered good grounds.

The driver charged with drunken driving must be advised by the policeman of the person's statutory rights, including the right to refuse to take the test and the penalties for such a refusal.

The person who refuses to take such a test can have his operator's license suspended for six months, although the suspension can be appealed through the court.

The hearing has nothing to do with whether the driver is guility or innocent of the drunken driving charge. The hearing is limited to whether the policeman had reasonable grounds to file the charge, that the person was advised of his rights and that he refused to take the test.

A PERSON arrested on a charge of drunken driving has the right to demand a test by a qualified person of his own choosing in addition to the police tests, provided the test is made within two hours from the time of arrest.

While refusal to take the test may result in a license suspension, conviction on a drunken driving charge can result in a 30-day mandatory suspension of the license, a fine of up to $500 and a jail term of from three days to six months, a six-month suspended sentence of reoccurence is noted or restrictions violated, financial responsibility proof for a three-year period, and six points against the person's driving record.

CATV of Ohio Valley proudly announces the addition of two new stations to the cable:

1. Channel 23 (Akron) carried on cable channel 5
2. Channel 53 (Pittsburgh) carried on cable channel 8

Changes must be made

With the addition of these two new channels it is necessary for us to make some technical changes. We must move channel positions in order to keep picture quality up to standard. Channel 9 (Steubenville) is now on channel 6. Channel 53 (Pittsburgh) is now on channel 8. Channel 33 (Youngstown) is now on channel 9. Channel 3 (Cleveland) is temporlarily off the air pending the arrival of new equipment. If you're not on the cable, you ought to try it. You need no UHF antenna or UHF tuner to receive the two new stations on the cable. All UHF channels are shown on the VHF portion of the dial. T.V. viewing is better than ever on cable T.V.

PRODUCER Tommy Thompson still gets a little shaky when he thinks about it. He feels doubly responsible; he conceived the show and wrote the script.

"Would I," asked Tommy, "lend me an an $18 million DC8 to do a comedy sequence with? I would not! United did. The cooperation was really fantastic."

The idea for the show was born nearly two years ago when Tommy was having lunch at the all-glass International Restaurant atop a tower at the airport.

Outside the window two men floated up on a self-propelling platform dangling by ropes in space. They were window washers. As Tommy watched them, he visualized Lucy and Gale on that platform.

FROM THIS was born the script of Lucy's Great Airport show in which Lucy and Gale fled brigands through the vast facilities and equipment of the airport.

Into it were fitted young Lucie and Desi Arnaz IV and the chase was launched, much of it filmed in the dawning hours when the airport traffic is lightest.

"You can't believe the problems you have," said Tommy. "How do you turn off the Muzak? Well, it's handled by the assistant air conditioning engineer and he's on another job, nobody else knows how. Things like that."

-:-

THE RENEWED interest in filming TV series on location was prompted by the extensive developments in portable equipment pioneered by Fouad Said, which made possible programs like "I Spy" and "Hawaii Five-O."

Lucille Ball used Fouad's equipment in England when she made her spceial with Anthony Newley, "Lucy in London."

Her production company is in the process of building a truck that will contain all the equipment necessary to shoot a major film in color.

And then Lucille frets about a new look for her show. Adding the kids, Desi and Lucie, to the cast was an effort to freshen the approach.

She'd like to do more musicals like last week's show with Carol Burnett and one waiting in the wings with Tennessee Ernie Ford.

Moving out to new sites and new arenas is still another extension. And the mad airport chase is the test to see how it works.

Two Are Held For Entering Newell Store

Two Newell residents are being held at the Brooke County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond each after they were apprehended by Hancock County deputies today at 2:05 a. m. following a breaking and entering at Herche's Drugstore on Washington St., Newell.

John R. Fortune, 22, and Jane E. Doggett, 22, both of Harrison St., appeared before Squire Eugene Allison, charged with breaking and entering. A small amount of barbituates found on the pair were identified by Harry Comm, operator of the pharmacy, as coming from the store.

A hearing has been set for Thursday before Squire Allison.

Freedom Theme At Installation Of Rainbow Girls

"Freedom" was the theme chosen by Miss Diana Pflugh when she was installed as worthy adviser of Midland Assembly 83, Rainbow Girls of America, at the First United Presbyterian Church in Midland Friday.

She was crowned by Miss Jeanne Borato, retiring worthy adviser.

Her colors were red and white. She was presented a gavel, a gift from her parents, by Miss Louise Finley, mother adviser. She received flowers from her sister, Denise Pflugh.

Miss Pflugh presented Miss Borato with a past worthy officer's jewel. She was given a Bible by Miss Finley and an officer's gift by Miss Gayle Utescher.

Miss Finley also was installed in the ceremones.

Installing officers were Jayne Essensberger, grand worthy associate adviser, marshal; Nancy Baysura, grand lecturer of district 2-A, chaplain; Sandy Schwartz, musician; Nadine Bomestar, recorder; Kerry Eshenbaugh, treasurer, and Mrs. Beryl Hogue, grand deputy of 2-A, officer.

Miss Patti Eichler was soloist. The local assembly was instituted in 1953 and chartered in 1954. Refreshments were served.

Hint Of Rough Winter Seen In Chain Sales

CHICAGO (AP) — Early tire chain sales in the Midwest may indicate there's a rough winter ahead.

Roy G. Oliver, chairman of the S. G. Taylor Chain Co., Hammond, Ind., said sales of chains to dealers and distributors are running ahead of normal.

He attributes the early interest in tire chains to the fact that motorists have experienced severe snow and ice conditions in various parts of the country the last couple of winters.

"So dealers now are apparently figuring old fashoned winters are on the way back and they want to be ready for another bonanza for tire chains," Oliver said.

Deer Damages Car

A 1957 convertible, operated by Jimmie Ann Palmer, 22, of Connellsville, Pa., received $250 damages when it struck a deer on Route 168, Greene Township, at 7:20 a. m. Saturday. Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said the driver was uninjured.

Yale Educator Dies At Age 90

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Wallace Notestein, 90, one of Yale's most distinguished emeritus professors, died early Sunday, reportedly from a heart attack at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

Notestein, who retired as a professor of history at Yale in 1947, had remained active on campus during the last 20 years doing writing and historical research on 17th Century England, his speciality.

A member of the Yale faculty since 1928, Notestein was the author of 10 books. He was born in Wooster, Ohio in 1878, was graduated with a bachelor of arts from the College of Wooster in 1900 and received his master and Ph.D degrees from YALE.

Notestein was on the faculties at the University of Kansas, University of Minnesota, Cornell University and Oxford University, England.

Notestein is survived by his wife, the former Ada Louise Comstock, president of Radcliffe College from 1923 to 1943.

He also is survived by a brother, Frank Notestein, and two sisters, Lillian Notestein and Margaret Notestein, all of Wooster, Ohio.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

It is estimated that Americans spent $500 million for some 285 million neckties in 1968. Men have been putting-on some sort of neckware for the last 300 years. The fashion started in mid-17th century France when Parisian dandies began wearing scarves like those worn by Croatian soldiers. The scarf was called a cravat — a corruption of Croat.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I prevent dark clothes from streaking when I starch them?

A. — Try adding a little liquid coffee to your starch.

Q. — How can I deal with two drinking glases that have become tightly stuck one inside the other?

A. — Don't try to force them apart. Instead fill the inside glass with cold water (for contraction) and dip the outside glass in hot water (for expansion). The two glasses will then usually come apart without strain or breakage.

Q.—How can I deal with threaded pipe joints that have become frozen tight by heavy accumulations of rust?

A.—These can usually be loosened with normal wrench pressure if a few drops of household ammonia are first applied around the joint. Give the ammonia a few minutes to work and help it to penetrate by tapping lightly with a hammer to set up a slight vibration.

Q.—What is an efficient way of laying a paper pattern on fabric?

A.—Try fastening the paper pattern to the material with cellophane tape, instead of pins. The pattern lies flatter, and you can cut right through the tape.

Q.—How can I remove the small brown spots from lemons?

A.—Place the lemons in cold water for about 15 minutes, then scrub with a vegetable brush. The specks will come off without harming the lemons.

Western Beaver Students 'Run' School For Day

The Western Beaver Junior High Student Council sponsored a schoolwide "Principal for a Day" program Friday, with students of the high school assuming administrative, guidance, clerical and classroom teaching positions for the day.

Robert Longo, president of the Senior Class, took over the duties of Michael Arbutina, Principal Bradley Schmidt, president of the Senior High Student Council, took over for Carlisle McPherson, assistant principal; Nick Dereta, president of the Junior Class, for John Hineman as director of guidance, and Jeff Wentz, president of the Junior High Student Council, served as assistant guidance director in place of Ronald Young.

All other clerical and teaching positions were assumed by selected members of the student body. Sponsors for the program were Alfred Gallo and William Compston.

You And The Law

In Ohio, a driver arrested on a charge of drunken driving is subject to the Implied Consent Law. This law requires that the driver must take a chemical test to determine whether he is drunk and, if so, how drunk.

According to statistics, drinking drivers are involved in more than 60 per cent of all fatal accidents, one of the principal reasons this law was passed. The law also protects the innocent person, who may demand a test which would establish his sobriety.

A POLICEMAN must have reasonable grounds to believe a person is driving under the influence of alcohol when he makes an arrest for drunken driving. Reckless or careless driving as well as physical appearance are usually considered good grounds.

The driver charged with drunken driving must be advised by the policeman of the person's statutory rights, including the right to refuse to take the test and the penalties for such a refusal.

The person who refuses to take such a test can have his operator's license suspended for six months, although the suspension can be appealed through the court.

The hearing has nothing to do with whether the driver is guility or innocent of the drunken driving charge. The hearing is limited to whether the policeman had reasonable grounds to file the charge, that the person was advised of his rights and that he refused to take the test.

A PERSON arrested on a charge of drunken driving has the right to demand a test by a qualified person of his own choosing in addition to the police tests, provided the test is made within two hours from the time of arrest.

While refusal to take the test may result in a license suspension, conviction on a drunken driving charge can result in a 30-day mandatory suspension of the license, a fine of up to $500 and a jail term of from three days to six months, a six-month suspended sentence of reoccurence is noted or restrictions violated, financial responsibility proof for a three-year period, and six points against the person's driving record.

Trustees Pay Bills, Hear Varied Reports

SUMMITVILLE — Bills totaling $1,417 were ordered paid when the Franklin Township trustees met Saturday afternoon at 2 in Township Hall.

CATV of Ohio Valley proudly announces the addition of two new stations to the cable:

1. Channel 23 (Akron) carried on cable channel 5
2. Channel 53 (Pittsburgh) carried on cable channel 8

Changes must be made

With the addition of these two new channels it is necessary for us to make some technical changes. We must move channel positions in order to keep picture quality up to standard. Channel 9 (Steubenville) is now on channel 6. Channel 53 (Pittsburgh) is now on channel 8. Channel 33 (Youngstown) is now on channel 9. Channel 3 (Cleveland) is temporarily off the air pending the arrival of new equipment. If you're not on the cable, you ought to try it. You need no UHF antenna or UHF tuner to receive the two new stations on the cable. All UHF channels are shown on the VHF portion of the dial. T.V. viewing is better than ever on cable T.V.

Record Backlog Of Cases Piled Up In U.S. Courts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report sent to the attorney general today showed that the backlog of civil and criminal cases pending in U.S. district courts at the end of the last fiscal stood at a record 97,245.

The report, prepared by the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, said the backlog rose 71 per cent from 1955 although the number of cases filed remained "relatively stable."

As part of his fight against the rising tide of crime in the country, President Nixon has called for more federal judges and prosecutors in order to dispose of the cases faster.

A companion report by the Judicial Conference of the United States also expressed concern about congested court calendars and suggested in addition to more judges:

—A careful and thorough analysis of the inventory of pending cases.

—Notification to defense lawyers of the need to complete trial preparations as promptly as possible.

—Stronger judicial control over requests for continuance.

The Administrative Office report indicated the backlog at the end of fiscal 1968 consisted of 14,763 criminal cases pending and 82,482 civil suits.

The median time in which a defendant may expect to get a jury trial, according to statistical data in the report, is 5.8 months. This varies from a high of 22.8 months in the Eastern District of New York to 1.4 months in the Western District of Kentucky.

Defense lawyers and U.S. attorneys generally consider 4 to 6 weeks as a maximum that a person should await jury trial.

The following figures show the median time defendants await jury trial in federal courts across the nation, with the median time it takes to process guilty pleas in parentheses:

First circuit, 7.8 months (3 months); Second circuit, 10.5 (3.11); third circuit 9 (5.3); fourth circuit 4.6 (1.0); fifth circuit 6.3 (1.8); sixth circuit 4.0 (2.8); seventh circuit 9.3 (3.5)); eighth circuit 5.5 (2.1); ninth circuit 4.6 (1.9); tenth circuit 3.4 (1.7) and the District of Columbia 10.1 (8.8).

The median for the 89 districts of the tenth district and the District of Columbia is a 5.8 month wait for jury trial, a wait of 4.6 months for trial without jury and a wait of 2.2 months to enter a guilty plea.

Providing additional headaches for court administrators and judges across the nation are the increasing numbers of civil cases. More than 10 per cent of these have been pending nearly three years.

A backlog of cases has grown too in the U.S. courts of appeal. Fifty-three per cent of appeals stem from criminal actions and applications for habeas corpus, the report said.

The ever-increasing work load of the appeals courts over the decade is illustrated by the 3,889 new appeals filed in 1960, compared with the 9,116 filed in 1968.

Committees In Assembly Slated To Air Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Several committees of the 108th Ohio General Assembly get down to business this week with hearings scheduled on a variety of proposals.

Chairman Ralph E. Fisher of the House Finance Committee has set two appropriations hearings for Tuesday. Officials of several state agencies, ranging from the treasurer's office to the state library association, are scheduled to testify.

Arguments also will be heard by House committees Tuesday on bills to:

— Change primary election dates from May to September.

—Change four legal holidays to Mondays.

—Permit Cleveland State University to acquire Cleveland Marshall Law School.

—Remove residency requirements for aid to disabled.

The Senate Judiciary Committee meets tonight after the legislature's opening session to take up several proposals, including one to allow restricted wiretapping.

On Tuesday the Senate Ways and Means Committee is to take up bills that would allow municipalities three years to notify tax delinquents, expand student loan programs, and allow county commissioners to issue bonds for hospital construction.

The Senate Elections, Commerce and Labor Committee Tuesday will hear six bills, including two that would lower the voting age.

Others would establish a third political party, revise statutes concerning write-in candidates in general elections, revise the law on filing petitions with election boards and increase the maximum compensation for precinct officials.

On Wednesday, in the House, hearings are scheduled by the committee on highways and transportation, agriculture and conservation to license racoon hunters, state government, and local government and urban affairs.

In the Senate Wednesday meetings are scheduled by the committees on urban and highway affairs, agriculture and state agencies, education, health and welfare, and the judiciary.

Hawaii Finally Halts Disinfecting Letters

HONOLULU (AP) — The practice of disinfecting letters to prevent the spread of disease finally has been halted in Hawaii.

The fumigation of letters — by a formaldehyde mist — has been discontinued at the Kalaupapa leprosy settlement on Molokai Island and at the Hale Mohalu Hansen's Disease Hospital near Honolulu.

A spokesman for the state health department noted it "is nearly impossible to stop a practice like that (letter disinfection) once it is started. Nobody wants to be responsible for change, no matter how outdated something may be."

The halting of the practice in Hawaii came decades after the discovery of the leprosy bacillus by a Norwegian scientist and by the subsequent discovery that Hansen's disease can be transmitted only by skin-to-skin contact.

She's Important Cog In City's Machinery

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP) — Frances Madler broke her leg, everyone received his water bill late and the city was out $800.

Miss Madler is the city billing clerk who makes out the water bills and when her leg was broken recently, there wasn't enough experiencied help available to replace her.

So the city council decided it had better buy a computer with a price tag of $800 plus 10 cents per month per account—just in case she's off the job again.

Record Backlog Of Cases Piled Up In U.S. Courts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report sent to the attorney general today showed that the backlog of civil and criminal cases pending in U.S. district courts at the end of the last fiscal stood at a record 97,245.

The report, prepared by the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, said the backlog rose 71 per cent from 1955 although the number of cases filed remained "relatively stable."

As part of his fight against the rising tide of crime in the country, President Nixon has called for more federal judges and prosecutors in order to dispose of the cases faster.

A companion report by the Judicial Conference of the United States also expressed concern about congested court calendars and suggested in addition to more judges:

—A careful and thorough analysis of the inventory of pending cases.

—Notification to defense lawyers of the need to complete trial preparations as promptly as possible.

—Stronger judicial control over requests for continuance.

The Administrative Office report indicated the backlog at the end of fiscal 1968 consisted of 14,763 criminal cases pending and 82,482 civil suits.

The median time in which a defendant may expect to get a jury trial, according to statistical data in the report, is 5.8 months. This varies from a high of 22.8 months in the Eastern District of New York to 1.4 months in the Western District of Kentucky.

Defense lawyers and U.S. attorneys generally consider 4 to 6 weeks as a maximum that a person should await jury trial.

The following figures show the median time defendants await jury trial in federal courts across the nation, with the median time it takes to process guilty pleas in parentheses:

First circuit, 7.8 months (3 months); Second circuit, 10.5 (3.11); third circuit 9 (5.3); fourth circuit 4.6 (1.0); fifth circuit 6.3 (1.8); sixth circuit 4.0 (2.8); seventh circuit 9.3 (3.5)); eighth circuit 5.5 (2.1); ninth circuit 4.6 (1.9); tenth circuit 3.4 (1.7) and the District of Columbia 10.1 (8.8).

The median for the 89 districts of the tenth district and the District of Columbia is a 5.8 month wait for jury trial, a wait of 4.6 months for trial without jury and a wait of 2.2 months to enter a guilty plea.

Providing additional headaches for court administrators and judges across the nation are the increasing numbers of civil cases. More than 10 per cent of these have been pending nearly three years.

A backlog of cases has grown too in the U.S. courts of appeal. Fifty-three per cent of appeals stem from criminal actions and applications for habeas corpus, the report said.

The ever-increasing work load of the appeals courts over the decade is illustrated by the 3,889 new appeals filed in 1960, compared with the 9,116 filed in 1968.

Committees In Assembly Slated To Air Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Several committees of the 108th Ohio General Assembly get down to business this week with hearings scheduled on a variety of proposals.

Chairman Ralph E. Fisher of the House Finance Committee has set two appropriations hearings for Tuesday. Officials of several state agencies, ranging from the treasurer's office to the state library association, are scheduled to testify.

Arguments also will be heard by House committees Tuesday on bills to:

— Change primary election dates from May to September.

—Change four legal holidays to Mondays.

—Permit Cleveland State University to acquire Cleveland Marshall Law School.

—Remove residency requirements for aid to disabled.

The Senate Judiciary Committee meets tonight after the legislature's opening session to take up several proposals, including one to allow restricted wiretapping.

On Tuesday the Senate Ways and Means Committee is to take up bills that would allow municipalities three years to notify tax delinquents, expand student loan programs, and allow county commissioners to issue bonds for hospital construction.

The Senate Elections, Commerce and Labor Committee Tuesday will hear six bills, including two that would lower the voting age.

Others would establish a third political party, revise statutes concerning write-in candidates in general elections, revise the law on filing petitions with election boards and increase the maximum compensation for precinct officials.

On Wednesday, in the House, hearings are scheduled by the committee on highways and transportation, agriculture and conservation to license racoon hunters, state government, and local government and urban affairs.

In the Senate Wednesday meetings are scheduled by the committees on urban and highway affairs, agriculture and state agencies, education, health and welfare, and the judiciary.

Hawaii Finally Halts Disinfecting Letters

HONOLULU (AP) — The practice of disinfecting letters to prevent the spread of disease finally has been halted in Hawaii.

The fumigation of letters — by a formaldehyde mist — has been discontinued at the Kalaupapa leprosy settlement on Molokai Island and at the Hale Mohalu Hansen's Disease Hospital near Honolulu.

A spokesman for the state health department noted it "is nearly impossible to stop a practice like that (letter disinfection) once it is started. Nobody wants to be responsible for change, no matter how outdated something may be."

The halting of the practice in Hawaii came decades after the discovery of the leprosy bacillus by a Norwegian scientist and by the subsequent discovery that Hansen's disease can be transmitted only by skin-to-skin contact.

She's Important Cog In City's Machinery

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP) — Frances Madler broke her leg, everyone received his water bill late and the city was out $800.

Miss Madler is the city billing clerk who makes out the water bills and when her leg was broken recently, there wasn't enough experiencied help available to replace her.

So the city council decided it had better buy a computer with a price tag of $800 plus 10 cents per month per account—just in case she's off the job again.

A Junior Editors Quiz About FROGS

QUESTION: Where do frogs go in winter?

ANSWER: Winter is a difficult season for animals. Leaves have fallen, insects gone underground and food is difficult to find. Many birds migrate southward and many animals find a cozy, protected spot and go into the long winter sleep called hibernation. We show several Northern animals and the various nooks and crannies they select for their long nap which will last until the first warm days of the spring. Frogs are among these hibernating animals. They are coldblooded, which means their body temperature is similar to that of their surroundings. Their winter bedrooms, if chilly, must at any rate be warm enough to keep them from freezing, since they have no blankets to pull up over their shoulders. So a frog digs himself deep into the moist mud, often under a pond. Here he goes into the hibernating stupor. His heart beats very slowly and he hardly seems to breathe. A very little air works its way down through the mud. Apparently this is enough for him, for on some fine spring day he will wriggle his way up to the surface again, all ready for breakfast.

(Donna Pfeiff of Stephenson, Mich., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Feb. 3, the 34th day of 1969. There are 331 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, the United States severed diplomatic relations with Germany after the Germans had announced a policy of unrestricted submarine warfare.

In 1809, the German composer, Felix Mendelssohn, was born.

In 1919, the Irish Republican leader, Eamon de Valera, escaped from an English prison.

In 1930, President Herbert Hoover appointed Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice of the United States.

In 1943, the British Royal Air Force pounded the German city of Hamburg in World War II.

In 1945, American soldiers smashed into Manila.

Ten years ago—The United States expressed doubt that the Soviets actually wanted a treaty banning nuclear tests. The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union were meeting in Geneva.

One year ago—South Korea complained that it was being left out of talks between the United States and North Korea about seizure of the ship Pueblo by North Korea.

Instant Automatic Color—perfected and first introduced by Magnavox in 1964—is the most important advancement in Color TV! Just turn your Magnavox on—it fine-tunes itself automatically, giving you a perfectly-tuned picture that is always precise—on every channel, every time!

Brilliant Color—brings you brighter, more vivid and far more natural color pictures than most other makes today. Come in today for a thrilling demonstration—and prove it to yourself!

Exclusive Chromatone—adds richer colors plus thrilling depth and beauty to color; as well as eye-pleasing warmth to black and white pictures.

Quick-On—lets Magnavox pictures flash-on four times faster; eliminates the annoying waiting period during "warm-up" in ordinary makes.

High Fidelity Sound—brings you the added pleasure of much greater program realism. Most Magnavox Color TV models have a Tone Control as well as multiple speaker systems.

Highest Reliability—as well as an entirely new standard of performance, even from distant or "difficult" stations—is assured by the full transformer-powered Magnavox Bonded Circuitry chassis with 3 I.F. Stages plus Automatic Picture and Sound Stabilizers (Keyed AGC).

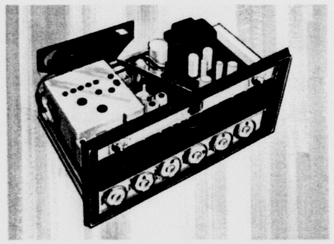
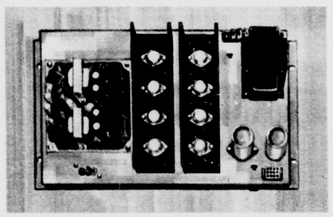
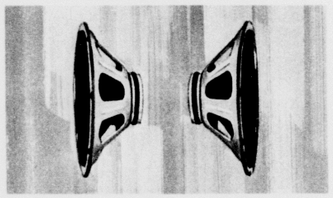
These Magnavox Solid-State ASTRO-SONIC components bring you unequalled performance... plus lasting reliability



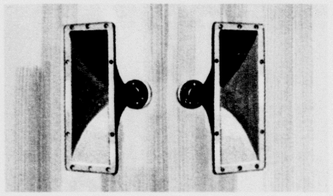
Advanced Solid-State Radio—with new Magnavox FMSS, Frequency Modulated Signal Sentry—enables you to "reach out" and receive more Stereo FM and Monaural FM/AM stations than ever before possible; with thrilling fidelity that will amaze you. It also sets an entirely new standard of performance . . . with lasting reliability!



100-Watts Music Power—provides a vast reservoir of undistorted power output—so essential to high fidelity. This should not be confused with today's meaningless claims of "peak power" which does not represent usable power. To reproduce true bass tones (40 cycles) requires a thousand times as much power as do mid-range tones, for your hearing is a thousand times more responsive at 3,000 cycles. For example, witness how a single trumpet (mid-range tones) pierces clearly through the combined efforts of 90 to 100 musicians in a symphony orchestra.



Two Super-Sonic 15" Bass Woofers—were developed to best utilize the tremendous power of the Astro-Sonic Amplifiers. With a combined magnet weight of 40 ounces, they are capable of reproducing distinctive low-frequency bass without distortion. Magnavox Bass Woofers give you true bass tone, instead of a "rumble" which merely obliterates the rest of the musical range—masking the definition of instruments—and, in general, detracting from the full beauty of the music you hear.



Two 1,000 cycle Exponential Treble Horns shown below—one for each stereo channel—not only have the equivalent acoustical efficiency of 20 cone-type speakers . . . they re-create even the most difficult percussion instrument tones with a degree of purity and clarity that is unattainable by any other means.

The exclusive Micromatic Record Player—exceeds all other players in accuracy and reliability. Jam-proof and fool-proof, it eliminates pitch distortions such as "rumble", "wow" and "flutter"! Turntable speed is accurate as an electric clock. The high-compliance pick-up tracks and traces perfectly at a mere 1/10th ounce touch—banishes discernible record and Diamond Stylus wear. Now—your most cherished records can last a lifetime!

Superb solid-state 4-Track Stereo Tape Recorder—included with numerous Astro-Sonic models, is also optionally available as model KO-885 drop-in unit for most Magnavox consoles. It not only matches the perfection of the other Astro-Sonic components, but also incorporates the most complete provisions for outstanding Stereo plus Monaural recording and playback through the magnificent Astro-Sonic audio system. As your franchised Magnavox dealer, we will be happy to give you complete details.

Magnavox Frequency Modulated Signal Sentry is the most significant advancement of all in FM Radio reception! Now—FMSS brings you: Vastly improved Stereo plus Monaural FM performance—without the necessity of external antennas. Far greater station selectivity—even in high-interference metropolitan areas. You'll receive more FM stations—than ever before possible; enjoy many more programs—even from "difficult" stations. FMSS guards against interference—by automatically rejecting both nearby stronger station signals . . . and adjacent channel noise. FMSS permits satisfactory reception of many more signals—especially in multi-station localities. FMSS is much easier to tune—because it removes the confusing secondary responses that are audible in other conventional FM tuning systems available today!

Magnavox Frequency Modulated Signal Sentry is the most significant advancement of all in FM Radio reception! Now—FMSS brings you: Vastly improved Stereo plus Monaural FM performance —without the necessity of external antennas. Far greater station selectivity—even in high-interference metropolitan areas. You'll receive more FM stations—than ever before possible; enjoy many more programs—even from "difficult" stations. FMSS guards against interference—by automatically rejecting both nearby stronger station signals . . . and adjacent channel noise. FMSS permits satisfactory reception of many more signals—especially in multi-station localities. FMSS is much easier to tune—because it removes the confusing secondary responses that are audible in other conventional FM tuning systems available today!

Also Save $100—on FMSS model 3914 in French Provincial styling (not shown), with all the extra-value features described on page 12, NOW—$550.
